Wife Suffers Six Wounds; Pocket Knife Is Weapon

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

A 27-year-old employee at Kress 5-and-10 cent store in the Eastgate Shopping Center was allegedly stabbed Friday afternoon by her estranged husband after she called police to say he was annoying her.

In critical condition last night at the St. Francis Hospital, suffering from shock and the effect of at least six pocket-knife wounds, was Fern Dell Brown, 27-A Louis Lock Apartments in Monroe.

HUSBAND JAILED

The couple is separated.

Police pieced toegther this story of the incident: Brown reportedly was bothering his wife so she walked to an office in the rear of the store to phone authorities, with him following. He stood by while she completed the call, then allegedly attacked her, inflicting numerous gashes about the head, neck and upper torso.

Store manager J. A. Mullis said he rushed from his office to find the man still stabbing and holding his wife screaming on the floor. Brown was thrown against a wall by Mullis and disarmed by Kress district manager W. C. Maiden.

Both said he made no effort to escape before police arrived a few minutes later, shortly after 3

Castro-Trained Guerrillas Lead Ecuador Revolt

QUITO, Ecuado (AP) — A youth organization trained in Castro-style revolution has launched an uprising against President Carlos Arosemena's regime in north-central Ecuador, the government said Friday.

The armed forces declared a state of emergency in the area — Santo Domingo de los Colorados — and rushed in reinforcements to combat the revolt.

Newspaper reports said at least one soldier has been killed and several persons were wounded.

BROKE RELATIONS

Authorities said the area has been in "an abnormal situation" since the government broke diplomatic relations with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban regime and with Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia four days ago.

Santo Domingo de los Colorados, 45 miles west of Quito, is in the jungle-clad Andean foothills.

The insurgents were described as members of the pro-Castro Revolutionary Union of Ecuadorian Youth. Part of the membership has received military and guerrilla training in Cuba, informants said.

Interior Minister Alfredo Albornoz declined to give any details of the fighting or to comment on unconfrimed reports of similar uprisings in the Quevedo area in west-central Ecuador.

Following the action, Castro in Cuba called Arosemena a drunken coward and predicted a fate for him worse than that of deposed Argentine President Arturo Frondizi, who has been imprisoned.

Judge Rules Industrialist Is Insolvent

BOSTON (AP)—A federal judge ruled Friday that industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 71, once noted for gift-giving to political figures, is insolvent.

Judge George C. Sweeney reappointed three lawyers—Charles W. Bartlett, Joseph F. Rooney, and Sumner H. Babcock, receivers for Goldfine and all his properties in Massachusetts.

TEXTILE MILLS

Two Goldfine textile mills in Lebanon, N.H., already are in the hands of a court-appointed receiver, and Goldfine's Northfield Mills, in Vermont, are operating under a federal court-named receiver.

In Lebanon, fewer than 60 members of a onetime work force of 300 are working until April 27 to finish goods in process.

The three Massachusetts receivers now are in charge of Goldfine's Strathmore Woolen Co., in Boston; the George Mabbett & Sons plant in Plymouth; Goldfine's half-interest in Bolton Associates, Boston, and 80 per cent interest in the Little building adjacent to Boston Common.

Sweeney had conducted hearings on the financier-industrialist's financial status under a U.S. Court of Appeals directive, after

Chiefs Okay Army Plans On Cutbacks

Guard, Reserve Leaders Endorse Step Reluctantly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chiefs of the National Guard and the Army Reserve dutifully endorsed Friday a Defense Department plan to eliminate eight of their divisions plus some 824 smaller units.

But, under searching senatorial questioning, Maj. Gen. Frederick M. Warren, chief of the Army Reserve, said he is not in favor of losing 25,000 men and four divisions and would be happy if he didn't have to take the cutback.

CAREFUL WORDS

And Maj. Gen. D. W. McGowan, chief of the National Guard Bureau, said the four divisions and the 33,000 men he would lose might come in mighty handy if the need arises for a post-nuclear strike recovery effort.

With carefully measured words, McGowan told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that "within the strength and budget guidelines, the Army has produced the best possible plan."

Warren said he was "sorry to see the divisions go—we regret it—we would like to see their retention" but the Army had determined they are in excess of requirements and "we accept it."

The two generals testified at a hearing at which Stephen Ailes,

U.N. Asked To Censure Israeli Act

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and Britain called on the U.N. Security Council Friday to find Israel guilty of flagrantly violating a long-standing council directive against resorting to military retaliation in Arab-Israeli disputes.

The two Western powers introduced a resolution in the 11-nation council that would also demand that the Israelis scrupulously refrain from such action in the future.

DEPLORES ACTION

"There can be no justification for retaliation," said U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost in introducing the resolution dealing with Israeli-Syrian border clashes last month.

Diplomatic sources said that the resolution had won the tentative acceptance of Syria, which has been pushing its own resolution seeking outright condemnation of Israel. France was reported to have reservations about some of the wording, but was not expected to veto the U.S.-British resolution.

The resolution deplores the hostile exchanges between Syria and Israel that started March 8, and urges both sides to refrain from the threat as well as the use of force.

But it also reaffirms a council resolution of Jan. 19, 1956, which condemned Israel for military action held a violation of the 1949 Israeli-Syrian general armistice agreement, "whether or not undertaken by the way of retaliation."

It would have the council label an Israel attack the night of March 16-17 on a Syrian post overlooking the Sea of Galilee a flagrant violation of the 1956 resolution.

The resolution endorses also the recommendations of Swedish Maj. Gen. Carl Carlsson von Horn for strengthening the U.N. truce supervisory organization machinery in the area. This would include the placing of a U.N. patrol boat on the Sea of Galilee.

City Vote Set Today For Posts

West Monroe voters go to the polls today in the city's first Democratic primary, from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m., to make choices for the coming four years in races for mayor, five aldermen and three Democratic Executive Committeemen.

More than 5300 registered West Monroyans are qualified in the balloting at nine city polling places to choose from among a field of 23 hopefuls appearing in the three races.

Incumbent Mayor J. Allan Norris faces opposition in his run for a third consecutive term in former mayor C. C. Bell Jr. and business accountant Richard U. Vallery.

Ten opponents, including two women, the first ever to run, have entered the field against current aldermen C. E. Ponder, R. C. Jollissaint, A. P. Burkett, Loy K. Heard and Ben Farmer. They are Mrs. Joyce T. Smith, Mrs. Pat Tubbs, Earl Duncan, A. L. DeLoach Jr., Norman Dodd, George Wylie, Charles Anding, G. B. Folds, J. C. Lolley and Fairell Ketchell.

A five-man run for three seats on the city Democratic executive committee finds incumbents Harold Hill, Charles Traylor and Gordy Roy opposing T. Jack Blackmon and H. Bruce Evans.

The climax of what has been called a quiet campaign in all three events comes tonight after 8 with the tabulation of returns in the office of the city clerk at city hall.

Rusk Says 7 Held In Cuba Are Innocent

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday night the seven North American frogmen in Cuba were innocent Caribbean treasure-hunters.

The Department of State is moving promptly to obtain their release, Rusk added, emphasizing he did not expect any difficulty.

The seven were on a sports voyage on the way to Jamaica to explore for treasure, Rusk said.

Wave Of Terror Sweeps Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The worst outbreak of terror since the March 19 cease-fire swept Algeria Friday. Authorities said more than 40 persons were slain.

In downtown Algiers, a European gunman walked through the streets shooting at Moslems for more than an hour, then escaped. He killed five persons and wounded several.

Almost all the killings were blamed on the European Secret Army Organization in its last-ditch campaign against Algerian independence.

MANY SLAIN

In Algiers, 22 or more persons, including six Europeans, were killed and in the Oran area terrorists killed 13 including two women

A secret army commando unit opened fire on a restaurant in the town of Relizane, 35 miles from Algiers, killing the European secretary of the municipality, M. Nicot, and wounding Moslem Mayor ben Hamouda.

M'hamed Hamida, subprefect—governor—of the Mostaganem region of western Algeria, was shot dead while parking his car near his home. Hamida was one of the Moslems being moved up through the ranks of the Algerian administrations so that experienced administrators would be available when Algerians begin running their own affairs.

A European couple were found dead on a farm near Oran. No details were available.

Four Moslems, including two youths aged 16 and 18, died under terrorist bullets in the Algiers European workers suburb of Bab el Oued.

128 Licensed Drivers Found Legally Blind

The survey was ordered by Gov. John Anderson after the Topeka State Journal published results of a partial check by a reporter.

L. A. Billings, State Motor Vehicle Department superintendent, said letters automatically cancelling the licenses of 103 of the 128 have been sent out with envelopes for the licenses to be returned to the state. The remaining 15 will be contacted personally because there is a question of identification.

Officials said some legally blind persons may seek to retain their licenses by taking vision tests. If they passed, their licenses would be reinstated.

But Billings said he would report to the governor the names of persons who are on the blind register but who pass the vision test. He said he does not think persons drawing aid to blind payments should be carrying driving licenses.

JFK Asks Self-Rule For Isles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed Friday that inhabitants of the U.S.-owned Virgin Islands be allowed to elect their own governor as part of an extension of self-government.

The President submitted to Congress legislation which would permit the islanders to elect a governor next November. A government secretary also would be elected

At present, the islands have territory status and the 30,000 inhabitants are governed by a presidentially appointed governor and a one-house legislature made up of 11 senators, elected for two-year terms. The governor holds quite wide veto powers over the legislature and general control is in the hands of the Department of the Interior.

Under Kennedy's proposal, the unicameral legislature would be retained but instead of having five members elected by districts and six at large, it would have seven elected by districts and four at large. In addition, a voter would be allowed to cast ballots for four at-large candidates, instead of for only two, as at present

The island group was purchased from Denmark in 1917 for $25 million. Made up of three major islands—St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix—and about 50 minor ones, the Virginis lie in the eastern Caribbean Sea and form a vital part of the defensive screen for the Panama Canal.

State Rain Closes 3 Highways

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Heavy rains are causing small rivers and streams to rise out of their banks north and east of here, and Highway Director Ray Burgess said Friday three roads have been closed.

The U. S. Weather Bureau here said the overnight rains brought up to 7.81 inches at Greensburg, about 30 miles northeast of here, causing the Amite River to rise.

State troopers said Plank Road, running northward from Baton Rouge, was barely passable at Clinton.

A number of bridges were reported washed out Thursday night in nearby West Feliciana Parish.

Burgess said two roads were closed in St. Helena Parish and one in Tangipahoa.

State Route 16 at Chappepeela Creek, 12 miles east of Amite was closed during the morning due to flooding conditions.

Also closed was State Route 37 at 12-mile Creek, about 3½ miles southeast of Greensburg, and at Lilley's Creek, about 11 miles southwest of Greensburg.

Bear Rockets Out Of B58 In Ejection Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A brown bear was rocketed out of a B5 bomber going 1,060 miles an hour Friday in a successful test of a new ejection capsule for bomber crews.

The 125-pound animal, variously dubbed "Big John" and "Smoky," parachuted 45,000 feet to earth safely in the capsule minutes later.

Chief Warrant Officer Edward J. Murray, 47, Dayton, Ohio, made a similar jump Feb. 28 at a lower speed—565 miles an hour—from 20,000 feet.

The tests are part of a series to perfect an enclosed ejection seat for crewmen who have to bail out of fast bombers.

An Air Force spokesman said bears are used in the tests because their spinal columns and internal organs closely resemble those of man.

Success of Friday's test means a man will attempt to duplicate it within the next few weeks.

GET PAY, TERMS CUT

Federal Prisoners Aid Vaccine Tests

A spokesman for the Public Health Service's National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases said Friday that 200 prisoners have been used in the tests. These are conducted at the clinical center here of the National Institutes of Health.

The prisoners have come from a dozen or so federal institutions. Some 15 to 25 are usually at the center at the same time.

It is a coming and going thing, with the number on hand often varying from day to day, the spokesman said.

The prisoners receive some pay for the volunteer work and also get a reduction in their sentences.

They are kept under security guard but the spokesman said guarding them is not regarded as a problem. They are kept apart from other patients.

The use of the prisoner-volunteers is part of an intensified program announced last February by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry to develop vaccines against respiratory infections grouped under the general term of common cold.

The prisoners are exposed to viruses. After exposure, studies through blood tests are made of the development of anti-bodies to be resist the viruses.

Use of such volunteers means the answers can be obtained months or years ahead of the time which would be required from observation in the general population, the spokesman said.

The aim is to develop a vaccine effective against several types and groups of viruses which cause respiratory disease.

Steel Leader Signs Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, signed a new contract with the United Steelworkers Union here Friday. The other ten major producers were expected to follow.

The U.S. Steel contract was signed by R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and a U.S. Steel vice president, and President David J. McDonald of the union. The contract, which basically runs for two years, will go into effect when the current one expires June 30.

McDonald said the contract was most historic. He said he is hopeful the contract will eliminate for all time basic steel strikes in America.

McDonald added he feels the new pact will open a new era of labor peace in the industry.

Sonic Booms Stir Wave Of Protests

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) —Scott Air Force Base officials recommended to the Air Force Friday that it curtail or call off supersonic flights that have raised a howl of human protests and driven animals to distraction or even death.

The air base, across the Mississippi in Illinois from St. Louis, issued a formal statement indicating the Strategic Air Command's B58 supersonic bombers were causing the uproar.

The statement, couched in the words of a third party caught in the middle, indicated base officials were worried about the effect sonic booms were having on Scott AFB's relations with surrounding communities.

Nearly 100 persons had filed complaints with Scott officials since Tuesday night about sonic booms that have increased in number and severity in recent days.

The shattering booms had both human residents and animals on edge.

The deaths of two rare antelopes at the St. Louis Zoo were attributed to the shock waves.

Lion, the one-dog canine corps of the Collinsville, Ill., police department, was so unnerved he had to be sent back to the kennel where he was trained.

Scott AFB pointed out in its statement that it "has no control over the activities of the Strategic Air Command's flying operations."

State Rain Closes 3 Highways

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Heavy rains are causing small rivers and streams to rise out of their banks north and east of here, and Highway Director Ray Burgess said Friday three roads have been closed.

The U. S. Weather Bureau here said the overnight rains brought up to 7.81 inches at Greensburg, about 30 miles northeast of here, causing the Amite River to rise.

State troopers said Plank Road, running northward from Baton Rouge, was barely passable at Clinton.

A number of bridges were reported washed out Thursday night in nearby West Feliciana Parish.

Burgess said two roads were closed in St. Helena Parish and one in Tangipahoa.

State Route 16 at Chappepeela Creek, 12 miles east of Amite was closed during the morning due to flooding conditions.

Also closed was State Route 37 at 12-mile Creek, about 3½ miles southeast of Greensburg, and at Lilley's Creek, about 11 miles southwest of Greensburg.

Bear Rockets Out Of B58 In Ejection Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A brown bear was rocketed out of a B5 bomber going 1,060 miles an hour Friday in a successful test of a new ejection capsule for bomber crews.

The 125-pound animal, variously dubbed "Big John" and "Smoky," parachuted 45,000 feet to earth safely in the capsule minutes later.

Chief Warrant Officer Edward J. Murray, 47, Dayton, Ohio, made a similar jump Feb. 28 at a lower speed—565 miles an hour—from 20,000 feet.

The tests are part of a series to perfect an enclosed ejection seat for crewmen who have to bail out of fast bombers.

An Air Force spokesman said bears are used in the tests because their spinal columns and internal organs closely resemble those of man.

Success of Friday's test means a man will attempt to duplicate it within the next few weeks.

Steel Leader Signs Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, signed a new contract with the United Steelworkers Union here Friday. The other ten major producers were expected to follow.

The U.S. Steel contract was signed by R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and a U.S. Steel vice president, and President David J. McDonald of the union. The contract, which basically runs for two years, will go into effect when the current one expires June 30.

McDonald said the contract was most historic. He said he is hopeful the contract will eliminate for all time basic steel strikes in America.

McDonald added he feels the new pact will open a new era of labor peace in the industry.

GET PAY, TERMS CUT

Federal Prisoners Aid Vaccine Tests

A spokesman for the Public Health Service's National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases said Friday that 200 prisoners have been used in the tests. These are conducted at the clinical center here of the National Institutes of Health.

The prisoners have come from a dozen or so federal institutions. Some 15 to 25 are usually at the center at the same time.

It is a coming and going thing, with the number on hand often varying from day to day, the spokesman said.

The prisoners receive some pay for the volunteer work and also get a reduction in their sentences.

They are kept under security guard but the spokesman said guarding them is not regarded as a problem. They are kept apart from other patients.

The use of the prisoner-volunteers is part of an intensified program announced last February by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry to develop vaccines against respiratory infections grouped under the general term of common cold.

The prisoners are exposed to viruses. After exposure, studies through blood tests are made of the development of anti-bodies to be resist the viruses.

Use of such volunteers means the answers can be obtained months or years ahead of the time which would be required from observation in the general population, the spokesman said.

The aim is to develop a vaccine effective against several types and groups of viruses which cause respiratory disease.

End Of Rains Is Seen Today

A slight drop in temperatures is expected tonight to follow the rain of the last several days which is forecast to end early this morning in the Twin City area.

Partly cloudy skies are expected for today with cool temperatures tonight.

The high forecast for today is 62 degrees and the low forecast for tonight is 42 degrees.

Skies showed cloudy Friday with the high recorded at 61 degrees and the low recorded at 52 degrees.

Senator Soaper Says

Some criticism of IQ tests is expressed. We have never been sure which is the greater handicap — being told early in life that you are stupid or that you aren't.

At least a husband's list of comforting explanations for loud noises in the night has been expanded. It used to be that all we could say was, "it's a backfire." Now we can also mention a sonic boom.

If all the Kennedys now in the political limelight take turns being president we won't have to remonogram the White House towels for at least another 20 years.

CAUSE ZOO DEATHS

Sonic Booms Stir Wave Of Protests

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) —Scott Air Force Base officials recommended to the Air Force Friday that it curtail or call off supersonic flights that have raised a howl of human protests and driven animals to distraction or even death.

The air base, across the Mississippi in Illinois from St. Louis, issued a formal statement indicating the Strategic Air Command's B58 supersonic bombers were causing the uproar.

The statement, couched in the words of a third party caught in the middle, indicated base officials were worried about the effect sonic booms were having on Scott AFB's relations with surrounding communities.

Nearly 100 persons had filed complaints with Scott officials since Tuesday night about sonic booms that have increased in number and severity in recent days.

The shattering booms had both human residents and animals on edge.

The deaths of two rare antelopes at the St. Louis Zoo were attributed to the shock waves.

Lion, the one-dog canine corps of the Collinsville, Ill., police department, was so unnerved he had to be sent back to the kennel where he was trained.

Scott AFB pointed out in its statement that it "has no control over the activities of the Strategic Air Command's flying operations."

NEW GUINEA DISPUTE

U.S. Offers New Settlement Plan

THE HAGUE (UPI)—The United States has offered Indonesia and the Netherlands new proposals for a settlement of their dispute over Dutch West New Guinea, it was disclosed Friday in The Hague and Jakarta.

Diplomatic sources here said the proposals have the backing of President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. They call for a gradual withdrawal of Dutch officials from the island and their replacement by Indonesians, with an international agency to guarantee self-determination for the Papuans.

Informed sources in Jakarta said Indonesian President Sukarno has accepted the proposals in principle. At the same time, the Indonesian news agency claimed new military successes for its guerrilla forces on and near West New Guinea.

But Hague sources predicted that the Dutch government would reject the proposals. They doubted whether the Dutch would consider them a fruitful basis for discussions with the Indonesians.

The proposals were understood to have been drafted by Ellsworth Bunker, former U.S. ambassador to India, who was third party to the secret Dutch-Indonesian talks near Washington last month.

The talks were broken off two weeks ago. They may be resumed April 13.

This is the essence of the proposals, according to diplomatic sources:

—Holland must express willingness to transfer sovereignty of New Guinea to an international agency which will administer it for two years.

—The international agency would guarantee Papuan self-determination even after Indonesians take over administration.

The Dutch government officially denied knowledge of the proposals and made no comment.

land to check on the seven frogmen and to arrange for their return to the United States.

Rusk came here to participate in the inaugural ceremonies for Dr. John A. Hunter Jr., as 14th president of Louisiana State University.

Rusk was a guest of honor later at a banquet and will be the principal speaker at Saturday's inauguration of Hunter.

Rusk and Hunter were students at Davidson College in North Carolina.

At the airport, Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and other state officials greeted Rusk. He was accompanied by deLesseps S. Morrison, former New Orleans mayor who was defeated by Davis for governor. Morrison is the U. S. ambassador to the Organization of American States.

Rusk went from the airport to a news conference.

The secretary of state said he believed the political crisis in Argentina was the result of many tensions and apparently no single group is making decisions about who should be president.

Rusk added he did not know how the Argentine situation would work itself out but he was watching it closely.

What happens in the Argentine, he said, will make a great difference in what happens to the western hemisphere.

Regarding the Alliance for Progress in Latin-America, Rusk said there had been a shift in the last several months in South American thinking. The people down there, he said, know the early bloom of Castro's revolution has given way to a dictatorship from outside.

The Alliance for Progress, he said, must be stepped up in in-economic and social development in South America.

He said he was encouraged at the moment that both the Soviet and U. S. governments have been approaching some of their problems with care and caution. Rusk made this statement when asked about U. S. ambassador Lewellyn Thompson's comment in Washington that recent news on the Berlin situation seems to be encouraging.

A newsman asked Rusk if there was a "no win" policy in the Kennedy administration as has been charged by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker. The secretary of state said he was confused over such a phrase because half of those who talk about it apparently want a hydrogen war while the other half apparently feel that the United States should give up and withdraw, abandoning such organizations as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Rusk said every effort was being made to protect the vital interests of the United States—with peace if possible.

On the question of apparent disagreements between Moscow and Peiping, Rusk said he tended to be a bit cautious about drawing any conclusions and added that such conflicts could change overnight.

He said there apparently were some serious points of differences but he would be cautious in saying how all this might benefit the United States.

Laurel Senator To Oppose Rep. Colmer In Race

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. E. K. Collins of Laurel, 50-year-old loyalist Democrat, tossed his hat in the congressional race Friday. He will oppose Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., supporter of unpledged electors, in the Fifth District June 5 primary.

Collins said he was a Democrat and "I shall run as a Democrat. I will not submit to the nefarious and unconstitutional schemes and practices of either the Democrats or Republicans. I shall take positive action in Congress on behalf of my district and state which has so much to gain at this crossroads of our history."

Collins said he would announce his staff for the campaign soon.

Collins, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and a veteran officer of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is a former prosecuting attorney and has practiced law at Laurel over 25 years.

He haid his decision to make the race "is a result of new and encouraging support received this week, and a careful and prayerful deliberation with my family, close personal friends and widespread concern which has prevailed in our district for some time."

He told Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., subcommittee chairman, that while the program will reduce the number of men on paid drill status by 58,000, it will provide the Reserve units with 4,000 vitally needed full - time technicians and some 80,000 additional summer camp trainees.

Of the 824 smaller units to be eliminated, about 500 are in the National Guard.

McGowan testified the loss will be felt in every state, but the department is still working on a state-by-state breakdown. He said California might lose 29, New York 30.

McGowan said if he had plenty of money, he would retain the units.

"Suppose we voted the money to keep the National Guard at 400,000 men, what would happen" Robertson pressed.

"I can't answer that question," McGowan replied.

"I didn't think you could," the senator said.

REBELS ATTACK TOWN

RANGOON, Burma (UPI) — Sixty Karen rebels attacked and heavily damaged the town of Whwogun near Paen, the capital of Karen State, reports reaching here said Friday. Police and army units beat off the rebels but not until the Karens had inflicted $200,000 damages on the town.

Repeal Of Tax Benefits For Track Favored

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jefferson Parish council officials Friday voted to support legislation in the May legislative session to remove tax benefits extended to Jefferson Downs racetrack last year.

The parish got no tax money from the track's operations last year under the revised 1961 legislation. It permitted Jefferson Downs to keep additional operational funds from the pari-mutuel receipts.

Parish Council President Cullen Schoest said the council favors returning the track to its prior tax base. Parish President M. Dan Hogan, who was at the meeting, supported the action.

C. Ray Edmonds, track president and general manager, said he would oppose changing the tax structure and solicit help from those who benefit to fight it.

undersecretary of the Army, said the realignment would give the Army the ability to achieve a limited, rapid expansion as well as to "mobilize all our strength for the long pull."

He told Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., subcommittee chairman, that while the program will reduce the number of men on paid drill status by 58,000, it will provide the Reserve units with 4,000 vitally needed full - time technicians and some 80,000 additional summer camp trainees.

Of the 824 smaller units to be eliminated, about 500 are in the National Guard.

McGowan testified the loss will be felt in every state, but the department is still working on a state-by-state breakdown. He said California might lose 29, New York 30.

McGowan said if he had plenty of money, he would retain the units.

"Suppose we voted the money to keep the National Guard at 400,000 men, what would happen" Robertson pressed.

"I can't answer that question," McGowan replied.

"I didn't think you could," the senator said.

REBELS ATTACK TOWN

RANGOON, Burma (UPI) — Sixty Karen rebels attacked and heavily damaged the town of Whwogun near Paen, the capital of Karen State, reports reaching here said Friday. Police and army units beat off the rebels but not until the Karens had inflicted $200,000 damages on the town.

Repeal Of Tax Benefits For Track Favored

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jefferson Parish council officials Friday voted to support legislation in the May legislative session to remove tax benefits extended to Jefferson Downs racetrack last year.

The parish got no tax money from the track's operations last year under the revised 1961 legislation. It permitted Jefferson Downs to keep additional operational funds from the pari-mutuel receipts.

Parish Council President Cullen Schoest said the council favors returning the track to its prior tax base. Parish President M. Dan Hogan, who was at the meeting, supported the action.

C. Ray Edmonds, track president and general manager, said he would oppose changing the tax structure and solicit help from those who benefit to fight it.

DeGenung Infant Services Slated

Funeral services for Pamela Jean DeGenung, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee DeGenung, West Monroe, who died Thursday in a local hospital following an illness of three days, was held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Seigle Assembly of God Church in West Monroe with the Rev. B. O. Smith, pastor, officiating.

Burial will follow in the Lapine Cemetery under the direction of Hixson Brothers' Funeral Home.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by paternal grandparentrs, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Minor, Monroe, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Price, West Monroe.

a previous receivership was in part vacated.

In renaming the receivers, the judge commented, "I am satisfied Goldfine will never voluntarily clear up the mess which he has created."

Goldfine, who has been convalescing from a mild stroke, was paroled recently after serving eight months' imprisonment for evasion of $780,000 in income taxes.

Sweeney said receivers are needed to protect the government's claim of $2,150,330 back taxes from 1952 through 1957. For the years from 1958 through 1960, the judge added, Goldfine owes at least $765,245.

p.m., and quoted him as saying he hoped the woman died.

Other women employees of the store, appeared visibly shaken, according to officers, and could add little to the story at the time.

Mrs. Brown's condition was not expected to permit an interview with police for some time, if she survived.

Her assailant, just released from parish jail March 27 on parole for non-support charges, was remembered by several officers as a former Monroe fireman. His present occupation or address was not immediately available.

The couple are parents of two children and police last night were making arrangements for their care.

She was still clinging to life shortly after 8 last night but was being held in the hospital's emergency room where she already had been given 12 pints of blood, attendants reported.

Gray Ladies Receive Caps

A new class of Volunteer Gray Ladies received their caps at a Capping Ceremony at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Red Cross Chapter office, 200 S. Grand St.

Bert Root, vice chairman of the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the American Red Cross, presented caps to:

Mrs. Ralph Troy, Mrs. T. L. Rhymes, Mrs. Jean Bonneau of Monroe, Mrs. C. L. Gilbert, Mrs. Don Hudson, Mrs. Claude K. Smith, Mrs. James Lofton, Mrs. C. H. Anderson and Mrs. C. J. Pate, all of West Monroe.

New Gray Ladies not present for the capping were Mrs. Mable Nash, Mrs. Julius Nelson, Mrs. T. J. Spatafora and Mrs. Wesley E. Hawkins Jr., all of Monroe.

G. L. Mahoney, 82, Succumbs

George L. Mahoney, 82, died in a local hospital Friday night after an illness of a few days.

Funeral services were incomplete last night but will be under direction of Mulhearn's Funeral Home of Monroe. Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Survivors include one son, George B. Mahoney, Monroe; one sister, Mrs. Bea O'Myra, Ottoway, Canada; one brother, Corbett Mahoney, also of Ottowa, and one grandchild.

Mr. Mahoney was retired from the auto wrecking business in Monroe.

N.O. Accidents Fatal For Two

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two persons were killed in New Orleans Friday in separate highway accidents.

James E. Denson, 38, of North Birmingham, Ala., was killed when his trailer truck smashed into the rear of a halted bus on Chef Menteur highway.

Robert Bienville, Negro, 61, New Orleans, died after he was hit by a vehicle backing up. Bienville was crossing a street.

Wright's Ruling Set

Most people in Louisiana don't like the ruling by Federal District Judge Skelly Wright holding that Orleans parish schools must desegregate through the sixth grade by next fall. Nevertheless, those who think the case out realize that Judge Wright's decision was fixed in advance and was predictable not only by the legal profession but by anyone who is familiar with the situation.

By saying the decision was "fixed," we do not mean that there was anything crooked or underhanded or scandalous about it. It was merely predetermined by decisions of the United States supreme court. In holding that the school placement law could not be used to avoid integration, Judge Wright had no choice. His court is bound by supreme court decisions.

This is one way in which the district courts and appellate courts are more predictable and reliable than the United States supreme court. They are bound by decisions of the higher courts, while the supreme court is not.

If the supreme court adhered as closely to law and precedent, as set by previous decisions, as do the lower courts we would have no integration today, because several supreme courts prior to the one now existing had held that there was no discrimination against Negroes if they had equal facilities even though segregation was maintained. The present supreme court has made no effort to establish itself as a court of law and precedent, although it expects the lower courts to do so. Instead, it bases its decisions on the individual ideologies of the members.

Judge Wright's ruling that Orleans Parish schools must desegregate through the sixth grade by next fall does not in any way affect constitutionality of Louisiana's School Placement Law. Judge Wright ruled that Orleans Parish was using the law illegally — unconstitutionally — but he specifically stated that "the constitutionality of the act is not attacked in these proceedings."

Unfortunately, a press association account of Judge Wright's ruling contained the phrase that in addition to ordering desegregation through the sixth grade he "also threw out the state's pupil placement law."

What Judge Wright "threw out" was simply the Orleans Parish School Board's application of the law.

School placement laws had their origin in North Carolina, where that state's law was upheld in 1957 by the Supreme Court through refusal to review a case brought under it by Negroes. Later, a Federal District Court, a Federal Circuit Court and the U.S. Supreme Court all specifically upheld the Alabama placement law in a ruling emphasizing that while the law was constitutional, any use of it to prevent desegregation would be unconstitutional.

Judge Wright — who now is moving up to the District of Columbia Court of Appeals — held that the Orleans Parish School Board had not complied with his order of May, 1960, for continuous desegregation of all first grades. At present, only 12 Negro students have been placed in six formerly white schools by the Orleans Board. The Wright ruling contended that the Orleans Parish Board actually was maintaining a dual segregated school system — one portion for whites and one portion for Negroes — with no genuine attempt to carry out the Court's desegregation orders. Thus the judge held, the Louisiana placement law could not be applied to the course followed by the School Board.

In his summary at the end of his decision, Judge Wright specifically points out that "children of Orleans Parish may be transferred from one school to another, provided such transfers are not based on considerations of race." That is simply paraphrase of the previous District, Circuit Court and Supreme Court rulings in the Alabama case.

In his footnotes to the ruling, Judge Wright stated:

Footnote 5. This testing program (in placement of students) was promulgated pursuant to the Louisiana Pupil Placement Act La. R.S. 17:101 et seq. The constitutionality of the Act is not attacked in these proceedings.

What the Wright case really emphasizes is the shakiness of any school placement law as a foundation for any attempt to maintain segregation after desegregation has been ordered by federal court. School placement is integration — it has to be for court approval. It can be slow integration, as in North Carolina and Virginia where desegregation is carried on steadily in many schools each year but with a comparatively small percentage of total students of the state or of an individual school involved thus far. But the integration steadily increases in volume of schools, grades and students.

The ruling does not in any way change the judicial picture as to desegregation. That picture has been for several years simply that the only judicial recourses known to be open to people seeking to retain segregation in any way rests in slow desegregation via placement, or in creation of private schools genuinely private in operation and genuinely free of any state control or influence.

It has been ruled in one federal case — in Virginia — that state funds (such as scholarship grants) may not go to private schools unless a public school system also is maintained in the district, with the public school system desegregated if so ordered by the courts. There has been no federal court ruling on the validity of state grants as such and they now are in massive use in Virginia and North Carolina, but with desegregation proceeding steadily if not rapidly in both states.

Cholesterol's Cycle

One of the advantages of a non-socialized medical system is that both it and the major drug firms carry on a constant search for new medical knowledge. They never reach such a routine system that they believe they have learned everything.

Wide-awake, alert private practitioners generally agree with scientists in saying that nothing is absolute and unchangeable, not even science. Nor do the physicians deny that they may sometimes be wrong.

Even the cholesterol controversy, with which so many have been concerned because of the prevalency of heart ailments, has its lighter side. The staid National Heart Institute's director, Dr. Ralph Knutti, has just compiled what may be the year's most scientifically significant satire, called "The March of Science, Headline Department," and purporting to trace the rise and fall of cholesterol as a national issue.

It says:

"Pre-1946: Cholesterol is a good guy.

"1950: Cholesterol is killing you.

"1954: Cholesterol is killing you but it has help.

"1958: Cholesterol, stress and lack of exercise are killing you.

"1962: Cholesterol isn't even helping other things kill you — much.

"1966: Cholesterol is a good guy."

Despite this satire from within the profession on the cycles of opinion, unregimented medicine has made tremendous strides in conquering ailments.

McCormack's Start Is Good

Massachusetts Attorney General Is Expected To Win Party Endorsement Over Edward Kennedy

All the signs point to Massachusetts Attorney General Edward McCormack's winning the state Democratic convention's endorsement for senator.

The convention takes place in Springfield, June 7-9, but already McCormack has a considerable lead over Edward Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President. The 1,763 delegates are now being elected at ward meetings.

Significantly, McCormack is capturing delegates in localities reputedly strong for young Kennedy.

Another telltale straw in the wind is the unannounced decision of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to back McCormack. He was informed of that by a group of BRT officials.

"We are heartily behind President Kennedy in Washington," said their spokesman, "but that doesn't mean we have to support the whole family. In this race, we're for you."

The state convention's endorsement will not necessarily ensure 39-year-old McCormack's gaining the senatorial nomination. It is not uncommon for aspirants to be approved by the convention, only to lose out in the ensuing primary — September 18.

But in this instance, the convention's backing will carry special weight and definitely be a boon to McCormack in the primary.

A hot primary clash is apparently in the cards as young Kennedy has avowed his intention to "go all the way" for the coveted prize regardless of what the convention does.

Both sides are busily girding for that. The race is certain to attract nationwide attention.

The fighting already is stormy.

BIG BROTHER IS WATCHING —A vivid illustration of that was the Pittsfield meeting in which Attorney General McCormack scored heavily in the election of convention delegates.

Although the President is meticulously staying out of the explosive fray, his young brother's partisans brought him squarely into this ward gathering in an effort to win votes.

F. Richard Drennan, running as a Kennedy delegate, warned that his rejection might prove painful to Massachusetts.

"It is very advisable to keep in mind," declared Drennan, "that President Kennedy has another two years in office, and we do not want to burn our bridges to the White House. It would be most embarrassing not to be in a position to seek favors from the Administration in Washington because of our turndown of the President's brother."

This line of campaigning was caustically berated by Peter Arlos, a McCormack partisan.

"I am astounded to hear such talk," he retorted. "It is the 'soup kitchen' approach to politics, in which hacks line up for a hand-out. Surely we are above that sort of thing in deciding a senatorial nominationn. The goal of the Democratic party is community betterment on the world, national, state and local levels, and that can be accomplished only by service to the people and not by patronage.

"I cannot believe that President Kennedy, beset with problems and issues of far-flung scope and tremendous complexities, would seek to vent petty vengeance on those who desire only to exercise their constitutional right to vote for the candidate of their choice. That would be wholly alien to him, and I refuse to be bluffed by empty talk."

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the candidate, and several of his sisters are slated to actively campaign for him. They are old hands at that, having vigorously electioneered for the President in his races for Congress and the White House.

POLITICALS — President Kennedy has agreed to address a $100-a-plate dinner in Milwaukee May 11. It will be the first $100 affair the Democrats have attempted there. It is being handled by State Chairman Patrick Lucey, who decided on it over the misgivings of other party leaders. Lucey's goal is an attendance of 2,000, but other Democratic chiefs doubt that more than 1,000 will be on hand—if that many. Lucey has promised to give National Chairman John Bailey half the money raised at the dinner, to help pay off the remainder of the 1960 campaign debt. . . . Former Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles has a new government job. He has accepted an offer from Defense Secretary McNamara to assist in revising the anti-Communist indoctrination program for U. S. troops. In preparation for this, Dulles has been visiting Army and Marine bases. Dulles agreed to undertake this work at the urging of President Kennedy.

Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon is being twitted by Democratic congressional leaders on his ineffectualness in winning Republican support for the President's tax bill. Dillon, life-long Republican and Undersecretary of State in the Eisenhower Administration, had expressed confidence he could line up some 20 House Republicans for the controversial measure. But on the showdown, only one Republican backed the bill. Speaker John McCormack smilingly told Dillon, "I sure hope you can do better for us when the President's trade liberalization measure comes up." With a grin Dillon replied, "So do I. I'll certainly do my utmost." . . . New York upstate Democratic leaders are boosting Howard J. Samuels, leading young manufacturer, as a candidate for governor. Already nine county chairmen have announced for him, and are organizing a committee to press his campaign. Samuels has indicated willingness to run against Governor Rockefeller, but says he is doing nothing to seek the nomination. World War II veteran, Samuels was on the staff of the late famed General Patton, who personally decorated Samuels for outstanding heroism in Third Army's epic drive across France.

It's Happening

Many A Physician Pulls On His Trousers Over His Pajamas

There's an urgent emergency call late at night. Anxious not to lose time, a doctor pulls on his trousers over his pajamas, throws on a coat and hurries out to his car.

A young doctor is waiting for his first patient after hanging out his new shingle. He hears the buzzer in his waiting room. Walks out with studied, professional poise only to find it's a friend come to wish him luck. Or, someone to sell him a set of books.

A businessman kept wiating a half-hour for his appointment, bustles in to the doctor's inner sanctum and glowers at him.

A patient with a chronic skin disorder says to his doctor: "You skin specialists may not kill your patients but you certainly worry them to death."

A hard-worked internist and surgeon are discussing the relative rigors of their jobs. But they come to the same conclusion: "The hardest working doctor is the pediatrician (baby specialist)."

A patient will be saying: "My doctor's different than he used to be when we first went to him 25 years ago. When he was a young doctor just starting out he'd give us all the time we needed." (The poor man hasn't had dinner with his family in a week.)

A doctor will be put on the board of directors of the local bank. His colleagues may envy him, but he will fall a notch or two in their estimate of medical stature.

A doctor will become chief-of-staff of his hospital and will soon wonder why some of his best friends begin to turn against him.

If the doctor's nurse is pretty, there will be whispers about an affair.

Fortunately, the time has returned when a physician can proudly say, "I'm a general practitioner."

A druggist will willingly come out around 2 or 3 o'clock some morning to open his pharmacy and bring some sorely needed medicine to the bedside where a doctor is trying to save a patient's life.

A doctor will be tapped on the shoulder by an usher at the movies. He'll say to his wife: "You stay here and see it to the end. Then you can tell me how it all comes out when you get home."

"Why do you want to grow up and be a doctor?" The cherub-faced little fellow looks up and in angelic innocence says: "So I can hurt people."

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Manage Your Menopause," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

Today is Saturday, April 7, the 97th day of the year with 268 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1927, an audience gathered in the auditorium of the Bell Telephone laboratories in New York to watch the first successful long-distance demonstration of television.

In 1932, Gov. Franklin Delano Roosevelt indicated he would use the theme of the so-called "forgotten man" if he won the Democratic nomination for president at the forthcoming convention.

In 1947, millions of Americans were without telephone service as telephone workers in 39 states called the nation's first countrywide strike in the industry.

In 1953, Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden was elected secretary-general of the United Nations for a five-year term.

A thought for the day: Norwegian author Henrik Ibsen said: "There can be no freedom or beauty about a home life that depends on borrowing and debt."

Egypt's Riddles

Rockets, Anti-Aircraft Aid From Russia Believed Received

CAIRO, Egypt — We had an air alert upon my arrival in this ancient city of strife—not entirely a warlike exercise just for practice, either. The best word among such objective observers as exist here is that a serious game of call-your-bluff is taking place between this country and Israel.

It is believed that the Egyptians have received from Russia some air-to-air rockets and some anti-aircraft weapons. In order to draw fire and find out for certain what President Nasser has wangled from Khrushchev, the Israeli have flown several provocative flights across the Suez Canal and at least one unreported flight over this capital city.

The Egyptians have not yet opened fire, but from their viewpoint they have reason to be worried. Persons inside the United Arab Republic tell me that the Israeli fighter planes (French-made) can outgun the Egyptian planes (Russian-made). Although both sides claim to be non-aggressive and defensive, neither of the blood enemies would dare fall into an obviously inferior position.

This is pistol poker on a lesser scale than the game which the USA and USSR are playing, with their nuclear tests and weapons. But it is the same game just the same, where neither side can afford to be caught with the smaller bang.

Meanwhile, there exists an exchange of perhaps six or so letters apiece between Presidents Kennedy and Nasser, another matter that has earned little coverage back home. But the all-knowing press fraternity of Cairo believes that Mr. Kennedy is offering everything-but-weapons to Nasser in return for some unknown quid quo pro. Chester Bowles, the Administration give-away man, has been here. So has George McGovern of Food For Peace. There followed a White House economist who asked for a detailed bill of particulars which the Egyptian government is still working out.

President Nasser's political position in the Middle East is delicate and peculiar. He has tried, and largely succeeded, in bringing off the revolution, which will be 10 years old this summer, with a minimum of bloodshed. This is unusual in Middle East revolutionaries. Nasser's biographer, Robert St. John, has some credible explanations. He says that Nasser was deeply affected by the loss of his mother when he was nine, and that he has always feared death both for others and for himself.

St. John adds that Nasser, who carries a forehead scar from British police brutality, is not so much against terror for humanitarian reasons as for pragmatic reasons. He knows that one assassination can mean ten in reprisals, or that ten can mean a hundred.

Nasser also hopes to prevent bloodshed because he feels that in national socialism he has found the touchstone of political organization in the Middle East. Nasser has not materially improved the lost of his countrymen's fast-breeding, fast-dying, life-of-misery existence — but he has carried out routine business, such as running the Suez Canal, better than anybody believed possible. And he may have found a negative, but habitable, shadowland between the warring powers of the Western World and Communism.

Since he equates the West with thousands of years of British, French and Roman imperialism under corrupt and submissive Egyptian monarchs and aristocrats, Nasser will never fully outlive his distrust of our side. But he tries for a fine distinction between the theory and practice of the Reds. He writes:

"Under no circumstances are we against Marxism. We are, however, opposed to taking instructions from foreign countries . . . the Egyptian Communist party received instructions from Sofia and it takes its instructions from Bulgaria. How can I trust such persons . . .?"

Fear of death and fear of tyranny are in their natural setting here. The pyramids, however impressive and romantic, are repulsive heaps, built with the blood and toil of thousands, as superstitious hedges against the death of kings, queens and royal progeny.

The mosques and citadels of Cairo have risen only because a terrible power to extract unwilling labor was misused by the irresponsible mighty upon the defenseless many. Nasser is now trying, with what effectiveness remains in question, to put all this land and water to the services of a long-suffering people.

After centuries of torment and privation, they deserve a break —but this visitor has seen nothing yet to predict that Nasser can provide it.

Will Soak Poor

Withholding From Dividends Would Hit Widows And Orphans

It appears that the Treasury has gone mad in its search for more pennies. The proposal to put a withholding tax on interest on savings and on dividends may look like a scheme to soak the rich, to get after the tax-dodger. In fact, it will be a hardship on the widow and orphans, on those who have inherited small amounts and have to live on interest and dividends.

The idea that the person will be able to get the money back at the end of the year is nonsense. What will she live on in the meantime? The rich can send their money to Switzerland or invest in European businesses. The widow and orphan, the child who is dependent upon this kind of money to go to college, they cannot go to taxhavens. They are stuck.

The only thing to do should this law be passed is to take the money out of savings banks and buy bonds or some such equity and hide it under the mattress. This could produce a financial panic but it would be of the Teasury's making. The idea of collect first and refund later will make the tax collectors even more hateful than they are now.

It is about time that the Congress restudied the entire question of taxes. Obviously the graduated income tax makes the rich richer and the poor poorer; it destroys incentive and initiative; it impoverishes the spirit of man; it is actually lowering the living standard of our people because a lower quality of goods is substituted.

True, the government needs money in our war against Soviet Russia, but there are better ways of finding the money than the graduated income tax which actually produces a flight of capital. While the poor are being impoverished by taxes and every year the Treasury seeks new ways of depriving Americans of their livelihood and while phony high wages, only part of which the worker gets, outprice our goods in world markets, no one bothers to find a more honest and more equable way of collecting revenue.

The most satisfactory tax, used in many countries, is the transaction tax, sometimes called by other names. This is a tax on every commercial transaction that actually takes place. It has the advantage of cutting out the take-first-and-refund-later device; it has nothing to do with deductions, with all the mish-mash about expense accounts. Just as we now pay taxes all the time, so under the transaction tax, we shall be paying taxes all the time but it will be on actual transactions, not on taking the cream off the top. And it would be possible to get rid of the borde of tax investigators who fall upon the American people like locusts.

Furthermore, it is morally wrong for the Treasury to employ stool-pigeons, informers, spies to go about seeking for information. These creatures, to get their percentage, pry into the private affairs of people, impersonate government agents, and it is reported, although I cannot prove it, some of them act as double agents, doing a little blackmail on the side.

The income tax on interest on savings banks accounts is particularly nasty and should be opposed actively. I, for one, will vote for no Senator or Representative who votes in favor of such an act, no matter which party he belongs to. I hope that all my readers will adopt the same attitude and will tell their Senators and Representatives so. This is something to be angry about because it strikes directly at those who do not have much money. If they want to soak the rich, why don't they go after the numbered accounts in Swiss banks? Why do we not tell Switzerland that unless they cooperate, we shall break off all relations with that country? Extreme?

Nothing is more extreme than the proposed withholding tax on interest and dividends. If those in charge of our financial affairs cannot think better than that, we must protect ourselves from them.

Our people have become so concerned with what goes on in the Congo and Togo and Vietnam that they have neglected their own house. It is time to look at what is going on at home. Watch the people who are trying to ruin our economy while they pursue the remaking of the world. Let us have a sharp look to home.

Wright's Ruling Set

Most people in Louisiana don't like the ruling by Federal District Judge Skelly Wright holding that Orleans parish schools must desegregate through the sixth grade by next fall. Nevertheless, those who think the case out realize that Judge Wright's decision was fixed in advance and was predictable not only by the legal profession but by anyone who is familiar with the situation.

By saying the decision was "fixed," we do not mean that there was anything crooked or underhanded or scandalous about it. It was merely predetermined by decisions of the United States supreme court. In holding that the school placement law could not be used to avoid integration, Judge Wright had no choice. His court is bound by supreme court decisions.

This is one way in which the district courts and appellate courts are more predictable and reliable than the United States supreme court. They are bound by decisions of the higher courts, while the supreme court is not.

If the supreme court adhered as closely to law and precedent, as set by previous decisions, as do the lower courts we would have no integration today, because several supreme courts prior to the one now existing had held that there was no discrimination against Negroes if they had equal facilities even though segregation was maintained. The present supreme court has made no effort to establish itself as a court of law and precedent, although it expects the lower courts to do so. Instead, it bases its decisions on the individual ideologies of the members.

Judge Wright's ruling that Orleans Parish schools must desegregate through the sixth grade by next fall does not in any way affect constitutionality of Louisiana's School Placement Law. Judge Wright ruled that Orleans Parish was using the law illegally — unconstitutionally — but he specifically stated that "the constitutionality of the act is not attacked in these proceedings."

Unfortunately, a press association account of Judge Wright's ruling contained the phrase that in addition to ordering desegregation through the sixth grade he "also threw out the state's pupil placement law."

What Judge Wright "threw out" was simply the Orleans Parish School Board's application of the law.

School placement laws had their origin in North Carolina, where that state's law was upheld in 1957 by the Supreme Court through refusal to review a case brought under it by Negroes. Later, a Federal District Court, a Federal Circuit Court and the U.S. Supreme Court all specifically upheld the Alabama placement law in a ruling emphasizing that while the law was constitutional, any use of it to prevent desegregation would be unconstitutional.

Judge Wright — who now is moving up to the District of Columbia Court of Appeals — held that the Orleans Parish School Board had not complied with his order of May, 1960, for continuous desegregation of all first grades. At present, only 12 Negro students have been placed in six formerly white schools by the Orleans Board. The Wright ruling contended that the Orleans Parish Board actually was maintaining a dual segregated school system — one portion for whites and one portion for Negroes — with no genuine attempt to carry out the Court's desegregation orders. Thus the judge held, the Louisiana placement law could not be applied to the course followed by the School Board.

In his summary at the end of his decision, Judge Wright specifically points out that "children of Orleans Parish may be transferred from one school to another, provided such transfers are not based on considerations of race." That is simply paraphrase of the previous District, Circuit Court and Supreme Court rulings in the Alabama case.

In his footnotes to the ruling, Judge Wright stated:

Footnote 5. This testing program (in placement of students) was promulgated pursuant to the Louisiana Pupil Placement Act La. R.S. 17:101 et seq. The constitutionality of the Act is not attacked in these proceedings.

What the Wright case really emphasizes is the shakiness of any school placement law as a foundation for any attempt to maintain segregation after desegregation has been ordered by federal court. School placement is integration — it has to be for court approval. It can be slow integration, as in North Carolina and Virginia where desegregation is carried on steadily in many schools each year but with a comparatively small percentage of total students of the state or of an individual school involved thus far. But the integration steadily increases in volume of schools, grades and students.

The ruling does not in any way change the judicial picture as to desegregation. That picture has been for several years simply that the only judicial recourses known to be open to people seeking to retain segregation in any way rests in slow desegregation via placement, or in creation of private schools genuinely private in operation and genuinely free of any state control or influence.

It has been ruled in one federal case — in Virginia — that state funds (such as scholarship grants) may not go to private schools unless a public school system also is maintained in the district, with the public school system desegregated if so ordered by the courts. There has been no federal court ruling on the validity of state grants as such and they now are in massive use in Virginia and North Carolina, but with desegregation proceeding steadily if not rapidly in both states.

Cholesterol's Cycle

One of the advantages of a non-socialized medical system is that both it and the major drug firms carry on a constant search for new medical knowledge. They never reach such a routine system that they believe they have learned everything.

Wide-awake, alert private practitioners generally agree with scientists in saying that nothing is absolute and unchangeable, not even science. Nor do the physicians deny that they may sometimes be wrong.

Even the cholesterol controversy, with which so many have been concerned because of the prevalency of heart ailments, has its lighter side. The staid National Heart Institute's director, Dr. Ralph Knutti, has just compiled what may be the year's most scientifically significant satire, called "The March of Science, Headline Department," and purporting to trace the rise and fall of cholesterol as a national issue.

It says:

"Pre-1946: Cholesterol is a good guy.

"1950: Cholesterol is killing you.

"1954: Cholesterol is killing you but it has help.

"1958: Cholesterol, stress and lack of exercise are killing you.

"1962: Cholesterol isn't even helping other things kill you — much.

"1966: Cholesterol is a good guy."

Despite this satire from within the profession on the cycles of opinion, unregimented medicine has made tremendous strides in conquering ailments.

McCormack's Start Is Good

Massachusetts Attorney General Is Expected To Win Party Endorsement Over Edward Kennedy

All the signs point to Massachusetts Attorney General Edward McCormack's winning the state Democratic convention's endorsement for senator.

The convention takes place in Springfield, June 7-9, but already McCormack has a considerable lead over Edward Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President. The 1,763 delegates are now being elected at ward meetings.

Significantly, McCormack is capturing delegates in localities reputedly strong for young Kennedy.

Another telltale straw in the wind is the unannounced decision of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to back McCormack. He was informed of that by a group of BRT officials.

"We are heartily behind President Kennedy in Washington," said their spokesman, "but that doesn't mean we have to support the whole family. In this race, we're for you."

The state convention's endorsement will not necessarily ensure 39-year-old McCormack's gaining the senatorial nomination. It is not uncommon for aspirants to be approved by the convention, only to lose out in the ensuing primary — September 18.

But in this instance, the convention's backing will carry special weight and definitely be a boon to McCormack in the primary.

A hot primary clash is apparently in the cards as young Kennedy has avowed his intention to "go all the way" for the coveted prize regardless of what the convention does.

Both sides are busily girding for that. The race is certain to attract nationwide attention.

The fighting already is stormy.

BIG BROTHER IS WATCHING —A vivid illustration of that was the Pittsfield meeting in which Attorney General McCormack scored heavily in the election of convention delegates.

Although the President is meticulously staying out of the explosive fray, his young brother's partisans brought him squarely into this ward gathering in an effort to win votes.

F. Richard Drennan, running as a Kennedy delegate, warned that his rejection might prove painful to Massachusetts.

"It is very advisable to keep in mind," declared Drennan, "that President Kennedy has another two years in office, and we do not want to burn our bridges to the White House. It would be most embarrassing not to be in a position to seek favors from the Administration in Washington because of our turndown of the President's brother."

This line of campaigning was caustically berated by Peter Arlos, a McCormack partisan.

"I am astounded to hear such talk," he retorted. "It is the 'soup kitchen' approach to politics, in which hacks line up for a handout. Surely we are above that sort of thing in deciding a senatorial nominations. The goal of the Democratic party is community betterment on the world, national, state and local levels, and this can be accomplished only by service to the people and not by patronage.

"I cannot believe that President Kennedy, beset with problems and issues of far-flung scope and tremendous complexities, would seek to vent petty vengeance on those who desire only to exercise their constitutional right to vote for the candidate of their choice. That would be wholly alien to him, and I refuse to be bluffed by empty talk."

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the candidate, and several of his sisters are slated to actively campaign for him. They are old hands at that, having vigorously electioneered for the President in his races for Congress and the White House.

POLITICALS — President Kennedy has agreed to address a $100-a-plate dinner in Milwaukee May 11. It will be the first $100 affair the Democrats have attempted there. It is being handled by State Chairman Patrick Lucey, who decided on it over the misgivings of other party leaders. Lucey's goal is an attendance of 2,000, but other Democratic chiefs doubt that more than 1,000 will be on hand—if that many. Lucey has promised to give National Chairman John Bailey half the money from the dinner, to help pay off the remainder of the 1960 campaign debt. . . . Former Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles has a new government job. He has accepted an offer from Defense Secretary McNamara to assist in revising the anti-Communist indoctrination program for U. S. troops. In preparation for this, Dulles has been visiting Army and Marine bases. Dulles agreed to undertake this work at the urging of President Kennedy. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon is being twitted by Democratic congressional leaders on his ineffectualness in winning Republican support for the President's tax bill. Dillon, life-long Republican and Undersecretary of State in the Eisenhower Administration, had expressed confidence he could line up some 20 House Republicans for the controversial measure. But on the showdown, only one Republican backed the bill. Speaker John McCormack smilingly told Dillon, "I sure hope you can do better for us when the President's trade liberalization measure comes up." With a grin Dillon replied, "So do I. I'll certainly do my utmost." . . . New York upstate Democratic leaders are boosting Howard J. Samuels, leading young manufacturer, as a candidate for governor. Already nine county chairmen have announced for him, and are organizing a committee to press his campaign. Samuels has indicated willingness to run against Governor Rockefeller, but says he is doing nothing to seek the nomination. World War II veteran, Samuels was on the staff of the late famed General Patton, who personally decorated Samuels for outstanding heroism in Third Army's epic drive across France.

It's Happening

Many A Physician Pulls On His Trousers Over His Pajamas

There's an urgent emergency call late at night. Anxious not to lose time, a doctor pulls on his trousers over his pajamas, throws on a coat and hurries out to his car.

A young doctor is waiting for his first patient after hanging out his new shingle. He hears the buzzer in his waiting room. Walks out with studied, professional poise only to find it's a friend come to wish him luck. Or, someone to sell him a set of books.

A businessman kept waiting a half-hour for his appointment, bustles in to the doctor's inner sanctum and glowers at him.

A patient with a chronic skin disorder says to his doctor: "You doctors may not kill your patients but you certainly worry them to death."

A hard-worked internist and surgeon are discussing the relative rigors of their jobs. But they come to the same conclusion: "The hardest working doctor is the pediatrician (baby specialist)."

A patient will be saying: "My doctor's different than he used to be when we first went to him 25 years ago. When he was a young doctor just starting out he'd give us all the time we needed." (The poor man hasn't had dinner with his family in a week.)

A doctor will be put on the board of directors of the local bank. His colleagues may envy him, but he will fall a notch or two in their estimate of medical stature.

A doctor will become chief-of-staff of his hospital and will soon wonder why some of his best friends begin to turn against him.

If the doctor's nurse is pretty, there will be whispers about an affair.

Fortunately, the time has returned when a physician can proudly say, "I'm a general practitioner."

A druggist will willingly come out around 2 or 3 o'clock some morning to open his pharmacy and bring some sorely needed medicine to the bedside where a doctor is trying to save a patient's life.

A doctor will be tapped on the shoulder by an usher at the movies. He'll say to his wife: "You stay here and see it to the end. Then you can tell me how it all comes out when you get home."

"Why do you want to grow up and be a doctor?" The cherubfaced little fellow looks up and in angelic innocence says: "So I can hurt people."

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Manage Your Menopause," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

SUNDAY PROGRAM

Two Recreation Centers To Open

Dedication ceremonies are slated Sunday to officially open two new Monroe recreation centers — the Westminster Street center and the Henrietta Windham Johnson Center for Negroes.

F. G. Clark, president of Southern University at Baton Rouge, will be featured speaker at the Johnson center ceremonies at 2 p.m.

City Councilmen W. L. Howard, mayor, W. D. H. Rodriguez, street commissioner, H. W. McSherry, commissioner of finance and utilities, Recreation Director Jack Hesketh and members of the Recreation Board will participate in the ceremonies.

The Westminster center dedication will be at 3 p.m.

Hesketh invited the public to attend the openings, noting, "The public is free to use the buildings at all times, adults as well a children. Various clubs in the city are welcome to use the buildings during the day for meetings, lectures and so forth."

Both have baseball, softball and tennis facilities, plus equipment for indoor sports.

Two other centers, at the Southside City Park, and the Renwick Street Center for Negroes, each complete with swimming pool, are slated or dedication by summer.

H. H. Land is architect for the the two completed centers, constructed by W. C. Salley.

Cost of construction is $482,502, from a $1,675,000 bond issue.

John Tannehill, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Major, will direct the Westminister center, while Robert Carter, a Negro, assisted by Sarah Coleman, will direct the Johnson center. Hours for both buildings are: Monday Thursday, 1 to 9 p.m.; Friday, 1 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 1 to 10:30 p.m.

Driving Charge Nets Negro Fine In Court Action

A 43 - year - old Monroe Negro drew a fine of $425 or seven months in jail Friday in Monroe city court for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. Three other cases of the same offense were nolle prossed.

Drawing the fine before Judge W. M. Harper was Clarence Butler, 2019 Thomas St., while the charges were nolle prossed against Negro Jessie Goins, 24, of 3003 Jackson St., and 29-year-old J. C. Wilson, Fort Worth, Tex., and Willie Brennan, about 34, of Crossett, Ark.

A 17 - year - old Negro, Felix Little, 3511 Pippin St., drew a 60 days compulsory sentence for theft, as Henry Wilson, also a Negro, 55, forfeited bond of $100 on the charge. Wilson, whose address was listed as the 1400 block of Adams Street, forfeited a $25 bond for public drunkenness, as well.

Conviction on a concealed weapons charge resulted in the sentencing of Negro Tom Bradford to $35 or 35 days, as well as $25 or 25 days for public drunkenness. Bradford, about 52, lives on Miller Street in Monroe.

Also nolle prossed Friday were simple battery and public drunkenness charge against Negro Oliver Kimble, age unknown, of Pine Street in Monroe.

Five persons forfeited bonds in traffic court for running stop signs, as did two for running stop signs, as did two for running red lights, two for reckless driving and one for speeding.

Second Lawsuit Filed In Mishap

The parents of Bobby Lynn Hendrix, 19-year-old Northeast State football player killed in a car wreck last April, filed a $120,847.75 damage lawsuit Friday with the Ouachita Parish clerk of court.

Earlier this week, the father of Sandra Gail Vigg, coed who was riding in the death car, filed a $113,899.77 lawsuit for her injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Louis Hendrix are suing Maryland Casualty Co., Nelson D. Abell, owner of Ouachita Fertilizer and Grain Co., and his employee, Lawrence Holmes Jr., 716 Powell Ave.

ALL BUT THE COW

Almost Too Much For Single Purse

"But she can't find her keys" go the words to a current song about a popular young lady who carried "everything" in her purse ... and hunts through it all to avoid giving her date a good-night kiss.

Just how accurate is that song?

Well, a spot interview with a 19-year-old Northeast Louisiana State College coed Friday turned up a long list of what she carries in her purse.

Like the teenager in the song, this coed will remain unidentified ... but here's why she can't find her keys. She carries:

Pencil sharpener, sun glasses, hair brush, two combs, box of 16 crayolas, check book, three tubes of lipstick, compact of powder, bottle of finger nail polish, fountain pen, three ball-point pens, five empty ink cartridges, two pencils, one ink eraser, one large can of hair spray, two pair of tweezers, roll-on mascara, bobby pins, gum, mints, paper clips, fingernail file, one day's history class notes, gum wrappers, $1.49 in scattered loose change, Christmas club savings book, church envelope, five bank deposit slips, class absence approval card, three paycheck stubs, parking ticket receipt, two lay-away receipts, billfold.

"You don't want me to get out what all's in my billfold, do you," she asked, then added innocently, "Now you see why girls have to have such large purses to carry this around."

Oh yes — she also carries a keyring, with seven keys on it.

Court Grants Injunction In Registrar Case

HOUSTON (AP) — The 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals granted a temporary injunction Friday to stop racial discrimination by a Mississippi voter registrar.

The court said the injunction will remain in force either until a permanent injunction is issued by a federal court in Mississippi or should the injunction plea be turned down, until an appeal is finished.

The exact contents of the order will not be known until early next week when it is drawn up and signed by the judges.

In a technical point, the New Orleans court—meeting in Houston—said because federal judge Harold Cox of Mississippi refused to take action either way on a request for a temporary injunction, he did the same as refuse to grant the injunction.

This means, the court said, his action can be appealed.

'Liz Taylor, Burton May Go To Paris

ROME (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor probably will accompany Welsh actor Richard Burton on a quick trip to Paris this weekend, informed sources said Friday.

The trip would give Burton time for a visit to London to see his distraught wife—and perhaps a three-way meeting in Paris for "clarification" of the situation. No information was available on this possibility.

It would be the pair's first trip out of the country together since Miss Taylor's lawyer announced in New York she and singer-husband Eddie Fisher will seek a divorce.

The owner of a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel, Joe Wells, said Miss Taylor will get the divorce there. Wells said he was asked to prepare a suite for the actress at his hotel where she will stay to fulfill the state's six-week residency requirements. "Negotiations between Rome and New York" were discussed Thursday night about having the action filed in Las Vegas, he said. Fisher and Miss Taylor were married in Las Vegas on May 12, 1959.

Burton, who plays Antony to Miss Taylor's Cleopatra in the film being made here, has a small part in another film being made in France.

Studio sources said both Burton and Miss Taylor are scheduled to work Saturday on the "Cleopatra" set to make up for some of the time lost in filming the movie.

It appeared possible Burton could take off for Paris at any time after that. Informed sources said Miss Taylor had made clear she would "not let him go alone." Paris reports said Burton was due at noon Saturday.

Italian newsstands were inundated with this week's editions of Italian picture magazines claiming to have the "inside" story on Miss Taylor's private life. Several said a third man was involved.

Reports from Munich said the separation of Fisher and Miss Taylor had endangered the future of the 14-month-old German baby the couple adopted late last year. Sources said the court of Chancery has not approved finally the adoption and probably will not do so now because of the Fisher-Taylor breakup.

School Bible Reading Upheld

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Maryland's Court of Appeals, in a 4-3 decision, ruled Friday that religious exercises in Baltimore schools do not violate the federal Constitution.

The case involved a board regulation calling for a daily opening exercise of Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer. Any child may be excused from the exercise on the written request of his parent or guardian.

N.O. INTEGRATION

Catholic Group To Back Bishop

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A Catholic laymen's group gave its backing Friday night to an order by an archbishop calling for racial integration of 153 parochial schools in southwest Louisiana.

The group, Catholic Laymen Supporting School Integration (CLASSI,) issued a blunt statement saying that segregationists who might picket parochial buildings could expect "positive counter-picketing in even greater numbers."

Action of Classi came as a surprise, and followed by a few hours the action of a Catholic mother who made public a letter from the archbishop, Joseph Francis Rummel, threatening her with excommunication.

The letter was made public by Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr., 42, who believes the Bible teaches segregation.

CLASSI called for "thousands upon thousands" of fellow Catholics to sign a "manifesto of loyalty" for Rummel. The group said "we will combat if necessary any picketing of our parochial residences, offices and schools by positive counter-picketing in even greater numbers."

"We will gather for the recitation of the rosary in areas where antagonistic Catholic groups gather," the statement said.

The group denounced "a group of so-called 'Catholics' " who made a public pro-segregation stand in defiance of Rummel's order. It was an apparent reference to Save Our Nation Inc., headed by Mrs. Gaillot.

Mrs. Gaillot said the letter from Rummel to her charged that she "threatened and incited others to take reprisals" against his order to desegregate the 153 Catholic schools next fall.

Grains Section Of Farm Bill Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee Friday handed the administration a major victory in its fight for tough new surplus - cutting farm controls by approving the feed grain section of President Kennedy's omnibus farm bill.

The section was approved with no major changes on a 17 to 9 vote.

The committee Thursday voted 22-13 in favor of another section of the omnibus bill, adopting with few changes the administration's new wheat control plan. It is simimlar to the feed grain section.

Both votes are subject to possible reconsideration later when the committee puts the entire bill into a single package.

The feed grain section, if it becomes law, would force farmers to choose in a referendum between accepting rigid acreage control — with penalties for violators — or abolition of federal price supports for feed grains. These grains are corn, grain sorghums, oats, and barley. They have never before been subject to this degree of control.

STORE SALES GAIN

CHICAGO (UPI) — Department store sales ran 6 per cent ahead of a year ago in its district during the week ended March 31 despite the fact that Easter fell on April 2 in 1961. The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said Friday.

The Bank said an adjustment for the April 22nd Easter this year would place the gain at more than 10 per cent.

Shreveport Girl Chosen As Miss Louisiana Tech

First runner-up in the contest was Miss Lynn Anderson, Los Angeles, Calif., journalism major, who performed a modern jazz caolypso dance.

Selected as Miss Congenialty by her fellow contestants was Miss Anne Miller of Alexandria who is a lower elementary education major.

N.O. INTEGRATION

Catholic Group To Back Bishop

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A Catholic laymen's group gave its backing Friday night to an order by an archbishop calling for racial integration of 153 parochial schools in southwest Louisiana.

The group, Catholic Laymen Supporting School Integration (CLASSI,) issued a blunt statement saying that segregationists who might picket parochial buildings could expect "positive counter-picketing in even greater numbers."

Action of Classi came as a surprise, and followed by a few hours the action of a Catholic mother who made public a letter from the archbishop, Joseph Francis Rummel, threatening her with excommunication.

The letter was made public by Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr., 42, who believes the Bible teaches segregation.

CLASSI called for "thousands upon thousands" of fellow Catholics to sign a "manifesto of loyalty" for Rummel. The group said "we will combat if necessary any picketing of our parochial residences, offices and schools by positive counter-picketing in even greater numbers."

"We will gather for the recitation of the rosary in areas where antagonistic Catholic groups gather," the statement said.

The group denounced "a group of so-called 'Catholics' " who made a public pro-segregation stand in defiance of Rummel's order. It was an apparent reference to Save Our Nation Inc., headed by Mrs. Gaillot.

Mrs. Gaillot said the letter from Rummel to her charged that she "threatened and incited others to take reprisals" against his order to desegregate the 153 Catholic schools next fall.

Grains Section Of Farm Bill Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee Friday handed the administration a major victory in its fight for tough new surplus - cutting farm controls by approving the feed grain section of President Kennedy's omnibus farm bill.

The section was approved with no major changes on a 17 to 9 vote.

The committee Thursday voted 22-13 in favor of another section of the omnibus bill, adopting with few changes the administration's new wheat control plan. It is simimlar to the feed grain section.

Both votes are subject to possible reconsideration later when the committee puts the entire bill into a single package.

The feed grain section, if it becomes law, would force farmers to choose in a referendum between accepting rigid acreage control — with penalties for violators — or abolition of federal price supports for feed grains. These grains are corn, grain sorghums, oats, and barley. They have never before been subject to this degree of control.

STORE SALES GAIN

CHICAGO (UPI) — Department store sales ran 6 per cent ahead of a year ago in its district during the week ended March 31 despite the fact that Easter fell on April 2 in 1961, The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said Friday.

The Bank said an adjustment for the April 22nd Easter this year would place the gain at more than 10 per cent.

Shreveport Girl Chosen As Miss Louisiana Tech

First runner-up in the contest was Miss Lynn Anderson, Los Angeles, Calif., journalism major, who performed a modern jazz caolypso dance.

Selected as Miss Congenialty by her fellow contestants was Miss Anne Miller of Alexandria who is a lower elementary education major.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

LITTLE LEAGUE TENSIONS

Many children between 8 and 12 years of age have been organized into Little League baseball teams. They have the backing of the community, the sponsors are given publicity, tournaments are conducted, and "all stars" are selected at the end of the season.

Baseball is a wonderful exercise and recreation, preferable to mischief making and delinquency. But these youngsters are subjected to considerable anxiety, frustration, and pressure, especially when winning is emphasized. Many physicians wonder if the pre-adolescent is ready for it.

Growing lads are gregarious and want to belong to the group. The smaller and under-developed must overexert to keep up with their more precocious team mates. A mature boy of 12 usually can outperform an immature boy of 14. Coordination also enters the picture.

The harm, if any, will stem from the pressure created by competition. This is less bothersome when the athletic program is geared to bring pleasure and is directed by those who understand the needs and feelings of Little Leaguers.

The important question is whether the child is mature enough to hold his own in the proposed sport. The players should not be treated as miniature adults, with no concern for their safety and welfare. Most boys can take the tension of competition but oth become frustrated and upset when they cannot deliver the goods.

Many of our most successful and well adjusted men grew up in an era when boys were not coddled but were made to accept responsibility and tension. The stress associated with failure to hit in the pinches and not making the all star team may not be the burden parents have been led to believe. The boy may bounce back stronger than ever.

TIRED MOTHER

Mrs. A. B. writes: I'm 25 years old and feel like 80. I'm tired and nervous all the time and often fear I'm going to have a heart attack. I have seven children and people tell me I have them too fast. Can you advise me?

REPLY

Seven children by age 25 could account for your fatigue and distress. This is a common complaint among busy housewives who have more than they can handle. Your husband can help by being sympathetic and sharing some of your duties. Better organization of the work and time schedule will go a long way toward conserving your strength and lessening your nervousness.

A FORM OF INSANITY

W. V. writes: What is the treatment for hebephrenia?

REPLY

Psychiatric care, usually in a mental hospital. This includes the use of medicines, shock, and psychotherapy. Hebephrenia is a form of insanity marked by melancholia, seclusiveness, meaningless laughing, silliness, and hallucinations.

LUNG INFECTION

S. M. writes: What is the meaning of active lung pathology?

REPLY

An active infection exists in contrast to a healed lesion in the lung. A tuberculous lesion, for example, is active when it teems with germs and the individual's sputum test is positive.

EXERCISE BRINGS PAIN

A. S. writes: If a person gets pains in the back or stomach on doing strenuous exercises, is this a sign of poor health?

REPLY

Not necessarily. Persons who are not physically fit and who exert themselves only occasionally are likely to encounter sore muscles when they overexercise.

Today's Health Hint—Actively support schools in their safety programs.

This Was The CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The second week of April 1862 was a black one for the Confederacy.

Nearly every day that week Richmond received the bad news of another defeat or a new Federal threat.

The battle of Shiloh (Pittsburg Landing) was fought and lost to the South the first two days of the week, Sunday and Monday, April 6 and 7.

Burial squads still worked in the scattered woods around Shiloh Meeting House when Federal Maj. Gen. John Pope forced the surrender of Island No. 10, Mississippi River bastion, on April 8.

Three days later, Fort Pulaski, masonry battlement guarding Savannah, Ga., at the mouth of the river of the same name, hoisted a white flag after two days of bombardment from Federal batteries mounted on nearby islands.

The same day Maj. Gen. Ormsby Mitchel occupied Huntsville, Alabama, the farthest point south reached by the Federals to date. Huntsville was important because it lay on a rail line which ran from Chattanooga, Tenn., west to Memphis. This was the line Gen. P. G. T. Beauregard, trying at Corinth, Miss., to piece together his army which had been defeated at Shiloh, depended on for supplies and reinforcements from the east.

Gloom was thick in the Confederacy.

Mary Boykin Chesnut, diary-writing wife of a Confederate colonel, heard about the Shiloh battle and the death of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, the fall of Pulaski and Island No. 10 about the same time and despaired.

"Pulaski has fallen," she wrote. "What more is there to fall?"

Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan by this week had massed more than 100,000 Union troops around Fortress Monroe in Tidewater Virginia and obviously was about to strike up the peninsula between the York and James Rivers toward Richmond. Gen. Joseph E. Johnston could call on only about 57,000 Confederate troops to oppose him and most of them still were marching toward the scene.

On the Navy front, an old sea dog — David G. Farragut — was probing the passes of the Mississippi River Delta with his hastily put together fleet with the definite view of capturing New Orleans, largest city in the Confederacy.

That was what his orders said and Farragut, now in his sixties, wrote to his wife, a Norfolk, Va., girl:

"I now have obtained what I have been looking for all my life—a flag (independent command) — and having obtained it, all that is necessary to complete the scene is victory."

The Confederates knew about Farragut's expedition but dismissed it lightly. Hadn't Fort St. Philip at Plaquemine Bend, 90 miles below the city, stopped the British fleet in the War of 1812? Now Fort Jackson also stood across the river.

And in addition to the forts, the Confederates had two big ironclads — the Louisiana and the Mississippi — on the ways, the most formidable fighting ships of their time. Neither was completed, but when they were, the Confederates thought, the seaward approach to the Crescent City would be safe.

But Farragut had a plan and before the month was out he would have the victory he wanted so much "to complete the scene."

Pope's victory at Island No. 10 cleared the Mississippi River down to the Tennessee line.

Lying at a strategic point on a bend in the river at the Kentucky-Tennessee line, batteries of Island No. 10 could fire either up or down the river. It was isolated when Pope forced the Confederates out of New Madrid, Mo., on the west bank of the river, on March 13.

Federal gunboats ran past the Island batteries in a thunderstorm and reduced the Confederate works below New Madrid.

Pope then moved troops across to the east side of the river and cut off the Island from the south. It surrendered on April 8. With it Pope captured 3 generals, 273 officers, 6,700 men, 123 pieces of heavy artillery, 35 field guns, 7,000 small arms, tents for 12,000 men, horses, mules and provisions?

The North immediately hailed Pope as a hero. Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois telegraphed President Lincoln, asking his fellow Illinoisan to make Pope a major coin telegraphed back:
general in the regular army. Lin-

"I fully appreciate General Pope's achievements, with their invaluable results, but you must know that major generalships in the Regular Army are not as plenty as blackberries."

But Pope's victory did impress Lincoln for, later in the summer the President called him east to head the new Army of Virginia. There Pope lost his western laurels.

The reduction of Fort Pulaski at Savannah was long drawn out in the making but rapid in its execution.

In December 1861, Federal troops had occupied Tybee Island opposite Cockspur Island where Fort Pulaski stood.

Between then and April 10 they erected 11 batteries of heavy guns around the fort on islands that were mostly mud marshes. Often the soldiers pulled the guns by hand on planks over the mud, working at night.

The first shot against the fort was fired at 8:15 a.m. April 10 after a formal request for its surrender had been refused.

Union gunners threw shells at the fort all day on the 10th, damaging the walls and disabling some of its guns. The firing was renewed at sunrise on the 11th and by 2 p.m. the Confederates raised a white flag. All told the Federals fired 5,275 shots.

Col. Charles H. Olmstead, commander of the fort, surrendered 385 men to Maj. Gen. David Hunter. Casualties consisted of one Confederate and one Union soldier.

Savannah, 15 miles up the river from the fort, braced for an invasion but the Federals were content with their victory for the time.

Capture of Fort Pulaski cut off blockade running into and out of Savannah and freed Federal ships for other expeditions.

General Mitchel's division of about 9,000 men had been left in central Tennessee when Maj. Gen. Don Carlos Buell marched from Nashville to Pittsburg Landing. He had orders to break the rail line if possible.

He made a forced march and entered Huntsville without his advance being noticed by the Confederates. He reported capturing 200 prisoners, 15 locomotives and many cars. His cavalry cut the railroad east and west of Huntsville.

Mitchel now was in a good position to move either east toward Chattanooga or west to threaten Corinth from th eeast as the Federals, reinforced after Shiloh, moved from the north.

Mitchel may have had in mind a plan to seize Chattanooga while the Confederates were busy at Corinth but if so the plan never materialized.

A grandson of Benjamin Franklin, Maj. Hartmann Bache, first suggested the use of balloons for U.S. Military forces on reconnaisance.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

FISHING BOAT MISSING

TAIPEI (UPI) — Twenty fishing boats with at least 141 fishermen aboard were reported missing off Formosa Friday after a storm hit the area Monday with 100 mile an hour winds.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Doctor Explains Test For Alcohol

Six persons were fined Friday for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, after five entered guilty pleas and the sixth was tried and found guilty in Fourth District Court. Fine for each was set at $300 and costs by Judge Mack E. Barham.

Entering pleas and fined were George A. Jones, Monroe; Donald D. Martin, North Little Rock, Ark., Vance E. Wingfield, Winnsboro; Taylor E. Brooks, Minden and Melton Carey Reeves, also of Monroe.

Tried and convicted was Lee Eugene Pettit, Ingleside Drive, Monroe.

Arraigned and pleading not guilty were Leroy Limon Dickens, DeRidder, set for June 8; Earnest C. Gunger, Route 4, West Monroe, and Otis Head, 509 Smith St., West Monroe, both set for trial of June 29.

During the trial of Pettit, in which four witnesses for both the state and defense took the stand, the court was told of details of the tests in which the amount of intoxicationg was determined through use of the blood test.

BLOOD TEST

Dr. N. Klam, pathologist, and Dean McBride, chief medical technologist for Dr. Klam, explained to the court the effectiveness of the tests through the blood alcohol process.

After testifying that Pettit's count was 0.25, McBride said this was weight by volume and was considered a standard "of intoxication." He further told the court that this test determines the amount of alcohol absorbed in the intestinal tract. The amount of absorption, the expert witness told the court, is determined to a degree by the amount of other materials in the stomach and intestines. Thus, if the person tested had eaten at or about the same time that he had a drink, the rate of absorption of alcohol might be slower. As the alcohol is absorbed by the blood and taken to the tissues of the body, other processes in the body are throwing out this alcohol.

Taking the stand for the state, Dr. Klam said the standards for intoxiation are set by the American Medical Association and the National Safety Council. The mark for intoxication is 0.1, which the groups feel is sufficient to hinder the action of the person. The amount of alcohol in the blood determines the action of the individual; the amount in his stomach is of no importance, except that in time it will be absorbed into the blood and therefore into the various tissues of the body.

The amount of alcohol shown in the blood, Dr. Klam testified, is about the same as in the other tissues of the body.

Saturation point for a person, as best as can be determined, the doctor told the court, was 0.4.

In answer to questions about "how some people can hold their liquor better than others," the pathologist said this is a fallacy on the part of many. What they mean, he said, is that some repeaters are able to control their actions, such as walking straighter or talking clearer, more than others, but that the effects of intoxication are pretty much the same. The repeaters body systems often can move it through the blood and therefore out of the body quicker, but the effect of intoxication is still there.

After a person passes the 0.1 mark of alcohol in his bloodstream, the changes are marked and are sufficient to impair safe driving, Dr. Klam testified.

Pettit had contended that he had not had a drink during the morning or early afternoon of Dec. 27, the day he was picked up by state police and charged with the offense. Pettit told the court that he had consumed "some" during the evening before while friends were visiting his house.

Two state troopers testified that he had been driving badly when they spotted him on a Selman Field road. He was stopped about 2:20 p.m. the officers said.

Final Services Slated Sunday For Mrs. Fowler

Funeral services for Mrs. R. M. Fowler, 83, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the chapel of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home in West Monroe with the Dr. Clifton Tennison and the Rev. Cecil Avery officiating.

Burial will follow in the Antioch Cemetery near Eros under direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fowler died Thursday at the home of her dauhter, Mrs. Bennie Brakefield, 2205 Trenton St., West Monroe.

Survivors include four other daughters, Mrs. Annie Tinsley and Mrs. Bertie Greer, both of West Monroe; Mrs. Allie Smith, Ruston and Mrs. Hazel Phillips, Logansport; three sons: Robert Fowler, Torrance, Calif.; Ellis Fowler, West Monroe, and Oder Fowler, Gideon, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Miller Lolley, West Monroe; a brother, George Hubbard, Eros; 27 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Earl Pettit, Oliver Cloyd, B. H. Moore, Buford Little, Ross Wilder and A. D. Golson.

FOUR MEN, WOMAN

Five Draw Terms In State Prison

Four men and a woman drew prison terms Friday in Fourth District Court, on charges ranging from forgery and theft to simple burglary.

Judge Mack Barham levied terms on:

James E. Miller, 19, 419 Jewell St., West Monroe, five years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary for simple burglary, and five year concurrent terms on four other burglary counts.

Arthur Thomas Castle, 40, 210 E. Market St., Louisville, Ky., five years for simple burglary.

Clarence Tobias, 25, 432 W. Lloyd St., Milwaukee, Wisc., four years for forgery.

Charles Ray Hemphill, 20, Route 3, Box 373-H, three years concurrent on each of four counts of simple burglary, sentences suspended, and placed on probation.

Blanche Cox, 34, Negro, 16-C Foster Homes, two years suspended, placed on probation, on a charge of theft of money and whiskey valued at $292.

Irene Kilgore Kendrix, Route 1, Collinston, charged with attempted murder, was ordered committed to the East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson for observation, subject to further reports. A sanity report was filed Friday in court.

Algie Lee Collins Jr., Negro, 1312½ Olive St. and George Lewis, Negro, 1105 Pine, pled guilty to simple burglary and were remanded until April 13 for pre-sentence investigation. John Wesley Wright, charged with them, entered a plea of innocent. An attorney was appointed to defend Wright, a Negro of 1607 S. College.

Linda Holley, 905 Alabama St., pled guilty to a charge of theft and was remanded for pre-sentence invesitgation until next Friday. Jean Henderson, 211 Stella St., West Monroe, also charged, pled innocent and will be tried June 15.

Judge Barham overruled a motion pleading present insanity for Cecil Eugene Cullipher, 24, charged with murder.

The ruling followed a report by a lunacy commission, appointed in February to exampine Cullipher, who was indicted on a charge of murder in the stabbing of Lealis L. Hale, Monroe businessman, on October 3, 1961.

Sentencing was postponed until next Friday for George Everett Brooks Jr., 312 N. Third, who previously pled guilty to forgery of an endorsement and theft of property valued at $142.50.

Frank Bradshaw of Route 1, Rayville, due in court for trial May 24 on a dog theft charge, appeared and gave the name of his attorney.

Billy E. Chandler, 29, Iowa Street, Ferriday, fined $300 and court costs or 60 days in the Ouachita parish jail.

Leroy Limon Dickens, 58, DeRidder, trial June 8.

Earnest C. Gunter, 49, Route 4, West Monroe, trial June 29.

John C. Tedeton, 19, Route 2, Downsville, tried, fined $300 and costs or 60 days.

Sammie J. McKeever, 18, Negro, Route 2, Columbia, fined $300 and costs or 60 days. The other six are covered in a separate story in today's World.

Five men were charged with reckless driving: Eugene J. Bedoit, 56, Route 2, trial June 29; Frederick D. Brister, 44, Forest, Jesse M. Boles, 65, Route 1, Epps, and Henry C. Ramsey, 79, Chatham, each fined $25 and costs or 10 days, Ramsey's fine suspended on payment of costs, and Charlie Derrell Jones, Negro, 104 Carson St., warrant issued when he failed to appear in court for arraignment.

Speeding charges were listed against:

Steven C. Dennis, 23, 1406 Audubon, Shreveport, warrant issued.

Trial was set for June 1 for Elmer W. Edmondson, 52, Texarkana, Tex., charged with hit-run driving.

Continued without date was the trial for Hilton T. Ramsey, 35, 1110 S. Third, charged with selling alcoholic beverages without a parish permit at Frances Truck Stop on Highway 80 west.

Four men were charged with driving without a 1962 license plate, five with driving without a license (one driving after his license was suspended received a 30-day jail term), one with illegal carrying of a weapon, one each with driving with improper brakes and improper lights, one with smiple obstruction, one with permitting an unlicensed minor to drive. One man was fined for disturbing the peace.

A switched license plate charge against another man was dismissed.

Expulsion Threat Letter Is Revealed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 41-year-old New Orleans woman—contending "the full truth is not out"—revealed a letter from Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel Friday threatening her with expulsion from the Roman Catholic Church.

The letter from the 85-year-old prelate reached Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr. last Saturday and cautioned her not to hinder his order to desegregate Catholic schools next fall, or be subject to excommunication.

"The letter contains false statements and accusations," Mrs. Gaillot told a dozen newsmen at her apartment. "I want an explanation of these charges, and I'm patiently waiting to go before Archbishop Rummel to clear up this matter."

The letter from the archbishop said in part:

"In the spirit of fatherly solicitude we deem it our duty to admonish you that any further attempt by you through word or deed to hinder our orders or provoke our devoted people to disobedience or rebellion against the Church will subject you to excommunication. This censure will be automatic by virtue of the present monition. If this fatherly warning is not heeded, we shall feel constrained to publish a declaratory sentence of excommunication."

The letter began that Mrs. Gaillot, who has two children in Catholic schools and who heads a pro-segregation group, "promoted flagrant disobedience to the decision to open our schools to ALL our Catholic children and have even threatened and incited others to take reprisals, legal and otherwise, against our action."

Mrs. Gaillot, who picketed the archbishop's residence the day he announced desegregation of Catholic schools next fall, told the news conference:

"The full truth is not out," she said. "I have never incited or threatened anyone to help me at any time. I am innocent of these charges and accusations."

Mrs. Gaillot claims her defense for maintenance of segregation is based on the Bible "and only my Bible."

She said she asked the archbishop by letter last Monday for an audience to answer his letter. She set Friday as the deadline and told the press she would reveal the letter if the audience was not granted. Chancery officials, she said, promised her the audience, but have yet to set a time and date.

Soviets Report Launching Of New Sputnik

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched another artificial satellite Friday and it is now in orbit, the Soviet news agency Tass announced reports from the agency made it appear the new Sputnik was unmanned.

The Tass announcement said the vehicle, named Cosmos II, was sent aloft in a program for exploring the upper strata of the atomsphere and outer space. Cosmos I was sent up March 16.

"According to preliminary data," Tass added, "the flight of the Sputnik follows an orbit which differs but little from the calculated one."

It listed instrumentation aboard, but said nothing about a space pilot.

A Moscow radio announcement said the new Sputnik is circling the earth every 102.5 minutes.

Gary Player Drops Back To 2nd Spot

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer surged back with a 6-under-par 66 Friday and moved two shots in front of South Africa's Gary Player at the halfway point of their tense, birdie-and-eagle duel for the 26th Masters Golf Championship.

The muscular young pro from Latrobe, Pa., reeled off four birdies in a row on the back nine after learning that Player had knocked in an eagle on the 15th. He played the back nine of the fierce Augusta National course in 31 for a 36-hole total of 136. Player, the first round leader with a 67, fired a steady 71 which placed him second at 138.

Thus the stage was set for another head-to-head battle between these two golfing goliaths as last year when Player backed into the championship by a single stroke after Palmer had blown himself to a double bogey 6 on the 72nd hole.

Other players in the original 110-man field became little more than window-dressing as Palmer and Player, playing only about one-half hour apart, wrestled each other and the monstrous course before a thrilled crowd of some 25,000.

Almost unnoticed, quiet, soft-spoken Gene Littler, the reigning U.S. Open champion, moved into third place, adding a meticulous 68 to a previous 71 for 139. He was only one stroke back of Player.

Then came Gardner Dickinson Jr., a 127-pound David among giants at 141 after a second round 71.

Three were tied at 142—Julius Boros, who tacked a 73 onto his first round 69; Mike Souchak, the former Duke football player with 70-72, and Dow Finsterwald, the slender capitalist of the tour who added a 68 to a previous 74.

However, no one seemed to give anybody else a chance of breaking into the two-man show which has suddenly developed into a links version of a Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight fight.

Player is the Tunney—the precise, polished artisan. He dresses in conservative black with a white turtle-neck sweater. Finesse is his trade mark. He is a brilliant craftsman but conservative.

Palmer, winner of this title in 1958 and 1960, started the second three shots back of his little rival from Johannesburg — and about one-half hour behind him off the tee.

While the huge crowd stampeded over the broad Augusta fairways, leaving most of the other players to shoot their games in virtual privacy, Palmer and Player engaged in a dramatic struggle that saw the lead change hands or go into a deadlock several times.

Palmer caught his pace-setting rival at the third hole where he knocked in a birdie 3 and player took a bogey 5. The Pennsylvania pro moved ahead for the first time at the 13th where he started his string of consecutive birdies.

Palmer said he was just going to the 13th when he heard that Player had canned an eagle on the 520-yard 15th. There the South African lashed out with his longest drive of the tournament — a prodigious wallop of about 290 yards—and sent a four-iron shot flying to the green, 30 feet away from the cup. Then he sank it for a 3.

It was here that Palmer, the determined comebacker who reputed to be the most dangerous come-from-behind competitor in golf, started his relentless charge.

"Palmer just got another birdie at the 16th," somebody yelled.

A broad smile broke out on Player's face, and then a look of frustration. He shook his head as if to say: "What's the use?"

The crowd gave him a tremendous ovation.

"Was I conscious of what Palmer was doing out there?" Player said afterward in answer to a question. "I certainly was. I can read the scoreboards and I have ears. The sounds of those cheers from the Palmer gallery richocheted through the trees and you could hear them from miles around.

"I must say it's a bit distracting to have the best golfer in the world playing behind you."

Palmer also said that he was kept posted of how Player was doing.

"I looked at the scoreboard," he said. "I knew what I had to do."

Palmer got off to a fast start in pursuit of the South African rolling in a 12-foot putt for a birdie three on the first hole. He picked up another bird at the third, with a 5-footer and rolled in one from 20 feet on the eighth.

THAN JUST TWO AHEAD

Player Had Rather Be 2 Shots Behind

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Losing the lead in the Masters Golf tournament to Arnold Palmer Friday didn't bother South Africa's Gary Player one bit. He says, in fact, he'd rather be two strokes behind Palmer than just two strokes ahead of him.

"I'm inclined to play conservatively," Player said after Palmer shot a 66 and took the halfway lead in the classic tournament with a 36-hold total of 136 to Player's 138. "And you can's afford to play conservatively on this course against a man like Palmer. He is always attacking. He is the greatest golfer in the world.

"No, I'd rather be two shots behind than two shots in front."

Someone asked if that meant Player didn't like the position he was in last year—when he led Palmer by four shots going into the final 18 and wound up backing into the title by one stroke when Palmer took a double-bogey 6 on the last hole.

"No, I don't mean that," Player said. "I'd like to be four shots ahead. But not two."

Someone relayed Player's view to Palmer, who is noted for his blazing rallies to victory. He was asked which he'd rather be—two shots ahead or two behind.

Palmer looked as if the questioner was kidding. He laughed. Then he said:

"I like it just where I am."

Little, Dixie Leagues Slate Tryouts Today

Tryouts for Little and Dixie League baseball teams are scheduled to be held today, according to officials of the Monroe Recreation Department.

Action is slated to begin at 9 a.m. Little League tryouts for the Eastside are scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock on Lamy Lane along with Northside Dixie League.

Southside Little League tryouts will be held begining at 1 p.m. at the Lions Field, and Northside Little Leaguers will tryout at 3 p.m. at Bendel Stadium.

Pelican Boys Meeting Set At Winnsboro

TALLULAH, La. (Special) —An expanding program of Pelican Boys Baseball may call for reorganizing the bi-districts of the Fifth District of Louisiana, J. D. Caldwell, Tallulah, a state director of the league, said here.

Caldwell's predictions of growth within the district come with the announcement from Henry "Woody" Boyles, Oak Grove, district director, in calling a meeting of district Pelican Boys Baseball leaders for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Winnsboro.

"Several new teams have applied for affiliation in the Fifth District and we may offer a tri-district program if enough teams in the western part of the area apply for membership," Caldwell said.

Last year the district operated with a bi-district system of north and south zones with entries from Tallulah, Oak Grove, Epps, Delhi, Winnsboro, Newellton, St. Joseph and Ferriday.

Pelican Boys is now a tri-state affair, expanding into Mississippi and Texas. All out-of-state leagues will be considered this year as another Louisiana district and will be invited to the Pelican Boys Tournament in Alexandria this summer.

The Pelican program is for boys in the 15 through 17-year-old age group and is for high school athletes, taking its talent from the Dixie and similar leagues when the boys grown out of the younger age groups, keeping them active in summer sport until they complete high school.

All towns within the Fifth District of Louisiana are invited to have representatives at the Winnsboro meeting to which state officials have been invited.

Decisions And Danger

While the nation was in a dither this week over the death of fighter Benny Paret and certain 'humanitarian' elements were crying for the abolition of 'public slaughter,' a young college student lay critically injured from a tramboline accident.

Michigan sophomore Lew Hyman, 19, was making the 12th and final bounce of his routine in the NCAA Gymnastics Championship in Albuquerque, N.M. when he veered off to the side, fell nearly 30 feet and hit the hardwood floor face first. He suffered a severe brain injury.

In favor of banning gymnastics, anyone?

Come to think of it football, horse racing, and auto racing are mighty dangerous.

So is the common automobile. It may be the most dangerous recreation instrument of all. Why not ban it?

Maybe we should all stay locked up in our houses. We'll be safe there if we don't slip in the bathtub or fall down the front steps and if the Russians don't start a nuclear war.

Life itself is dangerous and its very much a gamble. Benny Paret didn't have to fight. He could have remained an impoverished sugar cane cutter and died slowly, a little bit at a time. Instead he made a decision and died once, as a champion. Who is to say he made the wrong choice?

At The Training Camps

"OLE CASE"

PUBLIC OPINION

A foretaste of crowd reaction to Roger Maris of the New York Yankees may have been seen in the exhibition game in which he hit two homers. On his first appearance at bat he was greeted with mixed applause and booing. He blasted a circuit clout. The next time he came up there was nothing but applause.

SMILE BOYS

Television equipment, having made its appearance at the Florida training camps, brought this comment from Joe Garagiola, St. Louis master of ceremonies, "Expression counts more nowadays than hitting."

AUTOGRAPHS

Autograph seekers about at spring training because it is easier to reach the players than during the regular season. There are few brushoffs. Before a recent game when the New York Yankees did not suit up because of the threat of rain, Mickey Mantle stood in an aisle outside the clubhouse and signed autographs for 15 minutes.

MATCHMAKER Joe Louis' first all-star boxing show lost one principal this week when Mexico's Everardo Armenta bowed out of his 10-rounder with Ralph Dupas of New Orleans. Armenta injured an eye in a loss to Joey Giambra in Las Vegas Monday night.

Frankie Ramirez, Los Angeles, ranked 10th among welterweights by the NBA, replaces Armenta on the card, scheduled for April 23 at the Sports arena in Los Angeles. The NBA lists Dupas as the No. 1 contender for newly crowned Emile Griffith's welterweight title.

JOEY GIARDELLO, 31-year old middleweight fighter is reported considering retirement. Giardello was quoted as saying he wants to make one more good money match then call it quits. He said efforts were being made to match him with Dick Tiger on a summer card. Giardello claimed pressure by his wife and mother after the death of Benny Paret had influenced his decision.

NATIONAL LEAGUE president Warren Giles indicated he was greatly incouraged by the showings of the league's two new teams — the Houston Colt 45's and the New York Mets. Giles said it was apparent that the expansion player pool was working out to everyone's advantage.

THE NEW YORK Giants have traded veteran linebacker Cliff Livingston to the Minnesota Vikings for Dick Tesonen and a draft choice.

Livingston, 31, has been the regular outside linebacker for the Giants the past five seasons. The 215-pound UCLA graduate has been in the National League for eight years.

Tesonen, 23, is a defensive halfback with two years experience in the league. He played his college ball at the Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota.

Celtics-Lakers Tilts Announced By Association

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association announced Friday the full schedule for its championship playoffs between the Boston Celtics and Los Angeles Lakers.

The first two games of the best-of-7 title series will be afternoon contests in Boston Saturday and Sunday, with Saturday's game nationally televised (NBC). The next two will be in Los Angeles Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Game 5 (if necessary) will be in Boston Saturday night April 14, game 6 (if necessary) in Los Angeles Monday night, April 16, and game 7 (if necessary) in Boston Wednesday night, April 18.

UNDEFEATED INDIANS

Tribe Thinclads Seek Memphis Title Today

Northeast State's undefeated track team seeks to pick up a new championship and add more trophies to an already bulging trophy case this afternoon in the Memphis Relays.

Northeast has never won a Memphis Relays title. The Indians were nosed out by Louisiana Tech, 58½ to 58, last year in the team's first appearance in the meet.

Eighteen Indian athletes will participate in the meet's university division against the likes of Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi State, Ole Miss, Memphis State, Northwestern, Murray State, Southeast Missouri and the defending champion.

Alabama is considered Northeast's top competition in the meet. The 'Bama thinclads finished second to Northeast in last week's Florida Relays, scoring 33 points to 48½ for the Indians.

Nine of the meet's 15 university records are in danger of being broken by fleet-footed and strong-armed Northeast athletes. Indians have bettered Relays records in four of the six relays, the 440, 880, sprint medley and mile, as well as the high hurdles, 100, pole vault, discus and mile.

However, Northeast's top miler, Buddy Eiland, will pass up the event today. Eiland holds the Memphis record of 3:18.0 and has run 3:10.4 this year but will sit out the mile in favor of legs on the distance and sprint medley teams.

The amazing Styron twins will participate in four events each. Both Dave and Don will run on the 440, mile and spring medley relay teams while Don will compete in the 120-yard high hurdles and Dave in the 100.

Don, who holds one world hurdles record and is tied for a U. S. indoor mark, was recently ranked the world's best all-around hurdler by Track & Field News while Dave shares two indoor sprint records.

Northeast will have entries in all of the university division events excpet the two-mile relay.

The meet will begin a busy week for the Tribe thinclads. They host a triangular meet also involving Northwestern and Southeastern Wednesday night in Monroe and take part in the giant Southwestern Relays in Lafayette the following Saturday. The team left for the Memphis meet Friday afternoon.

The Northeast entries:
120-Yard High Hurdles—Don Styron, Eugene Franklin.
Distance Medley—John Baker, Al Taylor, Jack Williams, Buddy Eiland.
100-Yard Dash—Dave Styron, Jay Goldsmith.
Mile Run—Williams, George Abbott.
880-Yard Relay—McDonald, Woody Pence, Owen Owen, Goldsmith.
Two-Mile Relay—No entries.
Mile Relay — Baker, Walker, Dave Styron, Don Styron.
Discus—Tiffen Stone, Richard Shovan.
Shot Put—Stone, Shovan.
Javelin—Gene Harbert.
Pole Vault—Tommy Edmonson, Noel Orr.
Broad Jump—Edmonson, Owen.
High Jump—Franklin.

Ouachita Meets Dubach Tonight; Rebels Monday

Ouachita High School's baseball team will play the second game of a scheduled two-team match today with Dubach after the first game with Farmerville had been called off due to wet grounds.

The contest will be played in Dubach at 7:30 p.m. The Lions had been scheduled to travel to Farmerville also today to take on the farmers.

Weather Calls Neville Tiger Rebel Contest

Neville's match with West Monroe's baseball squad scheduled for this afternoon at the Neville diamond has been called off due to the weather.

The Rebels, with a 2-12 record for the season, would have been seeking to better their record before meeting with Ouachita Monday.

The Rebels have three conference tilts slated for the coming week, the Ouachita game, a meet with Byrd of Shreveport Tuesday and one with Woodlawn Thursday at home.

Northwestern Clips Tribe, 5-2, In GSC Net Play

Despite losing their third straight of the year, Northeast's team turned in its best performance of the campaign. The Indians won the No. 3 singles when Bill Ulmer bested Bob May, 6-4, 6-2, and captured the No. 1 doubles with Kirk Fisher and Charles Tacker knocking off Lloyd Wallace and Earl Williams, 7-5 and 6-3.

Three other matches, both won by Northwestern were extended to three sets. Jerry Payne edged Northeast's Irby Gamble, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, in the No. 4 singles, Northwestern's John Lokos outlasted Bob Statham, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, in the No. 5 singles and NSC's Payne and Lokos topped Ulmer and Statham, 5-7, 12-10, 6-4, in the No. 2 doubles.

SUMMARY:

Singles:
No. 1—NSC's Lloyd Wallace beat NLSC's Kirk Fisher, 6-3, 6-1.
No. 2—NSC's Earl Williams beat NLSC's Charles Thacker, 6-3, 6-3.
No. 3—NLSC's Bill Ulmer beat NSC's Bob May, 6-4, 6-2.
No. 4 — NSC's Jerry Payne beat NLSC's Irby Gamble, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.
No. 5 — NSC's John Lokos beat NLSC's Bob Statham, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.
Doubles:
No. 1 — Fisher-Thacker, NLSC, beat NSC's Wallace-Williams, 7-5, 6-3.
No. 2—NSC's Payne-Lokos beat NLSC's Ulmer-Stratam, 5-7, 12-10, 6-4.

Gary Player Drops Back To 2nd Spot

THAN JUST TWO AHEAD

Player Had Rather Be 2 Shots Behind

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Losing the lead in the Masters Golf tournament to Arnold Palmer Friday didn't bother South Africa's Gary Player one bit. He says, in fact, he'd rather be two strokes behind Palmer than just two strokes ahead of him.

"I'm inclined to play conservatively," Player said after Palmer shot a 66 and took the halfway lead in the classic tournament with a 36-hold total of 136 to Player's 138. "And you can's afford to play conservatively on this course against a man like Palmer. He is always attacking. He is the greatest golfer in the world.

"No, I'd rather be two shots behind than two shots in front."

Someone asked if that meant Player didn't like the position he was in last year—when he led Palmer by four shots going into the final 18 and wound up backing into the title by one stroke when Palmer took a double-bogey 6 on the last hole.

"No, I don't mean that," Player said. "I'd like to be four shots ahead. But not two."

Someone relayed Player's view to Palmer, who is noted for his blazing rallies to victory. He was asked which he'd rather be—two shots ahead or two behind.

Palmer looked as if the questioner was kidding. He laughed. Then he said:

"I like it just where I am."

Decisions And Danger

While the nation was in a dither this week over the death of fighter Benny Paret and certain 'humanitarian' elements were crying for the abolition of 'public slaughter,' a young college student lay critically injured from a tramboline accident.

Michigan sophomore Lew Hyman, 19, was making the 12th and final bounce of his routine in the NCAA Gymnastics Championship in Albuquerque, N.M. when he veered off to the side, fell nearly 30 feet and hit the hardwood floor face first. He suffered a severe brain injury.

In favor of banning gymnastics, anyone?

Come to think of it football, horse racing, and auto racing are mighty dangerous.

So is the common automobile. It may be the most dangerous recreation instrument of all. Why not ban it?

Maybe we should all stay locked up in our houses. We'll be safe there if we don't slip in the bathtub or fall down the front steps and if the Russians don't start a nuclear war.

Life itself is dangerous and its very much a gamble. Benny Paret didn't have to fight. He could have remained an impoverished sugar cane cutter and died slowly, a little bit at a time. Instead he made a decision and died once, as a champion. Who is to say he made the wrong choice?

At The Training Camps

"OLE CASE"

PUBLIC OPINION

A foretaste of crowd reaction to Roger Maris of the New York Yankees may have been seen in the exhibition game in which he hit two homers. On his first appearance at bat he was greeted with mixed applause and booing. He blasted a circuit clout. The next time he came up there was nothing but applause.

SMILE BOYS

AUTOGRAPHS

Autograph seekers about at spring training because it is easier to reach the players than during the regular season. There are few brushoffs. Before a recent game when the New York Yankees did not suit up because of the threat of rain, Mickey Mantle stood in an aisle outside the clubhouse and signed autographs for 15 minutes.

MATCHMAKER Joe Louis' first all-star boxing show lost one principal this week when Mexico's Everardo Armenta bowed out of his 10-rounder with Ralph Dupas of New Orleans. Armenta injured an eye in a loss to Joey Giambra in Las Vegas Monday night.

Frankie Ramirez, Los Angeles, ranked 10th among welterweights by the NBA, replaces Armenta on the card, scheduled for April 23 at the Sports arena in Los Angeles. The NBA lists Dupas as the No. 1 contender for newly crowned Emile Griffith's welterweight title.

JOEY GIARDELLO, 31-year old middleweight fighter is reported considering retirement. Giardello was quoted as saying he wants to make one more good money match then call it quits. He said efforts were being made to match him with Dick Tiger on a summer card. Giardello claimed pressure by his wife and mother after the death of Benny Paret had influenced his decision.

NATIONAL LEAGUE president Warren Giles indicated he was greatly incouraged by the showings of the league's two new teams — the Houston Colt 45's and the New York Mets. Giles said it was apparent that the expansion player pool was working out to everyone's advantage.

Livingston, 31, has been the regular outside linebacker for the Giants the past five seasons. The 215 - pound UCLA graduate has been in the National League for eight years.

Tesonen, 23, is a defensive halfback with two years experience in the league. He played his college ball at the Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota.

Celtics-Lakers Tilts Announced By Association

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association announced Friday the full schedule for its championship playoffs between the Boston Celtics and Los Angeles Lakers.

The first two games of the best-of-7 title series will be afternoon contests in Boston Saturday and Sunday, with Saturday's game nationally televised (NBC). The next two will be in Los Angeles Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Game 5 (if necessary) will be in Boston Saturday night April 14, game 6 (if necessary) in Los Angeles Monday night, April 16, and game 7 (if necessary) in Boston Wednesday night, April 18.

UNDEFEATED INDIANS

Tribe Thinclads Seek Memphis Title Today

Northeast State's undefeated track team seeks to pick up a new championship and add more trophies to an already bulging trophy case this afternoon in the Memphis Relays.

Northeast has never won a Memphis Relays title. The Indians were nosed out by Louisiana Tech, 58½ to 53, last year in the team's first appearance in the meet.

Eighteen Indian athletes will participate in the meet's university division against the likes of Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi State, Ole Miss, Memphis State, Northwestern, Murray State, Southeast Missouri and the defending champion.

Alabama is considered Northeast's top competition in the meet. The 'Bama thinclads finished second to Northeast in last week's Florida Relays, scoring 33 points to 48½ for the Indians.

Nine of the meet's 15 university records are in danger of being broken by fleet - footed and strong - armed Northeast athletes. Indians have bettered Relays records in four of the six relays, the 440, 880, sprint medley and mile, as well as the high hurdles, 100, pole vault, discus and mile.

However, Northeast's top miler, Buddy Eiland, will pass up the event today. Eiland holds the Memphis record of 3:18.0 and has run 3:10.4 this year but will sit out the mile in favor of legs on the distance and sprint medley teams.

The amazing Styron twins will participate in four events each. Both Dave and Don will run on the 440, mile and spring medley relay teams while Don will compete in the 120 - yard high hurdles and Dave in the 100.

JACK WILLIAMS

Don, who holds one world hurdles record and is tied for a U. S. indoor mark, was recently ranked the world's best all-around hurdler by Track & Field News while Dave shares two indoor sprint records.

Northeast will have entries in all of the university division events excpet the two - mile relay.

The meet will begin a busy week for the Tribe thinclads. They host a triangular meet also involving Northwestern and Southeastern Wednesday night in Monroe and take part in the giant Southwestern Relays in Lafayette the following Saturday. The team left for the Memphis meet Friday afternoon.

The Northeast entries:

120-Yard High Hurdles—Don Styron, Eugene Franklin.
Distance Medley—John Baker, Al Taylor, Jack Williams, Buddy Eiland.
100-Yard Dash—Dave Styron, Jay Goldsmith.
Mile Run—Williams, George Abbott.
880-Yard Relay—McDonald, Woody Pence, Owen Owen, Goldsmith.
Two-Mile Relay—No entries.
Discus—Tiffen Stone, Richard Shovan.
Shot Put—Stone, Shovan.
Javelin—Gene Harbert.
Pole Vault—Tommy Edmonson, Noel Orr.
Broad Jump—Edmonson, Owen.
High Jump—Franklin.

Ouachita Meets Dubach Tonight; Rebels Monday

Ouachita High School's baseball team will play the second game of a scheduled two - team match today with Dubach after the first game with Farmerville had been called off due to wet grounds.

The contest will be played in Dubach at 7:30 p.m. The Lions had been scheduled to travel to Farmerville also today to take on the farmers.

Weather Calls Neville Tiger Rebel Contest

Neville's match with West Monroe's baseball squad scheduled for this afternoon at the Neville diamond has been called off due to the weather.

The Rebels, with a 2-12 record for the season, would have been seeking to better their record before meeting with Ouachita Monday.

The Rebels have three conference tilts slated for the coming week, the Ouachita game, a meet with Byrd of Shreveport Tuesday and one with Woodlawn Thursday at home.

Pelican Boys Meeting Set At Winnsboro

TALLULAH, La. (Special) —An expanding program of Pelican Boys Baseball may call for reorganizing the bi-districts of the Fifth District of Louisiana, J. D. Caldwell, Tallulah, a state director of the league, said here.

Caldwell's predictions of growth within the district come with the announcement from Henry "Woody" Boyles, Oak Grove, district director, in calling a meeting of district Pelican Boys Baseball leaders for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Winnsboro.

"Several new teams have applied for affiliation in the Fifth District and we may offer a tri-district program if enough teams in the western part of the area apply for membership," Caldwell said.

Last year the district operated with a bi - district system of north and south zones with entries from Tallulah, Oak Grove, Epps, Delhi, Winnsboro, Newellton, St. Joseph and Ferriday.

Pelican Boys is now a tri-state affair, expanding into Mississippi and Texas. All out - of - state leagues will be considered this year as another Louisiana district and will be invited to the Pelican Boys Tournament in Alexandria this summer.

The Pelican program is for boys in the 15 through 17-year-old age group and is for high school athletes, taking its talent from the Dixie and similar leagues when the boys grown out of the younger age groups, keeping them active in summer sport until they complete high school.

All towns within the Fifth District of Louisiana are invited to have representatives at the Winnsboro meeting to which state officials have been invited.

Northwestern Clips Tribe, 5-2, In GSC Net Play

Despite losing their third straight of the year, Northeast's team turned in its best performance of the campaign. The Indians won the No. 3 singles when Bill Ulmer bested Bob May, 6-4, 6-2, and captured the No. 1 doubles with Kirk Fisher and Charles Tacker knocking off Lloyd Wallace and Earl Williams, 7-5 and 6-3.

Three other matches, both won by Northwestern were extended to three sets. Jerry Payne edged Northeast's Irby Gamble, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, in the No. 4 singles, Northwestern's John Lokos outlasted Bob Statham, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, in the No. 5 singles and NSC's Payne and Lokos topped Ulmer and Statham, 5-7, 12-10, 6-4, in the No. 2 doubles.

SUMMARY:

Singles:
No. 1—NSC's Lloyd Wallace beat NLSC's Kirk Fisher, 6-3, 6-1.
No. 2—NSC's Earl Williams beat NLSC's Charles Thacker, 6-3, 6-3.

Exhibition Baseball

Sens Defeat Pirates

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Aided by five Pittsburgh errors, the Washington Senators defeated the Pirates 11-9 Friday in an exhibition baseball game.

The Pirates out-hit the Senators 14-13, but the errors led to five unearned runs for the Nats.

The Pirates also hit four home runs, including two by Roberto Clemente. One of Clemente's homers and those of Bill Virdon and Dick Stuart were solo jobs.

Willie Tasby's three-run homer in the sixth inning put the Senators ahead to stay. Danny O'Connell, a former Pirate, also was a big man in the Senator offensive with three hits.

Another ex-pirate, Fred Green, pitched three innings and was credited with the victory.

Diomedes Olivo, the 42-year-old Pirate rookie, took the loss. He pitched three innings and gave up six runs, five unearned.

Cubs Blast Red Sox

These home runs accounted for all the Chicago scores. Altman cracked his eighth of the spring with a man on in the first inning. Santo's drive in the seventh also came off Bill Monbouquette, who gave up six hits in seven innings. Banks belted his sixth this spring with a man on off Mike Fornieles in the ninth.

Don Cardwell, warming up to pitch the opener for the Cubs at Houston on Tuesday, blanked the Sox with four hits through six innings.

The sox made nine hits, but stranded 11 base runners.

Braves Clip Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rookie Mac Jones' two-run pinch double in the ninth inning gave Milwaukee a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians Friday.

Jones, batting for winning pitcher Warren Spahn, connected against lefty Don Rudolph with three on and one out. Spahn and Barry Latman pitched the first eight innings.

Latman was removed after Joe Adcock led off the ninth with a single. Frank Funk entered, threw a wild pitch, gave up a single to Frank Bolling on which pinch-runner Rocky Krsnich stopped at third. Funk was yanked after walking Bob Eucker, loading the bases.

Jones then delivered against Rudolph.

A's Down Yanks

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John Wyatt, a 27-year-old rookie right-hander, limited the New York Yankees to five singles, three of them of the infield variety, as the Kansas City Athletics took a 3-2 decision Friday.

Mickey Mantle, back in the line-up after a week's absence with a sore knee and a cold, got two of the hits off Wyatt. The Yanks had a 2-1 lead until the eighth, when the A's got to Jim Bouton for three hits and two runs. Bouton relieved Whitey Ford after four, the Yankee southpaw having given up five hits but no runs.

Orioles Drop One

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The minor league Indianapolis Indians hit and pitched and ran like major leaguers and the Baltimore Orioles performed like something out of baseball fiction while absorbing a 9-1 drubbing from the American Association champion Friday.

The triple-A Indians clubbed Baltimore's veteran right-hander Skinny Brown, for 11 hits and all their runs in the opening four innings before Wes Stock came on to yield five singles over the remaining distance.

Chief among the Indianapolis blows were home runs by Jerry McNertney and Tony Roig: a triple by Harry Simpson, who also drilled a pair of singles; two doubles by Jim Koranda; and additional two baggers by Tom McCraw and Al Weis.

Dodgers, Giants Tie

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A two-run eighth-inning homer by Matty Alou created an 8-8 deadlock Friday in a curtailed exhibition game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants.

The final Cactus League game of the spring was called at the end of the eighth to permit both teams to catch planes, the Giants for Salt Lake City to play two weekend games with the Cleveland Indians and the Dodgers for San Diego to meet the Milwaukee Braves twice.

Juan Marichal, opening day pitcher for the Giants, appeared in his final tuneup and was belted for six runs on nine hits in the first two innings. Biggest of the blows were homers by Ron Fairly and Johnny Podres, who said his homer was the first he ever hit in league or exhibition play.

One run in the first off Podres and five in the fourth off Ed Roebuck, Podres' fourth-inning successor, tied the count 6-6. Felipe Alou's two-run homer, his ninth this spring, in the fourth climaxed that uprising.

Cards Cop Mets

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Held to one hit in five innnigs, the St. Louis Cardinals rallied for six hits and four runs in the sixth and beat the New York Mets 5-2 Friday.

It was announced Julio Gotay, young Cardinal shortstop, had won the Jim Bottomley Award as St. Louis rookie of the spring.

Angels Nip Colts

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Ken McBride, the mainstay of the Los Angeles Angels' pitching staff, came close to firing a three-hit shutout Friday, but needed relief to nip the Houston Colt 45s, 1-0.

Despite his ninth inning exit, McBride turned in a sparkling performance, holding the newly formed Houston club hitless through the first 7 1-3 innings. He issued four walks and fanned five.

Hal Smith finally broke McBride's magic spell with a double to left center in the eighth inning. Tom Morgan finished for the Angels.

The only run came as a result of an error. In the fourth inning Lee Thomas lined a double off Houston starter Bob Bruce. He advanced to third on an outfield fly and scored when first baseman Norm Larker booted a grounder by Bob Rodgers.

White Sox 8, Reds 4

MACON, Ga. (AP) —The Chicago White Sox knocked rookie Sam Ellis off the mound in a five-run first inning Friday as the American Leaguers beat the Cincinnati Reds 8-4 for the fifth straight time.

Ellis was the first of five Cincinnati pitchers in the game. He went to the showers shortly before the end of the 35-minute inning for walking a batter after five runs had scored. Louis Aparicio, the first Chicago batter, then hit into a force-out to end the inning.

The Reds got two runs in their half of the inning, one because White Sox pitcher Ray Herbert failed to back up third base on a high throw by Mike Hershberger.

Manager Al Lopez promptly replaced Herbert with Early Wynn who pitched six scoreless innings, holding the Reds to three singles. Nellie Fox led Chicago's 12-hit attack with three safeties.

TWO OF NORTHEAST'S heavy-hitting Indians who will be swinging the big sticks against McNeese this afternoon are Don Boniol (left) and Phil Petras. Boniol, a freshman first baseman from Alexandria, is currently hitting at a .381 clip while All-GSC shortstop Petras is pacing the Tribe in two batting departments. Petras leads the Indians in runs scored with seven and triples with two.

TWINBILL WITH MCNEESE

Northeast To Open Home Baseball Campaign Today

The first of the two seven-inning games will begin at 1:30 p.m. on the Ouachita High diamond.

The Indian nine, 4-3 for the year, is 1-1 in GSC play, good for a tie for second place. McNeese, coached this year by successful basketball mentor Ralph Ward, has a 2-5 overall mark and a 1-3 record in the conference.

McNeese's baseballers have been in a slump lately and are batting only .197 going into today's games. Tribe Coach George Luffey has nominated righthander Bob Rachal of Alexandria to try to extend the McNeese slump in the first game and will come back with either Bobby Lockwood or Jerry Godwin in the second.

Sophomore Rachal is 1-0 for the season and has the best earned run average of any regular Indian moundsman, 1.85. He picked up his win with a 7-2 decision over Delta State and pitched relief in two other games.

Lockwood has pitched 24 2-3 innings, more than twice as many as any other hurler, and has a 2-2 record and 2.52 ERA. Godwin is 0-1, dropping a decision to Northwestern. Whoever does not pitch today will probably draw a starting assignment in Monday afternoon's doubleheader with Louisiana Tech, defending GSC champ, here.

McNeese's starters are likely to be juniors Jim Bischoff and Joe Kazmar, a couple of hard-throwing righthanders. Both are 0-2 for the season. Bischoff has a 2.87 ERA and Kazmar a 4.20 mark.

Northeast, batting a respectable .266, will probably have Bo Dick Smith behind the plate, Don Boniol on first, Eddie McGowan at second, Phil Petras at short and either Gary Fields or Charley Dykes at third.

John Pace, Bob Groves and Donnie Brunson will patrol the outfield.

Speedy leadoff man Eddie McGowan is hitting at a .296 clip, Smith has a .231 average, Petras has a .200 average with two triples and seven runs scored, both marks high on the team, while Brunson is hitting .173, Fields .160 and Dykes .136.

Other Indians who may see action include infielders James Cromwell, Keith Prince, Ronnie Myrick, and Ronnie Graham, catcher Gladden Hearn and outfielders Don Senn, Larry McDonald and Dave McCarty.

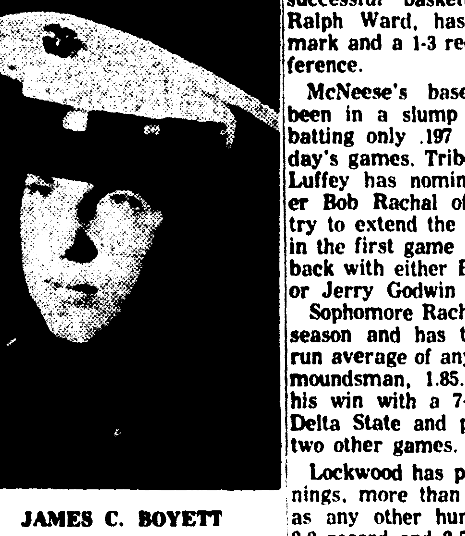
McNeese has two players batting over .300, outfielder Ted Valery with a .313 mark and shortstop Dick Carr with a .304 average. Cowboy outfielder Lenny Kahn is hitting .375 in GSC competition.

Next week Northeast plays two crucial double - headers, the one here Monday against defending champ Louisiana Tech and another Saturday in Hammond against the current conference leader, Southwestern.

The Indians will meet Southwestern April 16 in Lafayette before opening play in the third annual Easter Tournament here April 19. Northwestern, Arkansas and Baylor are other Easter tourney teams.



JAMES C. BOYETT

Area Marine Outstanding In Football

JENA (Special) — U. S. Marine PFC James Casey Boyett, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. (Bud) Boyett of Jena, has been presented with a certificate of achievement from the 1st Marine Brigade in Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii, for his outstanding performance on the 1961-62 football squad while stationed in Hawaii. He was named first string end on the all star team.

James Casey was a 1959 graduate of Jena High School where he participated in football and track, beginning in his elementary, and continuing through his high school years. He has held the pole vault record since his tenth year.

Upon entering Northeast State college in Monroe in the fall of 1959, he went out for the football team, but his main interest at that time was track, especially the pole vault event, where he won several awards including first place in the college division of Track and Field Events in Chattanooga, Tenn., in the spring of 1960.

He left Northeast State college in 1960 to enter the Marine Corps, being promoted to PFC at the completion of the individual combat training course June 9, 1960, at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

After a short leave with his parents, he returned to the Marine base in San Diego, Calif. for more training before leaving the mainland in October for Kaneohe Bay in Hawaii where he will be stationed for two years.

James Casey plans to continue his football and track while in the Marine Corps and re-enter Northeast State college upon completing his tour of duty to further his degree in Physical Education.

Louisiana Tech Conference Tilt With SLC Called

RUSTON (Special)—A double-header here between Gulf States Conference Contenders Louisiana Tech and Southeastern Louisiana College scheduled Saturday has been postponed because of wet grounds.

The twinbill has been re-set for Tuesday, May 8. The two teams clash in Hammond in a double header Monday, April 30.

Yanks, Dodgers Picked As Pre-Season Winners

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees are overwhelming choices to repeat as American League champions this season and the Los Angeles Dodgers are favored in the National League race in the annual pre-season Associated Press baseball poll.

Of the 130 members of the Baseball Writers Association voting, 106 picked the Yankees to capture their 27th AL pennant. Twenty-two chose the Detroit Tigers and the remaining two named the Baltimore Orioles.

The forecast is for a tighter race in the NL, where the Dodgers beat out the San Francisco Giants for the poll's top spot. Forty-eight writers selected the Dodgers as the probable champion, while 36 went for the Giants.

St. Louis' surprising Cardinals were named first on 28 ballots but on a point basis finished fourth, behind the Milwaukee Braves. And the Cincinnati Reds, last year's NL kings, received only six first-place votes and wound up fifth in points. The two new clubs, the New York Mets and the Houston Colts, were picked for eighth and 10th, with the Philadelphia Phillies between.

Oddly enough, the predicted order of finish in the American League is virtually identical with the 1961 wind-up. The only difference is that last year Washington and Kansas City tied for ninth.

In the NL last season, Cincinnati took first, followed by Los Angeles, San Francisco, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Here is how the BBWA sees the 1962 finishes (first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

AMERICAN LEAGUE

1. New York (106)	1,276
2. Detroit (22)	1,158

Exhibition Baseball

Sens Defeat Pirates

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Aided by five Pittsburgh errors, the Washington Senators defeated the Pirates 11-9 Friday in an exhibition baseball game.

The Pirates out-hit the Senators 14-13, but the errors led to five unearned runs for the Nats.

The Pirates also hit four home runs, including two by Roberto Clemente. One of Clemente's homers and those of Bill Virdon and Dick Stuart were solo jobs.

Willie Tasby's three-run homer in the sixth inning put the Senators ahead to stay. Danny O'Connell, a former Pirate, also was a big man in the Senator offensive with three hits.

Another ex-pirate, Fred Green, pitched three innings and was credited with the victory.

Diomedes Olivo, the 42-year-old Pirate rookie, took the loss. He pitched three innings and gave up six runs, five unearned.

Cubs Blast Red Sox

These home runs accounted for all the Chicago scores. Altman cracked his eighth of the spring with a man on in the first inning. Santo's drive in the seventh also came off Bill Monbouquette, who gave up six hits in seven innings. Banks belted his sixth this spring with a man on off Mike Fornieles in the ninth.

Don Cardwell, warming up to pitch the opener for the Cubs at Houston on Tuesday, blanked the Sox with four hits through six innings.

Boston escaped a shutout by counting a run against Jack Warner in the eighth. Gary Geiger's single, Carl Yastrzemski's double and an infield out provided this.

The sox made nine hits, but stranded 11 base runners.

Braves Clip Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rookie Mac Jones' two-run pinch double in the ninth inning gave Milwaukee a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians Friday.

Jones, batting for winning pitcher Warren Spahn, connected against lefty Don Rudolph with three on and one out. Spahn and Barry Latman pitched the first eight innings.

Latman was removed after Joe Adcock led off the ninth with a single. Frank Funk entered, threw a wild pitch, gave up a single to Frank Bolling on which pinch-runner Rocky Krsnich stopped at third. Funk was yanked after walking Bob Eucker, loading the bases.

Jones then delivered against Rudolph.

A's Down Yanks

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John Wyatt, a 27-year-old rookie right-hander, limited the New York Yankees to five singles, three of them of the infield variety, as the Kansas City Athletics took a 3-2 decision Friday.

Mickey Mantle, back in the line-up after a week's absence with a sore knee and a cold, got two of the hits off Wyatt. The Yanks had a 2-1 lead until the eighth, when the A's got to Jim Bouton for three hits and two runs. Bouton relieved Whitey Ford after four, the Yankee southpaw having given up five hits but no runs.

Orioles Drop One

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The minor league Indianapolis Indians hit and pitched and ran like major leaguers and the Baltimore Orioles performed like something out of baseball fiction while absorbing a 9-1 drubbing from the American Association champion Friday.

The triple-A Indians clubbed Baltimore's veteran right-hander Skinny Brown, for 11 hits and all their runs in the opening four innings before Wes Stock came on to yield five singles over the remaining distance.

Chief among the Indianapolis blows were home runs by Jerry McNertney and Tony Roig; a triple by Harry Simpson, who also drilled a pair of singles; two doubles by Jim Koranda; and additional two baggers by Tom McCraw and Al Weis.

Home runs—Indianapolis, McNertney, Roig. Baltimore, Throneberry.

Dodgers, Giants Tie

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A two-run eighth-inning homer by Matty Alou created an 8-8 deadlock Friday in a curtailed exhibition game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants.

The final Cactus League game of the spring was called at the end of the eighth to permit both teams to catch planes, the Giants for Salt Lake City to play two weekend games with the Cleveland Indians and the Dodgers for San Diego to meet the Milwaukee Braves twice.

Juan Marichal, opening day pitcher for the Giants, appeared in his final tuneup and was belted for six runs on nine hits in the first two innings. Biggest of the blows were homers by Ron Fairly and Johnny Podres, who said his homer was the first he ever hit in league or exhibition play.

One run in the first off Podres and five in the fourth off Ed Roebuck, Podres' fourth-inning successor, tied the count 6-6. Felipe Alou's two-run homer, his ninth this spring, in the fourth climaxed that uprising.

Cards Cop Mets

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Held to one hit in five innnigs, the St. Louis Cardinals rallied for six hits and four runs in the sixth and beat the New York Mets 5-2 Friday.

It was announced Julio Gotay, young Cardinal shortstop, had won the Jim Bottomley Award as St. Louis rookie of the spring.

Angels Nip Colts

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Ken McBride, the mainstay of the Los Angeles Angels' pitching staff, came close to firing a three-hit shutout Friday, but needed relief to nip the Houston Colt 45s, 1-0.

Despite his ninth inning exit, McBride turned in a sparkling performance, holding the newly formed Houston club hitless through the first 7 1-3 innings. He issued four walks and fanned five.

Hal Smith finally broke McBride's magic spell with a double to left center in the eighth inning. Tom Morgan finished for the Angels.

The only run came as a result of an error. In the fourth inning Lee Thomas lined a double off Houston starter Bob Bruce. He advanced to third on an outfield fly and scored when first baseman Norm Larker booted a grounder by Bob Rodgers.

White Sox 8, Reds 4

MACON, Ga. (AP) —The Chicago White Sox knocked rookie Sam Ellis off the mound in a five-run first inning Friday as the American Leaguers beat the Cincinnati Reds 8-4 for the fifth straight time.

Ellis was the first of five Cincinnati pitchers in the game. He went to the showers shortly before the end of the 35-minute inning for walking a batter after five runs had scored. Louis Aparicio, the first Chicago batter, then hit into a force-out to end the inning.

The Reds got two runs in their half of the inning, one because White Sox pitcher Ray Herbert failed to back up third base on a high throw by Mike Hershberger.

Manager Al Lopez promptly replaced Herbert with Early Wynn who pitched six scoreless innings, holding the Reds to three singles. Nellie Fox led Chicago's 12-hit attack with three safeties.

Petras leads the Indians in runs scored with seven and triples with two.

TWINBILL WITH MCNEESE

Northeast To Open Home Baseball Campaign Today

The first of the two seven-inning games will begin at 1:30 p.m. on the Ouachita High diamond.

The Indian nine, 4-3 for the year, is 1-1 in GSC play, good for a tie for second place. McNeese, coached this year by successful basketball mentor Ralph Ward, has a 2-5 overall mark and a 1-3 record in the conference.

McNeese's baseballers have been in a slump lately and are batting only .197 going into today's games. Tribe Coach George Luffey has nominated righthander Bob Rachal of Alexandria to try to extend the McNeese slump in the first game and will come back with either Bobby Lockwood or Jerry Godwin in the second.

Sophomore Rachal is 1-0 for the season and has the best earned run average of any regular Indian moundsman, 1.85. He picked up his win with a 7-2 decision over Delta State and pitched relief in two other games.

Lockwood has pitched 24 2-3 innings, more than twice as many as any other hurler, and has a 2-2 record and 2.52 ERA. Godwin is 0-1, dropping a decision to Northwestern. Whoever does not pitch today will probably draw a starting assignment in Monday afternoon's doubleheader with Louisiana Tech, defending GSC champ, here.

McNeese's starters are likely to be juniors Jim Bischoff and Joe Kazmar, a couple of hard-throwing righthanders. Both are 0-2 for the season. Bischoff has a 2.87 ERA and Kazmar a 4.20 mark.

Northeast, batting a respectable .266, will probably have Bo Dick Smith behind the plate, Don Boniol on first, Eddie McGowan at second, Phil Petras at short and either Gary Fields or Charley Dykes at third.

John Pace, Bob Groves and Donnie Brunson will patrol the outfield.

Speedy leadoff man Eddie McGowan is hitting at a .296 clip, Smith has a .231 average, Petras has a .200 average with two tripies and seven runs scored, both marks high on the team, while Brunson is hitting .173, Fields .250 and Dykes .136.

Other Indians who may see action include infielders James Cromwell, Keith Prince, Ronnie Myrick, and Ronnie Graham, catcher Gladden Hearn and outfielders Don Senn, Larry McDonald and Dave McCarty.

McNeese has two players batting over .300, outfielder Ted Valley with a .313 mark and shortstop Dick Carr with a .304 average. Cowboy outfielder Lenny Kahn is hitting .375 in GSC competition.

Next week Northeast plays two crucial double - headers, the one here Monday against defending champ Louisiana Tech and another Saturday in Hammond against the current conference leader, Southwestern.

The Indians will meet Southwestern April 16 in Lafayette before opening play in the third annual Easter Tournament here April 19. Northwestern, Arkansas and Baylor are other Easter tourney teams.

A WILD TURKEY is the prize that J. C. Martin of Tallulah brought back from a hunt in Deshea County, Arkansas this week — a few days ahead of the Louisiana season, which opens for nine days today. Martin's gobbler is a big one — 24 pounds with a 55-inch wing spread and 10½-inch beard. Gobblers only are legal game during Louisiana's annual spring season.

IN BENEFIT MEET

Bastrop Boxers Beat Russellville

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

BASTROP — Bastrop boxers fought their way to victory in ten of 13 fights in a benefit card before a capacity crowd at the American Legion Club here last night.

The Bastrop boxers took six technical knockouts, three decisions and one KO in the meet held to finance a boys club here.

Boys from the visiting Russellville, Ark., Boys Club battled the locals to two draws and the Monroe YMCA registered one knockout.

Jim Bradley, a bruising 190 pounder, from the Monroe YMCA won the featured bout of the night by knocking out Bastrop's Bobby King in 1:30 of the first round. Bradley used a fast combination with both hands to quickly floor his 185 pound opponent.

Bastrop's Ronald Hickman, 135, defeated Gary Futch, of the Monroe YMCA with a second round TKO. Futch, in his first amateur fight was dropped for a mandatory eight count in the first round and Hickman came back to end the fight at 1:55 of the second. It was Hickman's 18th bout.

In another hard fought match, Dallas Deal, of Russellville and Lance Ragan of the Monroe YMCA fought to a draw. Deal dazed Ragan late in the first round but couldn't finish the job and Ragan hung on and wore out his Arkansas opponent in the third round.

In other bouts: Richard Books, 135, of Bastrop TKOed William Willcut, 134, of Russellville in 1:45 of the second round; David Haddock, 135, Bastrop, won a first round TKO over Bill Dunn, of Russellville in 45 seconds of the second round.

Cl yde Books, a 129 pounder of Bastrop, won a three round decision over Charles Willcutt of Russellville. J. R. Hemphill, 125 of Bastrop, won a TKO over Bobby Haynes, Russellville, in 1:50 of the opening round; Jimmy Blackman, 113 of Bastrop registered a TKO by stopping Russellville's George Young, also in 1:50 of the first round; B. B. Francois, 105 of Bastrop decisioned Junior Lafarette of Russellville after three close rounds and Robert Gentry, a 97 pounder from Bastrop dropped Danny Gibson, of Russellville for a full count, 45 seconds deep into the first round.

Bill McCoin of Bastrop and Martin Reeves of Russellville, both 85 pounders, fought a two round preliminary match and brothers Wayne and Bruce Cook, a pair of 40 pounders, slugged it out for two rounds in the night's opener.

Another fight card is set to come off in three weeks and a representative from the Boys Club of America is scheduled to meet with local fight enthusiasts here April 17 to lay plans for forming a club in Bastrop.

TO DEFEAT DOWNES

Pender Remains Tonight's Choice

By BOB HOBBING

BOSTON (AP) — Skillful Paul Pender remained an 8-5 favorite Friday to regain one version of the middleweight championship from Terry Downes, the bullish Briton, Saturday night at Boston Garden.

The scheduled 15-rounder is the pair's third title match. Pender split Downes' tender nose for multiple stitches and a seventh round technical knockout here 15 months ago.

The nationally televised bout (ABC-TV, 10 p.m., with Boston blacked out) has been touched by the shadow cast from Benny (Kid) Paret's death. Paret died Tuesday from injuries suffered in his title defense, knockout loss to Emile Griffith March 24.

PENDER		DOWNES
31	Age	25
x-160	Weight	x-160
5-11	Height	5-10
72	Reach	73½
37	Chest (normal)	38
39½	Chest (expanded)	41
16	Neck	16
31	Waist	32
21	Thigh	21½
14	Calf	14
13	Biceps	13
12½	Forearm	13
12	Fist	12
10	Ankle	10¼
8	Wrist	8¾

x-Exact weights will be announced at official weigh-in at noon, EST, Saturday.

The Massachusetts Boxing Commission, which will name the referee and two judges at fight time, is aware of a "ticklish situation" in which the referee can be neither too hasty nor too slow in stopping action if necessary.

Eight-ounce gloves will be used and the mandatory eight count on a knockdown, normally waived for title fights, will be in effect.

Ex-fireman Pender, whose 110 sparring rounds spell the most elaborate preparations of his career, expects to come in at the 160-pound limit. Downes, at 25, six years younger tha his foe, has his sights on 158.

Pender appears calm in a confident prediction of victory. He was scheduled to arrive from Manomet, Mass., site of his secluded training camp, late Friday night. Ring buffs say his celebrated left jab looks sharper than ever, his once-shattered right is bigorous and his determination exceptional.

Weigh-in—Noon, EST, Saturday, Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Rally Honors Go To Area Prep Teams

RUSTON (Special)—Byrd, Bastrop, Calhoun and Eros, High Schools all faired well in the North Louisiana Rally at Louisiana Tech Friday afternoon.

Bastrop High School won the golf championship of the North Louisiana Rally at Louisiana Tech Friday afternoon, but only 13 strokes separated the first and fifth place clubs as Dennis Schlegal of Bossier City shot a one over par 109 in the 27-hole tourney to be low medalist.

Rally golf director Huey Williamson said it was the closest finish in the tourney's history and the scores were the best despite it being a cold, windy day. The tourney was held at the Ruston Country Club.

Bastrop's 467 total was best, but Bossier City had 472, Neville of Monroe 474, Minden 479, Byrd of Shreveport, 480, North Caddo 508, Ruston 535, Plain Dealing 616. A required fourth man did not finish for Homer.

Schlegal was low medalist but he finished only one stroke ahead of Harry McInnis of Minden who shot a 110 and two-strokes ahead of Tom Kundinger of Bossier who shot a 111, as did Jim Warren of Bastrop.

The scoring included:

Minden (479) Harry McInnis, 110; George McInnis, 118; Stan Green 122, Charles Cox 129.

Plain Dealing (616) — Al Wyche, 124; Steve Walker, 162; Bruce Purcell, 164, and David Waggoner, 166.

William Marsalis of Byrd, who was not a member of the foursome, shot a 113 to rank fifth among the individual placers in the tourney.

The Calhoun girls toppled LaSalle of Olla in the finals 7-11, 13-4, 14-12 while in the only boys' action Eros downed Calhoun 15-4, 15-8.

In early action in girls' volleyball, Saline whipped Springhill 6-4, 10-3 before losing to Calhoun 15-6, 7-10, 10-8.

Calhoun disposed of Jonesboro-Hodge 15-1, 15-4, Athens 15-0, 13-11, and Saline to reach the finals.

In the lower bracket, Eros' girls defeated Downsville 15-2, 15-7 and Sikes 13-4, 7-9, 9-5 before losing to LaSalle.

LaSalle beat Shongaloo 8-10, 14-4, 14-5, and Eros 15-2, 15-3 to gain the finals.

In tennis action Byrd, of Shreveport, won three of the five divisions, Fair Park took one and one division, the mixed- doubles, remains to be completed.

Byrd took both the girls and boys singles and girls doubles action while Fair Park won the boys doubles.

Margaret Roemer and Danny Roemer, of Bossier City will meet Linda Hamel and Jack Wilkerson of Byrd in Shreveport today with the the winner facing Fair Park in the finals.

The summary:

Girls singles: Joy Anderson, Woodlawn defeated Jean Riley, Springhill, 6-1, 6-1.

Tech Golfers Rally For 12-6 Victory

Louisiana Tech rallied on the back nine to hand Northeast's golfers their first dual match defeat of the season at Bayou DeSiard Country Club here yesterday, 12-6.

Northeast led at the turn of the front nine before Tech, defending Gulf States Conference champions pulled ahead on the way in to win its fourth straight dual match of the season.

Tech's Jimmy Paul, playing number four, was the match's medalist, shooting a one-over-par 71 on the wet course. Gene Adams, Northeast's number four golfer, and Roy Pace of Tech came in with 72's.

Northeast's Jim Harper was two-up on Tech's Joe Thomas in the number one match, Ken Renwick of the Indians was one-up on Tech's Lynn Fuller in the number three pairing and the team of Harper and Glen Walker was leading the Thomas - Pace team two up at the end of the front nine while one singles and one doubles match was tied and Pace lead Northeast's Walker two-up.

On the second nine, however, Thomas bettered Harper to win the match two-up and score two points to Harper's one. Pace continued his mastery over Walker to win four-up on the full 18 and hand the young Northeast freshman his first dual match defeat of the year.

The summary:

Roy Pace (Tech), 36-36—72 to defeat Northeast's Glen Walker 38-38—76, 3-0.

Thomas-Pace beat Harper-Walker, 2-1.

Fuller - Paul beat Renwick - Adams, 2½-½.

SPRINGTIME OPTIMISM?

Tappe Says Cubs Better This Year

By SCOTT BAILLIE

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Springtime optimism, that heady brew which annually leaves the Chicago Cubs nursing a hangover, has their training camp jumping as usual.

"Yes, we'll definitely be better this season," says Elvin Tappe, the head coach of a team that heads into its second season without a manager as such. "We feel that we are stronger. Our pitching staff has been knocked around plenty in recent years and should be ready to take charge."

There has been some considerable overhauling as the Cubs seek to improve on last year's seventh place finish and regain the first division for the first time since 1946.

Ernie Banks, a Bruin great, has been shifted from shortstop to first base on a full time basis. Andre Rodgers, who failed to take the shortstop job when with the New York and San Francisco Giants, once again is number one man for the post.

Two defensive gaps were ripped into the club with the sale of center fielder Richie Ashburn to the New York Mets and the trade that sent second baseman Jerry Kindall to Cleveland in exchange for pitcher Bobby Locke. But the team's board of strategists think that Chicago came out on top.

"We have two good kids—Danny Murphy and Lou Brock—battling for center field," Tappe observes. "I won't comment on the report that Murphy signed for a $125,000 bonus. But I do know that a few days later we could have sold him for double what we paid him.

"Ken Hubbs, who has the inside track for second base, could become another all time Cub great" Tappe added.

The more cynical, however, might regard the Cubs as being something of a question mark up the middle but strong on the flanks.

At first base there is Banks and —as coach and vice president Charlie Grimm puts it—"we need his bat in the lineup. He'll make a good first baseman but I hope he learns to holler a little more."

Plenty of the latter commodity, plus another solid bat, is provided at third base by Ron Santo. Then in left field there is silent Billy Williams, who won the National League's rookie of the year award for 1961.

The Cubs have a good collection of hurlers even if the staff did lead the National League in hits allowed last year. Glen Hobbie (7-13) is pronounced cured of a back ailment. Don Cardwell (15-14 and 259 innings pitched) has announced that he is aiming for 20 wins this season. Pitching coach Vedie Himsel feels that lefty Dick Ellsworth (10-11) has acquired the maturity to become a winner.

Jack Curtis (10-13) also is expected to have a good campaign in his second big league year. Bob Anderson and Don Elston, the latter all cured of a sore elbow, have been regarded as two of the toughest relief pitchers in the league.

Tappe and Co. seem to have three good catchers who have been used pretty much in rotation —Sam Taylor, Cuno Barragan and Moe Thacker.

Elder White, Jim McKnight and Daryl Robertson are rookies who could provide added infield insurance and Bob Will, a solid utility man, has proven his value as a pinch hitter.

"We're on the upgrade," says Grimm. "And the kids are coming along fast thanks to the instructional program we have started on the farm clubs. This year we will be a good, interesting team."

BASTROP — Bastrop boxers fought their way to victory in ten of 13 fights in a benefit card before a capacity crowd at the American Legion Club here last night.

The Bastrop boxers took six technical knockouts, three decisions and one KO in the meet held to finance a boys club here.

Boys from the visiting Russellville, Ark., Boys Club battled the locals to two draws and the Monroe YMCA registered one knockout.

Jim Bradley, a bruising 190 pounder, from the Monroe YMCA won the featured bout of the night by knocking out Bastrop's Bobby King in 1:30 of the first round. Bradley used a fast combination with both hands to quickly floor his 185 pound opponent.

Bastrop's Ronald Hickman, 135, defeated Gary Futch, of the Monroe YMCA with a second round TKO. Futch, in his first amateur fight was dropped for a mandatory eight count in the first round and Hickman came back to end the fight at 1:55 of the second. It was Hickman's 18th bout.

In another hard fought match, Dallas Deal, of Russellville and Lance Ragan of the Monroe YMCA fought to a draw. Deal dazed Ragan late in the first round but couldn't finish the job and Ragan hung on and wore out his Arkansas opponent in the third round.

In other bouts: Richard Books, 135, of Bastrop TKOed William Willcut, 134, of Russellville in 1:45 of the second round; David Haddock, 135, Bastrop, won a first round TKO over Bill Dunn, of Russellville in 45 seconds of the second round.

Cl yde Books, a 129 pounder of Bastrop, won a three round decision over Charles Willcutt of Russellville. J. R. Hemphill, 125 of Bastrop, won a TKO over Bobby Haynes, Russellville, in 1:50 of the opening round; Jimmy Blackman, 113 of Bastrop registered a TKO by stopping Russellville's George Young, also in 1:50 of the first round; B. B. Francois, 105 of Bastrop decisioned Junior Lafarette of Russellville after three close rounds and Robert Gentry, a 97 pounder from Bastrop dropped Danny Gibson, of Russellville for a full count, 45 seconds deep into the first round.

Bill McCoin of Bastrop and Martin Reeves of Russellville, both 85 pounders, fought a two round preliminary match and brothers Wayne and Bruce Cook, a pair of 40 pounders, slugged it out for two rounds in the night's opener.

Another fight card is set to come off in three weeks and a representative from the Boys Club of America is scheduled to meet with local fight enthusiasts here April 17 to lay plans for forming a club in Bastrop.

Neville Wins Track Relays In Jonesboro

JONESBORO (Special) Neville High School of Monroe finished first in the Jonesboro Relays here Friday with 89½ points, well ahead of their nearest competitor, West Monroe who finished with a total of 66¾.

TO DEFEAT DOWNES

Pender Remains Tonight's Choice

By BOB HOBBING

BOSTON (AP) — Skillful Paul Pender remained an 8-5 favorite Friday to regain one version of the middleweight championship from Terry Downes, the bullish Briton, Saturday night at Boston Garden.

The scheduled 15-rounder is the pair's third title match. Pender split Downes' tender nose for multiple stitches and a seventh round technical knockout here 15 months ago.

The nationally televised bout (ABC-TV, 10 p.m., with Boston blacked out) has been touched by the shadow cast from Benny x-Exact weights will be announced at official weigh-in at noon, EST, Saturday.

(Kid) Paret's death. Paret died Tuesday from injuries suffered in his title defense, knockout loss to Emile Griffith March 24.

The Massachusetts Boxing Commission, which will name the referee and two judges at fight time, is aware of a "ticklish situation" in which the referee can be neither too hasty nor too slow in stopping action if necessary.

Eight-ounce gloves will be used and the mandatory eight count on a knockdown, normally waived for title fights, will be in effect.

Ex-fireman Pender, whose 110 sparring rounds spell the most elaborate preparations of his career, expects to come in at the 160-pound limit. Downes, at 25, six years younger tha his foe, has his sights on 158.

Pender appears calm in a confident prediction of victory. He was scheduled to arrive from Manomet, Mass., site of his secluded training camp, late Friday night. Ring buffs say his celebrated left jab looks sharper than ever, his once-shattered right is bigorous and his determination exceptional.

Rally Honors Go To Area Prep Teams

RUSTON (Special)—Byrd, Bastrop, Calhoun and Eros, High Schools all faired well in the North Louisiana Rally at Louisiana Tech Friday afternoon.

Bastrop High School won the golf championship of the North Louisiana Rally at Louisiana Tech Friday afternoon, but only 13 strokes separated the first and fifth place clubs as Dennis Schlegal of Bossier City shot a one over par 109 in the 27-hole tourney to be low medalist.

Rally golf director Huey Williamson said it was the closest finish in the tourney's history and the scores were the best despite it being a cold, windy day. The tourney was held at the Ruston Country Club.

Bastrop's 467 total was best, but Bossier City had 472, Neville of Monroe 474, Minden 479, Byrd of Shreveport, 480, North Caddo 508, Ruston 535, Plain Dealing 616. A required fourth man did not finish for Homer.

Schlegal was low medalist but he finished only one stroke ahead of Harry McInnis of Minden who shot a 110 and two-strokes ahead of Tom Kundinger of Bossier who shot a 111, as did Jim Warren of Bastrop.

The scoring included:

Minden (479) Harry McInnis, 110; George McInnis, 118; Stan Green 122, Charles Cox 129.

Plain Dealing (616) — Al Wyche, 124; Steve Walker, 162; Bruce Purcell, 164, and David Waggoner, 166.

William Marsalis of Byrd, who was not a member of the foursome, shot a 113 to rank fifth among the individual placers in the tourney.

The Calhoun girls toppled LaSalle of Olla in the finals 7-11, 13-4, 14-12 while in the only boys' action Eros downed Calhoun 15-4, 15-8.

In early action in girls' volleyball, Saline whipped Springhill 6-4, 10-3 before losing to Calhoun 15-6, 7-10, 10-8.

Calhoun disposed of Jonesboro-Hodge 15-1, 15-4, Athens 15-0, 13-11, and Saline to reach the finals.

In the lower bracket, Eros' girls defeated Downsville 15-2, 15-7 and Sikes 13-4, 7-9, 9-5 before losing to LaSalle.

LaSalle beat Shongaloo 8-10, 14-4, 14-5, and Eros 15-2, 15-3 to gain the finals.

In tennis action Byrd, of Shreveport, won three of the five divisions, Fair Park took one and one division, the mixed- doubles, remains to be completed.

Byrd took both the girls and boys singles and girls doubles action while Fair Park won the boys doubles.

Margaret Roemer and Danny Roemer, of Bossier City will meet Linda Hamel and Jack Wilkerson of Byrd in Shreveport today with the the winner facing Fair Park in the finals.

The summary:

Tech Golfers Rally For 12-6 Victory

Louisiana Tech rallied on the back nine to hand Northeast's golfers their first dual match defeat of the season at Bayou DeSiard Country Club here yesterday, 12-6.

Northeast led at the turn of the front nine before Tech, defending Gulf States Conference champions pulled ahead on the way in to win its fourth straight dual match of the season.

Tech's Jimmy Paul, playing number four, was the match's medalist, shooting a one-over-par 71 on the wet course. Gene Adams, Northeast's number four golfer, and Roy Pace of Tech came in with 72's.

Northeast's Jim Harper was two-up on Tech's Joe Thomas in the number one match, Ken Renwick of the Indians was one-up on Tech's Lynn Fuller in the number three pairing and the team of Harper and Glen Walker was leading the Thomas - Pace team two up at the end of the front nine while one singles and one doubles match was tied and Pace lead Northeast's Walker two-up.

On the second nine, however, Thomas bettered Harper to win the match two-up and score two points to Harper's one. Pace continued his mastery over Walker to win four-up on the full 18 and hand the young Northeast freshman his first dual match defeat of the year.

The summary:

Roy Pace (Tech), 36-36—72 to defeat Northeast's Glen Walker 38-38—76, 3-0.

Thomas-Pace beat Harper-Walker, 2-1.

Fuller - Paul beat Renwick - Adams, 2½-½.

SPRINGTIME OPTIMISM?

Tappe Says Cubs Better This Year

By SCOTT BAILLIE

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Springtime optimism, that heady brew which annually leaves the Chicago Cubs nursing a hangover, has their training camp jumping as usual.

"Yes, we'll definitely be better this season," says Elvin Tappe, the head coach of a team that heads into its second season without a manager as such. "We feel that we are stronger. Our pitching staff has been knocked around plenty in recent years and should be ready to take charge."

There has been some considerable overhauling as the Cubs seek to improve on last year's seventh place finish and regain the first division for the first time since 1946.

Ernie Banks, a Bruin great, has been shifted from shortstop to first base on a full time basis. Andre Rodgers, who failed to take the shortstop job when with the New York and San Francisco Giants, once again is number one man for the post.

Two defensive gaps were ripped into the club with the sale of center fielder Richie Ashburn to the New York Mets and the trade that sent second baseman Jerry Kindall to Cleveland in exchange for pitcher Bobby Locke. But the team's board of strategists think that Chicago came out on top.

"We have two good kids—Danny Murphy and Lou Brock—battling for center field," Tappe observes. "I won't comment on the report that Murphy signed for a $125,000 bonus. But I do know that a few days later we could have sold him for double what we paid him.

"Ken Hubbs, who has the inside track for second base, could become another all time Cub great" Tappe added.

The more cynical, however, might regard the Cubs as being something of a question mark up the middle but strong on the flanks.

At first base there is Banks and—as coach and vice president Charlie Grimm puts it—"we need his bat in the lineup. He'll make a good first baseman but I hope he learns to holler a little more."

Plenty of the latter commodity, plus another solid bat, is provided at third base by Ron Santo. Then in left field there is silent Billy Williams, who won the National League's rookie of the year award for 1961.

The Cubs have a good collection of hurlers even if the staff did lead the National League in hits allowed last year. Glen Hobbie (7-13) is pronounced cured of a back ailment. Don Cardwell (15-14 and 259 innings pitched) has announced that he is aiming for 20 wins this season. Pitching coach Vedie Himsel feels that lefty Dick Ellsworth (10-11) has acquired the maturity to become a winner.

Jack Curtis (10-13) also is expected to have a good campaign in his second big league year. Bob Anderson and Don Elston, the latter all cured of a sore elbow, have been regarded as two of the toughest relief pitchers in the league.

Tappe and Co. seem to have three good catchers who have been used pretty much in rotation—Sam Taylor, Cuno Barragan and Moe Thacker.

Elder White, Jim McKnight and Daryl Robertson are rookies who could provide added infield insurance and Bob Will, a solid utility man, has proven his value as a pinch hitter.

"We're on the upgrade," says Grimm. "And the kids are coming along fast thanks to the instructional program we have started on the farm clubs. This year we will be a good, interesting team."

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

You really solved my problem of taking mildew off the grout between tiles in the bathroom. Please repeat it for my friends . . . and I feel that the friends who write to you are mine too.

Carol Scott

Dear Carol:

You are just one of us! All of us gals are bosom friends.

Take pure household bleach and make thin paste out of it by adding scouring cleanser such as we use on our bathtubs and kitchen sinks.

Apply this paste with an old sponge and wipe it all over the tile in the bath and shower. FORGET it for a few hours! Let it dry!

When you take your shower or bath . . . rinse the dried paste off the wall then! Not before. Let it stay a few hours.

And gals, I know you have tried bleach and scouring powder, but MIX 'em together and apply then, let dry and rinse off. Test it yourself!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Did you know you can buy greenish tomatoes from the store and place one or two in your kitchen window in the sun for a few days and they would taste more like vine - ripe tomatoes?

Louise Roe

Dear Heloise:

I bought some of those colored markers at the dime store. I find these invaluable for my five pre - school children. I bought five colors and each child marks his own clothes with a dot of his particular color.

When sorting the laundry . . . I now just look for that dot of color on the toes of sox, underwear, etc., and pile all of one color together. I also put a corresponding color inside each child's drawer. When the drawer is opened the dot on the clothes matches the dot on the inside of the drawer. This way the children's clothes don't get mixed up and they can find their own.

Mildred Hepper

Dear Heloise:

Does anyone know now to get the mildew off of leather? I have it on shoes, belts and the inside of my husband's hat bands.

I am well aware that a light globe in the closet keeps the mildew from forming but after we installed light globes, I found all this growth of fungus on many things.

Please, someone let us know if they have ever found the answer. I will be looking for it in this column.

Grateful Sue

Dear Heloise:

Tell the gals not to throw that dab of spaghetti and sauce away that is left over from dinner. Mix them together and pour in an ice tray from the refrigerator, which has been lined with foil. Then freeze.

In a few days, you may find you are hungry for something for lunch besides a cup of coffee and a peanut butter sandwich. remove the slab of frozen spaghetti and run water over it. It will thaw immediately. Place in a pan and heat, stir occasionally.

This is so much better for women (especially on laundry days when we use so much energy) than cold lunches and you use only one pan.

I have even put the complete frozen slab of spaghetti (still in the foil wrapper) on the center shelf of my oven and heated it that way.

Always put a piece of buttered bread in the oven when you do it this way. Makes the lunch more complete.

This works for working wives, too. Make two slabs of spaghetti and remove from the freezer before going to work. Roll in newspaper. It will thaw slowly and be ready for heating upon your arrival home.

Courtesies Extended To Visitors

The visit in the city this week of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kynock and children, Rusty, Mary Anne, Terry, and Judy, of Winnetka, Illinois, was occasion for several courtesies being extended. The Kynocks are guests in the home of Mr. Charles E. Wilds.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Godwin were hosts at a small dinner party honoring the visitors. Yellow lilies in a white vase centered the dining table, and the guest list was composed of Mr and Mrs. Kynock, their daughter, Judy, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, of Perryville.

LUNCHEON

Mrs. D. Y. Smith was hostess for a luncheon honoring Mrs. Kynock at 12:30 on Wednesday, at Bayou DeSiard Country Club. White tulips and bridal wreath in a silver bowl centered the table, and sharing the occasion with Mrs. Smith and the honoree were Mrs. J. B. Johnston, Mrs. J. W. Perry, Mrs. Joe Goyne, Mrs. Lee Vanderpool, Mrs. Bert Sperry and Mrs. A. L. Smith.

DINNER PARTY

Bayou DeSiard Country Club was the setting for a small dinner party on Wednesday evening at 7:00 p.m. Hosts were Mrs. Kynock's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edwards.

Sharing the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Kynock, Rusty and Terry Kynock, Dr and Mrs. Charles Wilds Jr., Mr. Charles Wilds, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards.

LaVingt Club Meets With Mrs. Ritter

The regular meeting of the LaVingt Club was held in the home of Mrs. L. D. Ritter on Wednesday when the speaker was Mrs. Audrey Dawson, HD Agent.

An arrangement of white azaleas and spirea in a crystal bowl was used on the mantel in the living room and a similar arrangement with white grapes was used on the dining table. Also placed at vantage points were some of Mrs. Ritter's collection of African violets.

In the absence of the president, the vice - president, Mrs. Ralph Caldwell presided over the business meeting and a trip to Hodges' Gardens was planned in place of the next meeting.

Mrs. Dawson spoke on "Decorating with Color in Home."

Refreshments were served to Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. S. E. Burgoyne, Mrs. J. T. Conger, Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, Mrs. William Wilkerson, Mrs. Dan Bivens, Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. William Crow, Mrs. E. C. Brimberry, Mrs. A. Petrus and Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt.

Beta Sigma Phi Members Plan Founders' Banquet

Members of Beta Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Thursday night in St. Paul's Methodist Church.

During the business session, Mrs. B. J. Hammock was elected corresponding secretary for the ensuing year, and the state convention to be held in Lafayette June 1, 2, 3 was discussed. A letter was also read from the News Bureau director at Northeast Louisiana State College, inviting the group to attend a Publications Workshop at the college on May 4 and 5.

The service committee will submit the name of a senior girl for whom the chapter will purchase graduation clothes as a project of the year, at the next meeting.

Plans will also be completed at the next meeting for Founder's Day banquet to be held April 30. Workers packets for the house to house canvass drive for funds for the American Cancer Society were distributed. The drive will begin Monday, April 9.

A social hour followed the program given by Mrs. Norman H. Smith, during which the hostess gift was won by Mrs. Carl Johnson. Mrs. Alvis Gossett and Mrs. Myrtle Groves were hostesses and served a sandwich course from a linen - covered table, centered with a bowl of spring flowers.

Those present were Mrs. E. H. Bailey, Mrs. Jim Files, Mrs. Gossett, Mrs. Groves, Mrs. Walter Hinckley, Mrs. V. A. Hubka, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Joe Lister, Miss Gyl Rowell, Mrs. Robert Schott, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Roger Somsen, and the sponsor, Mrs. A. B. Johnson.

Paris Designer Advises Film Star On Dress

PARIS (AP) — Brigitte Bardot, famous for being undressed, got a lesson the other day on being well dressed.

B. B. dropped in at Coco Chanel's fashion house off the Place Vendome and wanted a gown for a film premiere. The sex kitten purred:

"It must be satin, black and long."

"No, my dear, it must not," said Coco, casting an experienced eye over the famous Bardot frame. "What you want is an ethereal creation of black muslin." Coco continued:

"My dear, what you have best is your legs. Satin would hide them but the muslin is transparent enough for the legs to show.'

Bardot, who usually has her own dressmaker, accepted Coco's advice. But she wanted a black camellia to wear in her hair with the dress. Coco put down her foot:

"No — you can still play Ophelia, but not yet Lady Macbeth."

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:
You really solved my problem of taking mildew off the grout between tiles in the bathroom. Please repeat it for my friends . . . and I feel that the friends who write to you are mine too.
Carol Scott

Dear Carol:
You are just one of us! All of us gals are bosom friends.

Take pure household bleach and make thin paste out of it by adding scouring cleanser such as we use on our bathtubs and kitchen sinks.

Apply this paste with an old sponge and wipe it all over the tile in the bath and shower. FORGET it for a few hours! Let it dry!

When you take your shower or bath . . . rinse the dried paste off the wall then! Not before. Let it stay a few hours.

And gals, I know you have tried bleach and scouring powder, but MIX 'em together and apply them, let dry and rinse off. Test it yourself!
Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Did you know you can buy greenish tomatoes from the store and place one or two in your kitchen window in the sun for a few days and they would taste more like vine - ripe tomatoes?
Louise Roe

Dear Heloise:
I bought some of those colored markers at the dime store. I find these invaluable for my five pre - school children. I bought five colors and each child marks his own clothes with a dot of his particular color.

When sorting the laundry . . . I now just look for that dot of color on the toes of sox, underwear, etc., and pile all of one color together. I also put a corresponding color inside each child's drawer. When the drawer is opened the dot on the clothes matches the dot on the inside of the drawer. This way the children's clothes don't get mixed up and they can find their own.
Mildred Hepper

Dear Heloise:

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 years old and unmarried. I don't care if you call me an "Unclaimed Treasure" or an Old Maid. My complaint is that I have bought countless gifts for bridal showers and baby showers with no hope of getting anything back. Why doesn't the government declare OLD MAID'S DAY so girls like me can get even?

GIFT GIVER

DEAR GIVER: A beautiful idea. Write to your Congressman!

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a family of 5 girls and 3 boys (all married with nice homes) who stick one brother with their 80-year-old father? He has made his home with us for 12 years. I am the "good" daughter-in-law. ("Sap" would be more like it.) He used to work part time, but now he is unable to work and is under my feet all day and all night. We asked if some of the others would take him for a few weeks and they flatly refused. I never have a free moment. He is in the living room 14 hours a day. He takes several naps every day but always on the living room sofa. I am ready for a nervous breakdown. Can you blame me?

HAD MY FILL

DEAR HAD: (And you were.) Since the father is your husband's, the problem should be handled by him. Your husband should gather his brothers and sisters together and ANNOUNCE that they are just as responsible for the care of their father as he is. There are enough of them to pitch in and give him all the conforts of a nice home. If they refuse to take him into their homes.

DEAR ABBY: If you are at a restaurant and someone stops by your table to say hello, but stands there and talks while your food is on the table, are you supposed to (1) go right on eating? (2) stop and let your food get cold?

VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: If the person says more than hello and it looks like a long siege, invite him to sit down and say, "My food was just served and I would like to eat it while it's hot — I hope you won't mind." If this doesn't make him disappear, nothing will.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is in her second year of college. Her favorite outfit is a pair of faded blue jeans (cut off just below the knee with the edges left ragged), an old beat-up sweat shirt (in the largest size she could find) and a pair of disreputable tennis shoes with broken laces.

She goes around like this everywhere, except to classes (which they would not allow) and on dates. I'm sick and tired of seeing her look so sloppy and I've told her so. The slovenly dress habits she is developing now could drive a man to drink, later.

Her excuse is, "It's comfortable and I don't care how it looks." Please tell me what to do. — BIRMINGHAM MOTHER

Dear Mother: The sloppy look is part of gung ho college life on some campuses. It is seeded in rebellion and nurtured in the soil of independence.

My advice is to play blind and mute. "And this, too, shall pass."

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from the young girl who had epilepsy and refused to take her medication. I, too, began seizures in my late teens and I earnestly hope this girl develops some understanding of her illness because ignorance is her major handicap.

I remember how stubborn I was about taking medicine. It was, in a sense, my refusal to accept the fact that I was not "like everyone else." Now I know that epilepsy is ten times more common than polio. I know, too, that epilepsy has nothing to do with insanity, intelligence or being possessed by the devil. It is not inherited. It is not contagious. It is not fatal. And it is rarely handicapping.

I am now 41, married to a fine man and we have three children. I've been driving a car for five years and my illness does not limit me in any way. Medication has made a normal life possible.

I hope the father of this girl will contact the local epilepsy agency. If there is none, he can write to The United Epilepsy Association, 113 West 57th Street, New York 19, New York. If the girl is mildly receptive, the literature they provide will do the rest. — MRS. M. J. OF BAKERSFIELD

Dear Ann: I had a child out of wedlock before I met my husband. I gave this child to my brother and his wife. They legally adopted him and he is the light of their life. Before we married I told my husband about this child and he asked me to get my boy back. I refused, saying I had a moral obligation to stick to my decision. I thought that ended it.

We now have a baby of our own but my husband is still not satisfied. He tells me either I get the boy back or he will leave me. Every argument ends up the same way. He promises me if I do as he says we will never have any trouble again.

I need your advice fast. — S. L. O.

Dear S. L. O.: Your husband probably wants to leave and is looking for an excuse. If you do this terrible thing he'll find another reason to leave.

Tell him the decision to give the boy up was yours and it has nothing to do with him. He has no right to ask you to try to unwind it.

Confidential to NO OIL PAINTING: So what? Where did you get the notion that beauty guarantees a prompt (or sober) homecoming? All you have to do is look at the marital records of some of Hollywood's most glamorous queens.

If alcohol is robbing your or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Real Estate Transfers

Charles D. Hill sold to Allen Alfonso Calhoun lot 34 of unit 1 of the Lincoln Park Subdivision in the west half of the northwest quarter of section 17, township 17 north, range 4 east, for $300 cash and assumption of a mortgage in the original sum of $10,000.

William E. and Rita Grace Andine Bradley, Jr., sold to the Buffalo Savings Bank lot 17 of block 76-A of the Ouachita Cotton Mill's Second Addition to Monroe for surrender and cancellation of a mortgage for $7,850.

The Buffalo Savings Bank sold to the Federal Housing Commissioner the above lot for $1,774.55.

J. E. Gross sold to Leon Milton Gewin lot in the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 21, township 18 north, range 1 east, for $250.

Community Homes, Inc., sold to Willie H. Hines lot 14 of block 12 of the Roosevelt Heights Addition for $11,250.

Mrs. Bessie M. Jones sold to J. M. Jones Lbr. Co., Inc., all her interest in the west half of the southeast quarter of section 24, township 16 north, range 4 east and property in various other parishes in Louisiana for 1802.75 shares of common capital stock.

J. Newton Jones, et al sold to J. M. Jones Lbr. Co., Inc., all their interest in the west half of the southeast quarter of section 25, township 16 north, range 4 east and other property in Louisiana for 1865 shares of common stock.

Mrs. Pearl Fennell Bower sold to Jewel M. McGough lot 27 of block 2 of the subdivision of portions of the Fennell Estate south of DeSiard Road for $2,350.

High Fashion Now Invades Children's Wear

The spring season's image in children's clothes depends largely on a new feeling that children are first-class fashion citizens, entitled to all the design innovations and elegance that their mamas merit. For instance, there is a new crop of wardrobe-oriented ensembles literally made for each other, yet each piece outstanding enough to travel on its own. Dressmakers are making like big-time couturiers by including go-with coats, jackets, sometimes even sportswear items.

This summary of spring fashion trends for little girls is based on reviews of manufacturers' collections by the fashion editors of Women's Wear Daily.

Jackets, any length, over no-sleeve dresses are newly popular. Princess flares, simple shapes, the less decoration the better, are major dress features. Capes are creeping up. Low waists are popular with the 7-14 crowd, while tots still get the smock treatment.

High-fashion excitement has generated into the far reaches of the play wear field, where once the T-shirt and blue jeans reigned supreme. St. Tro-pants with bare midriff tops are zingiest of the new children's sportswear species. More demure moppets can romp in bubble beach tops, slithery or stand-away sports dresses, or in sweatshirts, revitalized by braid trimming, bold colors, to-the-knee lenghts.

Coat manufacturers have moved out to the new fashion frontier with seamed-to-shape coats that no longer square, but pare, a little girl to timely femininity. Spring coats have modified flares, be they from shoulder, ribcage or hip. Capes, cutaway jackets, demi-fit lines give the whole spring suit picture a shot in the arm.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 years old and unmarried. I don't care if you call me an "Unclaimed Treasure" or an Old Maid. My complaint is that I have bought countless gifts for bridal showers and baby showers with no hope of getting anything back. Why doesn't the government declare OLD MAID'S DAY so girls like me can get even?

GIFT GIVER

DEAR GIVER: A beautiful idea. Write to your Congressman!

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a family of 5 girls and 3 boys (all married with nice homes) who stick one brother with their 80-year-old father? He has made his home with us for 12 years. I am the "good" daughter - in - law. ("Sap" would be more like it.) He used to work part time, but now he is unable to work and is under my feet all day and all night. We asked if some of the others would take him for a few weeks and they flatly refused. I never have a free moment. He is in the living room 14 hours a day. He takes several naps every day but always on the living room sofa. I am ready for a nervous breakdown. Can you blame me?

HAD MY FILL

DEAR HAD: (And you were.) Since the father is your husband's, the problem should be handled by him. Your husband should gather his brothers and sisters together and ANNOUNCE that they are just as responsible for the care of their father as he is. There are enough of them to pitch in and give him all the conforts of a nice home, if they refuse to take him into their homes.

DEAR ABBY: If you are at a restaurant and someone stops by your table to say hello, but stands there and talks while your food is on the table, are you supposed to (1) go right on eating? (2) stop and let your food get cold?

VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: If the person says more than hello and it looks like a long siege, invite him to sit down and say, "My food was just served and I would like to eat it while it's hot — I hope you won't mind." If this doesn't make him disappear, nothing will.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

She goes around like this everywhere, except to classes (which they would not allow) and on dates. I'm sick and tired of seeing her look so sloppy and I've told her so. The slovenly dress habits she is developing now could drive a man to drink, later.

Her excuse is, "It's comfortable and I don't care how it looks." Please tell me what to do. — BIRMINGHAM MOTHER

Dear Mother: The sloppy look is part of gung ho college life on some campuses. It is seeded in rebellion and nurtured in the soil of independence.

My advice is to play blind and mute. "And this, too, shall pass."

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from the young girl who had epilepsy and refused to take her medication. I, too, began seizures in my late teens and I earnestly hope this girl develops some understanding of her illness because ignorance is her major handicap.

I remember how stubborn I was about taking medicine. It was, in a sense, my refusal to accept the fact that I was not "like everyone else." Now I know that epilepsy is ten times more common than polio. I know, too, that epilepsy has nothing to do with insanity, intelligence or being possessed by the devil. It is not inherited. It is not contagious. It is not fatal. And it is rarely handicapping.

I am now 41, married to a fine man and we have three children. I've been driving a car for five years and my illness does not limit me in any way. Medication has made a normal life possible.

I hope the father of this girl will contact the local epilepsy agency. If there is none, he can write to The United Epilepsy Association, 113 West 57th Street, New York 19, New York. If the girl is mildly receptive, the literature they provide will do the rest. — MRS. M. J. OF BAKERSFIELD

Dear Ann: I had a child out of wedlock before I met my husband. I gave this child to my brother and his wife. They legally adopted him and he is the light of their life. Before we married I told my husband about this child and he asked me to get my boy back. I refused, saying I had a moral obligation to stick to my decision. I thought that ended it.

We now have a baby of our own but my husband is still not satisfied. He tells me either I get the boy back or he will leave me. Every argument ends up the same way. He promises me if I do as he says we will never have any trouble again.

Dear S. L. O.: Your husband probably wants to leave and is looking for an excuse. If you do this terrible thing he'll find another reason to leave.

Tell him the decision to give the boy up was yours and it has nothing to do with him. He has no right to ask you to try to unwind it.

Secretaries Seminar Set Here Today

A unique panel discussion will be spotlighted during the morning session of a secretarial seminar of this area of the National Secretaries Association beginning today at the Virginia Hotel. The Ouachita Chapter of NSA is the hostess chapter.

On the panel for the discussion, "Secretaries On the Spot," will be Fifth District Judge Mack Barham and Robert S. Smith, both representing management; Mrs. Sue Franklin and Miss Gwen Mayor of Alexandria, speaking on the secretary's behalf.

Speaking at 9:30 a.m. will be Mrs. Edna Roop of "Walk Worthy of Your Profession." Mrs. Roop is the executive secretary to the Caddo Parish Sheriff in Shreveport. She is also engaged as part-time tour conductor and travel agent. Having made five trips to Europe and usuually conducting a tour, she is planning a jaunt to the Orient in August of this year.

WIDE KNOWLEDGE

Through this travel, she has attained a wide knowledge of history of countries visited and cultural background of art and literature, as well as the economic and social background of these places. Her success in the secretarial field and general knowledge of the world certainly qualifies Mrs. Roop to speak on the main subject of professional secretaries.

During the afternoon session, Navon O. Couvillon of Baton Rouge, will present a program on "Forms Control and Paperwork simplification." Mr. Couvillon has worked in Europe and Persia on a paperwork simplification mission with the International Oil Consortium and has appeared before many federal agencies, schools and management organizations in the United States, Middle East and England.

General seminar chairman is Mrs. Jessica Lawn. Committee chairman are Mrs. Joe Dodson, program chairman; Mrs. Frank Boyd, registration; Mrs. Ryder Gore, folders; Mrs. Bryant King, exhibits; Miss Naomi Campbell, education booth; Mrs. Edward Smith, door prizes; Mrs. Helen Bird, painting; Mrs. Fred Lafferty, decorations; Mrs. Percy Raybourn, mailing; Mrs. John Davis, favors, and Mrs. A. D. Foreman, publicity.

Union Official Tells Senators Of Phone Taps

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Teamsters union official told senators Friday he often is forced to use outside pay telephones for confidential calls because of wiretaps on his office phone.

Sidney Zagri, Teamsters legislative counsel, said it was common to find wiretaps on phones in the big office building of the international union located near Capitol Hill.

Zagri said he had not complained to authorities about the alleged wiretapping because legal counsel had advised him there was "very little that I can do" about them.

Asked if he thought the taps were operated by the FBI or other federal officials on the orders of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Zagri replied: "I can't conceive of anyone else."

He said it was possible that even the telephones of Union President James R. Hoffa were tapped.

Zagri appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee to testify on legislation endorsed by the attorney general to permit wiretapping, under court orders, for certain limited major crimes.

"Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword" (Matt. 10:34). Strange and jarring words these are from him whom we call "The Prince of Peace."

We so dislike conflict that we will compromise convictions, or lie, or do things that we really don't want to do in order not to offend anyone. We believe that we fulfill God's purposes for us when we live at peace each man with his neighbor.

Yet truth is uncompromising. Two plus two equals four and I can never make it add up to five. Poliomyelitis is a contagious disease which can be controlled and I am not free to ignore its danger. In the same sense what God has said and done is true and makes its demands upon us. Our knowledge of the truth varies but the truth does not change.

Thus Jesus made it clear that there can be no peace between his disciples and the world. There is an inevitable clash of ideals. Does a man depend upon himself or upon God? Does a man assert himself or sacrifice himself? Does a man insist upon his rights — or act upon the basis of love? Does a man concentrate upon material values — or upon spiritual values?

The way of the world and the way of discipleship are so different that to choose the one is to reject the other. Even in Christian American, discipleship may set a man against his neighbor.

Natchez, Other Airway Stops May Be Revised

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner recommended today that DeRidder, La., Camden and Pine Bluff, Ark., and Natchez, Miss., be eliminated as stops on certain segments of Trans-Texas Airways system.

Acting under the board's "use-it-or-lose-it" policy, examiner William F. Cusick held these communities did not generate enough airline traffic to justify continuation of service.

Unless the board overrules the recommendations, DeRidder will cease to become a stop on Trans-Texas' New Orleans-Shreveport segment; Camden will be dropped as a stop on the Shreveport-Memphis, Tenn., segment; Pine Bluff will be dropped from the Houston-Memphis and the New Orleans-Little Rock segments; and Natchez will be dropped as a stop on the Houston - Jackson, Miss., segment.

Examiner Cusick also recommended that Trans-Texas be authorized to consolidate three of its route segments—Houston - Memphis, New Orleans-Little Rock, and Houston-Jackson, Miss.

Under consideration during a previous hearing were board suggestions that service to Beaumont and Port Arthur, Tex., and Alexandria and Lake Charles, La., be eliminated on certain Trans-Texas route segments.

Cusick did not include these proposals in his recommendations.

Soviet Premier Is Reported Ill

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is ill with the flu and his doctors are insisting he rest to prevent aggravation of his condition, usually reliable sources said Friday.

The sources, however, described the 67-year-old Premier's illness as "not serious." He was said to be recuperating at home.

There has been no official announcement in Moscow concerning Khrushchev's illness. Official secrecy in such cases is normal procedure here.

A Soviet foreign ministry press department spokesman told newsmen he had no information about the Premier and could not comment.

News that Khrushchev was ill appeared to explain Thursday night's announcement that the session of the newly elected Supreme Soviet (parliament) scheduled to open April 10 has been postponed until April 23.

Probers Told Of Anti-Red GI Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army troop training against Communist espionage and tactics has been greatly strengthened since the Korean War experience with collaborators in Red prison camps, two Army generals testified Friday.

The witnesses, Gen. Barksdale Hamlett, recently promoted to full general and to vice chief of staff; and Maj. Gen. Alva R. Fitch, the Army's intelligence chief, said special attention is paid to troops overseas who might be exposed to Communist spy activity.

The two described to a Senate subcommittee Communist tactics to use Americans and of the Army's efforts to train its troops to resist this. The testimony was a calm aftermath to two motion-charged days of hearing ex-Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

Fitch, telling of Communist tactics to obtain espionage help from American soldiers, said the Reds search for a weakness in the character in the individual and then exploit on this.

If Communist agents learn a military man is careless in social relations with native women in overseas posts, the general said, they trap him into a compromising position and then threaten to expose him to his wife or commander.

If the individual is in debt, Fitch said, the Communists will encourage him to plunge deeper and then attempt to use this for blackmail.

Fitch was asked if Army intelligence knew of any efforts at internal Communist subversion at or near military centers in this country.

At first he said he was not aware of any specific cases. But later Fitch said Communist agents had approached military personnel and civilians occasionally and—regretably—with some success.

Fitch said there was no evidence of Communist subversion being responsible for protests against call of Reservists or National Guardsmen.

Taxes Reduced In Union Parish

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Union Parish tax rates will be reduced for 1962 because of more than a million dollars in property tax valuation since 1960, according to Gurvis Barron, tax assessor.

He reported the total valuation will be more than $16 million for 1962, compared to $15,190,169 in 1960.

The courthouse bond issue will be reduced three - fourths of a mill while the parish - wide school bond issue will be dropped one mill.

Other millage rate reductions include road district seven, ward seven, from one mill to one-half mill; road district nine of wards one, two, five, eight and nine, from three mills to two mills; recreation district number two tax for ward two has been discontinued.

MAY BE CUBA PRISONERS

Seven Treasure Hunters Missing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The fate of seven missing American treasure hunters remained a mystery Friday as the U.S. Coast Guard continued a search for them.

The Cuban government claimed it had arrested seven North American citizens. The State Department asked the Swiss Embassy to check whether the missing men are in Cuba and if so to try to arrange for their return.

Havana radio, monitored in Key West, did not identify the seven persons arrested off the north coast of Oriente Province Thursday morning, nor did it identify their boat. Neither did dispatches in Cuban papers.

The Coast Guard said it was continuing its search because there was no way to determine if the seven arrested were the seven reported missing.

The search was in the passage between Oriente Province, in eastern Cuba, and the Dominican Republic. The seven missing men were aboard the 45-foot boat Pisces, overdue at Kingston, Jamaica, after departing Pompano Beach, Fla., Saturday night.

They were identified as Gordon S. Patton, 62, Ocean City, Md., charter boat and maritime museum operator; Fred Dickson Jr., 32, formerly of Ocean City, N.J., assistant cruise director; Mike Freeman, 37, Washington, D.C., underwater photographer; John Sterry, 28, Brewster, N.Y.; John Johnson and Joe Campbell, Washington, D.C., and Bernie Nistad, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ellen Patton said at Pompano Beach that her husband and the six other men carried a two-man submarine and skin diving and photographic equipment for exploring sunken ships in the Caribbean.

Dickson's father, wintering in Pompano Beach, said the men also had a pistol and a rifle aboard.

In Washington, Lee Fuller, Freeman's partner in an underwater equipment store, said the trip was for treasure hunting only and equipment aboard the Pisces was useful only for that purpose.

He said the men carried a small supply of dynamite for use if it proved feasible for blasting away coral which may have formed on the wrecks.

Fuller had no information on what happened to the Pisces but speculated that a storm might have driven it close to Cuba. He said the Pisces is painted red and white which is hardly an inconspicuous color scheme.

NSF Grant Set At Northeast For Institute

The National Science Foudation has awarded a grant of $12,070 ob Northeast Louisiana State College for an In-Service Institute in Science and Mathematics for secondary and elementary school teachers for the academic year 1962-63.

The grant is a part of the NSF program in which approximately 13,000 secondary school teachers of science and mathematics in grades 7-12 will receive training in In-Service Institutes to be held through 256 grants to colleges and universities.

Under the program at Northeast participants will receive an allowance for travel and books, and pay no tuition or fees.

Participants will be selected by the institute director and not by the National Science Foundation. Inquiries and requests for applications should be addressed to Dr. Daniel E. Dupree, institute director and chairman of the Northeast department of mathematics.

Fitch, telling of Communist tactics to obtain espionage help from American soldiers, said the Reds search for a weakness in the character in the individual and then exploit on this.

If Communist agents learn a military man is careless in social relations with native women in overseas posts, the general said, they trap him into a compromising position and then threaten to expose him to his wife or commander.

If the individual is in debt, Fitch said, the Communists will encourage him to plunge deeper and then attempt to use this for blackmail.

Fitch was asked if Army intelligence knew of any efforts at internal Communist subversion at or near military centers in this country.

At first he said he was not aware of any specific cases. But later Fitch said Communist agents had approached military personnel and civilians occasionally and—regretably—with some success.

Fitch said there was no evidence of Communist subversion being responsible for protests against call of Reservists or National Guardsmen.

Taxes Reduced In Union Parish

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Union Parish tax rates will be reduced for 1962 because of more than a million dollars in property tax valuation since 1960, according to Gurvis Barron, tax assessor.

He reported the total valuation will be more than $16 million for 1962, compared to $15,190,169 in 1960.

The courthouse bond issue will be reduced three - fourths of a mill while the parish - wide school bond issue will be dropped one mill.

Other millage rate reductions include road district seven, ward seven, from one mill to one-half mill; road district nine of wards one, two, five, eight and nine, from three mills to two mills; recreation district number two tax for ward two has been discontinued.

MAY BE CUBA PRISONERS

Seven Treasure Hunters Missing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The fate of seven missing American treasure hunters remained a mystery Friday as the U.S. Coast Guard continued a search for them.

The Cuban government claimed it had arrested seven North American citizens. The State Department asked the Swiss Embassy to check whether the missing men are in Cuba and if so to try to arrange for their return.

Havana radio, monitored in Key West, did not identify the seven persons arrested off the north coast of Oriente Province Thursday morning, nor did it identify their boat. Neither did dispatches in Cuban papers.

The Coast Guard said it was continuing its search because there was no way to determine if the seven arrested were the seven reported missing.

The search was in the passage between Oriente Province, in eastern Cuba, and the Dominican Republic. The seven missing men were aboard the 45-foot boat Pisces, overdue at Kingston, Jamaica, after departing Pompano Beach, Fla., Saturday night.

They were identified as Gordon S. Patton, 62, Ocean City, Md., charter boat and maritime museum operator; Fred Dickson Jr., 32, formerly of Ocean City, N.J., assistant cruise director; Mike Freeman, 37, Washington, D.C., underwater photographer; John Sterry, 28, Brewster, N.Y.; John Johnson and Joe Campbell, Washington, D.C., and Bernie Nistad, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ellen Patton said at Pompano Beach that her husband and the six other men carried a two-man submarine and skin diving and photographic equipment for exploring sunken ships in the Caribbean.

Dickson's father, wintering in Pompano Beach, said the men also had a pistol and a rifle aboard.

In Washington, Lee Fuller, Freeman's partner in an underwater equipment store, said the trip was for treasure hunting only and equipment aboard the Pisces was useful only for that purpose.

He said the men carried a small supply of dynamite for use if it proved feasible for blasting away coral which may have formed on the wrecks.

Fuller had no information on what happened to the Pisces but speculated that a storm might have driven it close to Cuba. He said the Pisces is painted red and white which is hardly an inconspicuous color scheme.

NSF Grant Set At Northeast For Institute

The National Science Foudation has awarded a grant of $12,070 ob Northeast Louisiana State College for an In-Service Institute in Science and Mathematics for secondary and elementary school teachers for the academic year 1962-63.

The grant is a part of the NSF program in which approximately 13,000 secondary school teachers of science and mathematics in grades 7-12 will receive training in In-Service Institutes to be held through 256 grants to colleges and universities.

Under the program at Northeast participants will receive an allowance for travel and books, and pay no tuition or fees.

Participants will be selected by the institute director and not by the National Science Foundation. Inquiries and requests for applications should be addressed to Dr. Daniel E. Dupree, institute director and chairman of the Northeast department of mathematics.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

CAR SALES BOOM

DETROIT (UPI) — New car sales of 616,357 units in March set a 77-month high and pointed to a strong spring selling season, Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday.

The March figure was the best for any month since 657,700 units were retailed in September of 1955, a boom year.

UPHOLDS STOCK MOVE

NEW YORK — The U. S. Court of Appeals upheld the right of the New York Stock Exchange to force its members to discontinue private wire connections with non-member firms. The ruling reversed a lower court decision that enjoined the exchange from interfering with private wire connections between a member firm and Municipal Securities Co. of Dallas, Texas.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS

WASHINGTON — The number of Americans holding jobs climbed last month to a March record of 66,316,000 while the unemployed ranks declined to 4,382,000, the Labor Department reported. Employment increased by 527,000 and the joblessness dropped by 161,000 both about normal for this time of year.

SHIPMENTS DECLINE

NEW YORK — Mill shipments of finished steel products during February declined to 6,626,181 tons from the 6,905,947 tons shipped in January, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported.

However the February shipment ran ahead of those in the previous month when adjusted for the difference in working days.

Mixed Note Prevails On Stock Mart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Around of mid-afternoon profit-taking brought many issues down from their best levels Friday leaving the list scrambled in reduced trading.

The Dow - Jones industrials closed around their low for the day, off 1.25. Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks slipped 0.07 and trading totaled 2,730,000 shares, off 400,000 from Thursday.

A total of 1,270 issues crossed the tape, the narrowest in over a week. Of these, 533 advanced, 28 to new 1962 highs, and 519 declined, 55 to new lows.

Motors firmed in response to news that output for this week reached a record for the year and that March sales hit a 77-month high. Ford added ⅜, Parmelee Transportation 1¾ and General Motors ⅝.

Steels were mixed with Youngstown down 2¼ and Jones & Laughlin up 1⅛. In the chemicals Du Pont shaded 1½ but United Carbon tacked on 1¾.

Chadbourn Gotham topped the most active list down ¼ on 34,300 shares. The company announced earlier in the week that it has obtained a U.S. patent for a run-proof and seamless stocking.

This was followed bv Texas Gulf Producing off 1½, General Motors up ⅝, Brunswick Corp up ⅜ and Korvette up ¼. Montgomery Ward was also included in the most active up ⅜ in response to news of record March department store sales. Interstate Department Store and Hart, Schaffner & Marx, also in this group, added 1⅛ and 2⅛ respectively.

The D-J rails climbed 0.22 reflecting a gain of 2⅜ in Kansas City Southern—apparently in response to President Kennedy's proposal to help the ailing industry.

Utilities rose mirroring a gain of 1¾ in Peoples Gas. The company has announced higher earnings and forecasts a prosperous 1963.

Among the oils Amerada added ½ on higher earnings and news that the company will not be liquidated. In the electronics Beckman lost 3¾, Minneapolis-Honeywell 3¼, Litton 1¾, and Texas Instruments 1⅛.

Prices on the American Exchange were higher on a turnover of 1,260,000 shares compared with 1,250,000 in the prior session. Featured issues were Simca up 2½ and Paddington up ⅞.

Grammar School Grounds Use By City Is Out

Monroe officials said Friday they have received a letter from District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter pointing out that the Central Grammar School gounds may be used only for the city's public schools.

The grounds are under consideration as a public park.

The old condemned grammar school, now used only by the City School Board, will be vacated soon, when the Board moves into a new building on Roselawn.

J. H. (Slim) Scogin, board president, said Friday that he thinks the City Council and the school board should confer to determine ownership of the five-acre site.

On July 5, 1894, it was deeded to the City Council by the Ouachita Female Academy for "exclusive use and benefit of the public schools of Monroe". The deed said that if the property were sold, the sale price must be spent on "purchase of other property and erection of buildings."

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade in the butcher hog market was slow Friday at prices steady to 25 cents a hundredweight lower.

Mixed No. 1 and 2 trades weighing 190-225 lbs cleared at $16.65-17 and mixed 1-3 grades up to 230 lbs at 16-16.50. Heavier kinds sold down to $15, sows $12.50-14.50.

No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. A few utility bulls reached $20.75.

RAIN IS FORECAST Saturday in eastern third of the nation, the Gulf coast and southern Plains. Rain should continue in Pacific northwest. Scattered snow flurries or rain showers are due in extreme northern Great Plains and Rockies. It will be cooler on New England coast, in central Mississippi valley, western Gulf and northern Rockies and warmer in northern Mississippi valley, central Plains and southern Rockies. Child Dies When Hit By Automobile

Nine - year - old Wendell Norris James died shortly before 8 a.m. Friday when he was struck by a car at the corner of Wood and Sixth Streets where he was waiting for a school bus. Driver of the automobile, 53-year-old Negro Frances M. Johnson, of 2705 Price St. in Monroe and a teacher at a Sterlington school, is in parish jail charged with negligent homicide.

Police said the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hildabridle, Majestic Hotel, Monroe, was hit when the Johnson car jumped a curb after being involved in a collision with a pick-up truck driven by Negro William Roundtree, 41, of 3912½ Elm St.

Reports indicated he was standing about 10 feet from the street when struck.

Ouachita Parish Coroner Dr. John P. Burton attributed death to a skull fracture. The James boy was pronounced dead on arrival at the St. Francis Hospital where he was rushed by Mulhearn ambulance.

A student at the Barkdull Faulk Elementary School, the youth was hurled several feet by the force of impact. Police said the Johnson woman, travelling west on Wood Street, apparently ran a stop sign at its intersection with Sixth, collided with the truck and swerved out of control over the curb.

Funeral services for the child have been scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. G. W. Pomeroy, pastor, officiating.

Interment will follow in the Butler Cemetery at Star City, Ark., under direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Winnsboro Sets Tourist Program

WINNSBORO (Special)—Winnsboro Chamber of Commerce President C. C. Nelson appointed a committee to list all tourist attractions in the City's area for co-operation with the state tourist program.

The action was taken at a meeting of the group at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Motel Owen. The committee consists of Cale Martin, Si Willing and Mrs. Louise Lipp.

Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn reported to the group that the city had entered the "Cleanest City Contest" which is sponsored by garden clubs of the state.

DRIVING TIME CUT

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Driving time from Mexico City to Merida on the Yucatan Peninsula has been cut from 40 to 31 hours with the completion of highways.

Term Suspended In West Monroe Court Activity

A six-months jail sentence was handed down Friday by Judge John McCormick in West Monroe city court but later suspended. Placed on a year's supervised probation instead for disturbing the peace by fighting was 17-year-old Jack E. Frost of 405 Moore Ave. in Monroe.

Found not guilty on the same docket of aggravated battery and disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language was Negro Hattie Ollie Culpepper of 901 Coleman Ave.

McCormick levied fines of $25 and costs or 10 days for reckless driving and causing accidents against Dwight M. Allen, 54, Jonesboro Road, West Monroe; Richard D. Young, 35, Route 1, Box E-21, West Monroe; and Negro Margaret Johnson, 20, of 417 S. 2nd St. in Monroe. The Johnson woman also drew $50 or 30 days for driving without a valid state drivers license.

Two persons were fined $30 or 30 days on public drunkenness charges, while two bonds of $20.50 were forfeited for speeding. Also forfeited were $5.50 bonds in seven cases of running red lights, and three $3 bonds for running stop signs.

Franklin Parish Schools Name New Instructors

WINNSBORO (Special) — Oscar Clyde Pace, coach at Ogden high school for the past seven years, was named principal of the ward three elementary school by the Franklin Parish School Board at their regular meeting Friday in Winnsboro.

Pace was named to the position to replace James H. Word, who had previously been named principal of the Gilbert high school.

M. D. Peel, superintendent of Franklin Parish schools, said the change, along with others which followed the first, will take effect at the beginning of the 1962-63 school session.

Fred Dunham was employed as teacher and boys basketball coach at Baskin high school to replace Horne. He was a physical education instructor at Bastrop junior high school several years ago.

Clyde Thompson of Vidalia was employed as head coach and athletic director at the Crowville high school to replace Arnold Mathews who resigned. Thompson is serving as assistant coach at Vidalia high school this year.

In other action, the school board voted to accept the ninth and tenth grade students from Andrews junior high school and place them in the Crowville high school. Andrews school is across Bayou Macon from Crowville and will be used entirely as an elementary school after the change.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

CAR SALES BOOM

DETROIT (UPI) — New car sales of 616,357 units in March set a 77-month high and pointed to a strong spring selling season, Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday.

The March figure was the best for any month since 657,700 units were retailed in September of 1955, a boom year.

UPHOLDS STOCK MOVE

NEW YORK — The U. S. Court of Appeals upheld the right of the New York Stock Exchange to force its members to discontinue private wire connections with non-member firms. The ruling reversed a lower court decision that enjoined the exchange from interfering with private wire connections between a member firm and Municipal Securities Co. of Dallas, Texas.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS

WASHINGTON — The number of Americans holding jobs climbed last month to a March record of 66,316,000 while the unemployed ranks declined to 4,382,000, the Labor Department reported. Employment increased by 527,000 and the joblessness dropped by 161,000 both about normal for this time of year.

SHIPMENTS DECLINE

NEW YORK — Mill shipments of finished steel products during February declined to 6,626,181 tons from the 6,905,947 tons shipped in January, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported.

However the February shipment ran ahead of those in the previous month when adjusted for the difference in working days.

Mixed Note Prevails On Stock Mart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Around of mid-afternoon profit-taking brought many issues down from their best levels Friday leaving the list scrambled in reduced trading.

The Dow - Jones industrials closed around their low for the day, off 1.25. Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks slipped 0.07 and trading totaled 2,730,000 shares, off 400,000 from Thursday.

A total of 1,270 issues crossed the tape, the narrowest in over a week. Of these, 533 advanced, 28 to new 1962 highs, and 519 declined, 55 to new lows.

Motors firmed in response to news that output for this week reached a record for the year and that March sales hit a 77-month high. Ford added ⅜, Parmelee Transportation 1¾ and General Motors ⅝.

Steels were mixed with Youngstown down 2¼ and Jones & Laughlin up 1⅛. In the chemicals Du Pont shaded 1½ but United Carbon tacked on 1¾.

Chadbourn Gotham topped the most active list down ¼ on 34,300 shares. The company announced earlier in the week that it has obtained a U.S. patent for a runproof and seamless stocking.

This was followed by Texas Gulf Producing off 1½, General Motors up ⅝, Brunswick Corp up ⅜ and Korvette up ¼. Montgomery Ward was also included in the most active up ⅜ in response to news of record March department store sales. Interstate Department Store and Hart, Schaffner & Marx, also in this group, added 1⅛ and 2⅛ respectively.

The D-J rails climbed 0.22 reflecting a gain of 2⅝ in Kansas City Southern—apparently in response to President Kennedy's proposal to help the ailing industry.

Utilities rose mirroring a gain of 1¾ in Peoples Gas. The company has announced higher earnings and forecasts a prosperous 1963.

Among the oils Amerada added ½ on higher earnings and news that the company will not be liquidated. In the electronics Beckman lost 3¾, Minneapolis-Honeywell 3¼, Litton 1¾, and Texas Instruments 1⅛.

Prices on the American Exchange were higher on a turnover of 1,260,000 shares compared with 1,250,000 in the prior session. Featured issues were Simca up 2½ and Paddington up ⅞.

Grammar School Grounds Use By City Is Out

Monroe officials said Friday they have received a letter from District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter pointing out that the Central Grammar School gounds may be used only for the city's public schools.

The grounds are under consideration as a public park.

The old condemned grammar school, now used only by the City School Board, will be vacated soon, when the Board moves into a new building on Roselawn.

J. H. (Slim) Scogin, board president, said Friday that he thinks the City Council and the school board should confer to determine ownership of the five-acre site.

On July 5, 1894, it was deeded to the City Council by the Ouachita Female Academy for "exclusive use and benefit of the public schools of Monroe". The deed said that if the property were sold, the sale price must be spent on "purchase of other property and erection of buildings."

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade in the butcher hog market was slow Friday at prices steady to 25 cents a hundredweight lower.

Mixed No. 1 and 2 trades weighing 190-225 lbs cleared at $16.65-17 and mixed 1-3 grades up to 230 lbs at 16-16.50. Heavier kinds sold down to $15, sows $12.50-14.50.

No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. A few utility bulls reached $20.75.

RAIN IS FORECAST Saturday in eastern third of the nation, the Gulf coast and southern Plains. Rain should continue in Pacific northwest. Scattered snow flurries or rain showers are due in extreme northern Great Plains and Rockies. It will be cooler on New England coast, in central Mississippi valley, western Gulf and northern Rockies and warmer in northern Mississippi valley, central Plains and southern Rockies. Child Dies When Hit By Automobile

Nine - year - old Wendell Norris James died shortly before 8 a.m. Friday when he was struck by a car at the corner of Wood and Sixth Streets where he was waiting for a school bus. Driver of the automobile, 53-year-old Negro Frances M. Johnson, of 2705 Price St. in Monroe and a teacher at a Sterlington school, is in parish jail charged with negligent homicide.

Police said the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hildabridle, Majestic Hotel, Monroe, was hit when the Johnson car jumped a curb after being involved in a collision with a pick-up truck driven by Negro William Roundtree, 41, of 3912½ Elm St.

Reports indicated he was standing about 10 feet from the street when struck.

Ouachita Parish Coroner Dr. John P. Burton attributed death to a skull fracture. The James boy was pronounced dead on arrival at the St. Francis Hospital where he was rushed by Mulhearn ambulance.

A student at the Barkdull Faulk Elementary School, the youth was hurled several feet by the force of impact. Police said the Johnson woman, travelling west on Wood Street, apparently ran a stop sign at its intersection with Sixth, collided with the truck and swerved out of control over the curb.

Funeral services for the child have been scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. G. W. Pomeroy, pastor, officiating.

Interment will follow in the Butler Cemetery at Star City, Ark., under direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Winnsboro Sets Tourist Program

WINNSBORO (Special)—Winnsboro Chamber of Commerce President C. C. Nelson appointed a committee to list all tourist attractions in the City's area for co-operation with the state tourist program.

The action was taken at a meeting of the group at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Motel Owen. The committee consists of Cale Martin, Si Willing and Mrs. Louise Lipp.

Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn reported to the group that the city had entered the "Cleanest City Contest" which is sponsored by garden clubs of the state.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Driving time from Mexico City to Merida on the Yucatan Peninsula has been cut from 40 to 21 hours with the completion of highways.

Term Suspended In West Monroe Court Activity

A six-months jail sentence was handed down Friday by Judge John McCormick in West Monroe city court but later suspended. Placed on a year's supervised probation instead for disturbing the peace by fighting was 17-year-old Jack E. Frost of 405 Moore Ave. in Monroe.

Found not guilty on the same docket of aggravated battery and disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language was Negro Hattie Ollie Culpepper of 901 Coleman Ave.

McCormick levied fines of $25 and costs or 10 days for reckless driving and causing accidents against Dwight M. Allen, 54, Jonesboro Road, West Monroe; Richard D. Young, 35, Route 1, Box E-21, West Monroe; and Negro Margaret Johnson, 20, of 417 S. 2nd St. in Monroe. The Johnson woman also drew $50 or 30 days for driving without a valid state drivers license.

Two persons were fined $30 or 30 days on public drunkenness charges, while two bonds of $20.50 were forfeited for speeding. Also forfeited were $5.50 bonds in seven cases of running red lights, and three $3 bonds for running stop signs.

Franklin Parish Schools Name New Instructors

WINNSBORO (Special) — Oscar Clyde Pace, coach at Ogden high school for the past seven years, was named principal of the ward three elementary school by the Franklin Parish School Board at their regular meeting Friday in Winnsboro.

Pace was named to the position to replace James H. Word, who had previously been named principal of the Gilbert high school.

M. D. Peel, superintendent of Franklin Parish schools, said the change, along with others which followed the first, will take effect at the beginning of the 1962-63 school session.

Fred Dunham was employed as teacher and boys basketball coach at Baskin high school to replace Horne. He was a physical education instructor at Bastrop junior high school several years ago.

Clyde Thompson of Vidalia was employed as head coach and athletic director at the Crowville high school to replace Arnold Mathews who resigned. Thompson is serving as assistant coach at Vidalia high school this year.

In other action, the school board voted to accept the ninth and tenth grade students from Andrews junior high school and place them in the Crowville high school. Andrews school is across Bayou Macon from Crowville and will be used entirely as an elementary school after the change.

Harvey Jasper's Final Services Slated Sunday

Funeral services for Harvey A. Jasper, 80, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the chapel of Hixson Brothers' Funeral Home with the Rev. John Stewart, pastor of the First Christian Church in Monroe and the Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor of Ridge Avenue Baptist Church in West Monroe, officiating.

Burial will follow in the Riverview Cemetery under the direction of Hixson Brothers' Funeral Home.

Mr. Jasper, a retired barber, 609 Grammont St., Monroe, died early Friday in a local hospital after an illness of several years.

He had been a barber in Monroe for 50 years before his retirement. He was a member of the First Christian Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sally Jasper, Monroe; two daughters, Mrs. W. C. Tucker, Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Mable Simpson, West Monroe; one sister; Mrs. John Husbands, Vicksburg, Miss.; and two grandchildren.

TO BRING CHARGES

WARSAW (UPI) — The prosecutors office announced Friday it is bringing charges of economic crimes against Zygmunt Cepura who made a fortune in postwar Communist Poland by selling goods such as toys which were not available in the socialized economy.

Your dreams are answered at 700 Henderson Road; 3 bedrooms, two full ceramic tile baths, carpeting in two bedrooms, private entrance to each bedroom, wall-to-wall closets, large carpeted living room, indirect lighting, with the cathedral ceilings in the living room, family room, and kitchen. One of the best arrangements that you will find in the kitchen and family room, glass sliding doors leading to patio with high brick wall for privacy. Breakfast bar, built-in electric range and oven, dishwasher, and disposal. Mom will enjoy cooking in this beautiful kitchen or patio. This home is in the Twenties and is a must to see.

WHAT DO YOU DESIRE - In a Home? Family Room, Four Bedrooms, Two in the basement level, two in the top level, Two full baths, one in each level, separate living room, beautiful kitchen with built - in and glass sliding doors leading to a sun deck. If your answer is "yes" to all of these, you'll want to see 103 Canyon Road. This home has all of the above plus a beautiful tree studded lot and double carport. This home is in the Twenties and we certainly need your trade-in. We have sold out.

HOW MANY TIMES HAVE YOU SAID
1. I'll buy next year . . . .
2. We can't afford it . . . .
3. This isn't the time . . . .
4. I'll see tomorrow . . . . .

RIGHT NOW
is the best time to see about your new home!
OR ELSE
this time next year you'll still be Procrastinating and throwing your money away.

MILLIONAIRE VICTIM

Officials Probe Strange Slaying

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—Investigators seemed without clues Friday in the slaying of a millionaire financial wizard, although the district attorney's office said his free-wheeling business deals "may have hurt some people."

The victim, Maitland Brenhouse, 50, also had been described as something of a man with the ladies, thus opening another avenue of possible revenge on the part of an unknown killer or killers.

Brenhouse's body was found Thursday in the den of his Westchester County home here. He had been shot Wednesday night by someone who held a gun only a short distance from his temple.

Brenhouse, with a variety of business interests that included mortgage foreclosures, was quick to go into court. He had been involved in dozens of court actions growing out of his financial operations.

"It definitely is murder," said Westchester Dist. Att. Leonard Rubenfeld. "There could be many motives. He was involved in lots of litigation and may have hurt some people."

However, Brenhouse's lawyer, William Greer, saw it differently. He declared: "He was more than a millionaire and was engaged in litigations, but nothing that would lead to murder."

Business associates were questioned by investigators as was Brenhouse's estranged wife, Nora, 50, who lived next door to him with their four children.

In a separation suit in 1951, Mrs. Brenhouse complained that her husband was friendly with four other women, whom she identified only by initials.

This separation suit was followed by a reconciliation, but in 1954 Mrs. Brenhouse won another separation. However, she lived in a split-level home Brenhouse built for her next to his own house and he frequently dined there with her and the children.

Brenhouse last was seen Wednesday evening when he dined with his daughters, Valerie, 20, and Diane, 9, at his wife's home. Mrs. Brenhouse was absent at the time.

When Brenhouse's secretary, Mary Wehrman, wa s unable to reach him by telephone Thursday, she enlisted Mrs. Brenhouse's aid and the two women entered his home where they found his body.

Brenhouse was slumped in a leather easy chair in the second-floor den of his white stucco home. He had been shot as he watched television. He was dressed in sweater, slacks and tennis shoes.

The victim was described as a nondrinker who gambled only in a business sense.

Priest Talks Father From Tower Jump

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — For 40 minutes Friday a screaming father perched near the top of a 150-foot tower with a baby boy in his arms and threatened to jump.

As police and firemen stood by, a Roman Catholic priest finally induced the man to hand over the infant and descend in a maintenance elevator.

Officers identifed the man as Joe Avila Garcia, 36, of Austin and said he had been drinking. They held him without immediate charge.

Police said Garcia fled with the 2-month-old baby after a fight with his wife, 33.

While she was en route to a hospital for treatment of head injuries, he climbed the tower, topped by a cluster of bright lights to illuminate a broad downtown area.

Screaming in Spanish, Garcia kept complaining his wife was never home. He threatened to leap if anyone followed him.

"It's my baby—nobody's going to take it away from me," he shouted.

At length Garcia allowed Father Antonio Gonzales to ascend in the elevator. Garcia surrendered the baby and was given a crucifix. After a moment he agreed to go down also.

Mrs. Garcia's eyes were blacked but her injuries were not serious.

Clarke Warns Reds Not Giving Up In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — U.S. Army European commander Gen. Bruce C. Clarke Friday cautioned against the belief that the Russians have adopted a new soft line on Berlin.

Clarke told a news conference that he has drawn no conclusions from the lull in Soviet air harassments or the Russian agreement to resume operation of Soviet and U.S. military missions.

"Any conclusions you draw today may be wrong tomorrow," he said.

Earlier, Clarke said in a speech that the Army he commands is the most powerful peacetime field force in American history and is prepared to defend Western Europe from the "massive" Communist threat.

Glenn Gives Opinions On Orbit Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. said Friday his three-orbit flight around the earth demonstrated that:

Man can control spacecraft during orbit.

Glenn and key officials in Project Mercury presented papers on his Feb. 20 space flight at a daylong symposium. Among the 1,400 scientists, medical officers and government officials invited were the scientific attaches of 18 foreign countries, including the Soviet Union and several other Communist nations.

In his first hint of any faultfinding, Glenn said that many things would be done differently if this flight could be flown over again, but we learn from our mistakes.

Glenn added, however, that he never flew a test flight on an airplane that he didn't return wishing he had done some things differently.

One of the things that should be done differently in space flights, he said, is to keep the astronaut advised of any important worrisome developments on the ground.

The signals, of which Glenn was not immediately informed, later proved to be false.

STEPHEN CRANES

Family In News On Several Fronts

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Stephen Crane family made news on several fronts Friday.

Restaurateur Crane's fourth wife — his second was actress Lana Turned—announced Thursday night she'll divorce him.

Furthermore, said the former Helen DeMaree, 26, she'll marry Ronnie Burns, also 26, actor son of comedians George Burns and Gracie Allen.

They've even set the date—next July 9, in Miami, Fla.

Then, within an hour of this earful to a reporter, Crane's and Lana's daughter Cheryl, 18, returned from psychiatric treatment at the Institute of Living, Hartford, Conn.

Miss Turner, who accompanied her home aboard a plane, said: "Everything is wonderful and I am so happy. It's just good to have her home."

The tall teen-ager, accompanied by her mother, went to the institute voluntarily last June 27.

At 14, Cheryl fatally stabbed her mother's boy friend, Johnny Stompanato, on April 4, 1958. Cheryl said Stompanato was threatening Miss Turner, and a coroner's jury called it justifiable homicide.

She was made a ward of the court but last week was released from that supervision.

"All I want to do now is just to relax for a while," she told a newsman Thursday night.

Mrs. Crane No. 4 said, meanwhile, she would leave Friday night for Georgia and Alabama to seek a quick divorce.

Crane, 45, said: "I have had to travel a lot to the various restaurants with which I am connected. Helen and I have been too much apart. She simply has not been happy."

The Cranes married April 28, 1961. The two announced a separation some time ago, then reconciled.

Miss Turner, 42, has been married since Nov. 27, 1960, to rancher-sportsman Fred May, 44, her fifth husband.

De Gaulle Asks For Confidence Vote Of French

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle appealed to the entire nation Friday night to give him a massive vote of confidence, by voting "yes" in Sunday's referendum on speeding war-ravaged Algeria to full independence.

The questions to be voted on are double-barrelled:

—Do you approve of De Gaulle's policies which brought the March 1 Evian cease-fire agreement ending the 7½-year-old war?

—Do you give him full powers to bring Algeria to final independence?

De Gaulle already had been assured of a massive "yes" vote from a nation weary of a war that has cost the lives of 20,000 French soldiers and taxed its treasury by several billions of dollars. Friday he asked for an even bigger yes vote.

Doctors Report On Frankfurter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Doctors Friday diagnosed the attack suffered by Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter as a temporary interference with the blood flow to his brain, which could mean anything from a fainting spell to very mild stroke.

Frankfurter's physician, Dr. George A. Kelser, said the condition "cleared spontaneously and left no residual after effect." The doctor ordered the 79-year-old Frankfurter to remain in George Washington University hospital for "a short period of rest."

The Vienna-born jurist, oldest man on the high court, was rushed to the hospital in a fire department ambulance Thursday after collapsing in his chambers. Kelser immediately began a series of medical tests to determine the nature of Frankfurter's ailment.

V-8 BUICK SPECIAL RACKS UP 23.68 M.P.G.

BUICK SPECIAL ALUMINUM V-8 BEATS ALL COMPACT AND FULL-SIZE V-8'S

Can a V-8 give straight 6's a run for the money? Yes, indeed—if it's the Aluminum V-8 in a Buick Special. In this year's Mobil Economy Run, a finely tuned Buick Special finished just an eyelash behind the two 6's among luxury compacts. The winning mileage in Class D was 24.85 MPG. The Special V-8 racked up a whopping 23.68 with regular gas. Close? You bet.

This figure means that now you can buy a V-8 for economy too, and get fast-stepping zip as a bonus with Buick. In the Mobil run all cars are driven by trained drivers so you can't normally expect as good mileage. But—whether you're a pro or not, the V-8 Special's combination of high performance and economy is sure to prove a mighty pleasant surprise.

MILLIONAIRE VICTIM

Officials Probe Strange Slaying

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—Investigators seemed without clues Friday in the slaying of a millionaire financial wizard, although the district attorney's office said his free-wheeling business deals "may have hurt some people."

The victim, Maitland Brenhouse, 50, also had been described as something of a man with the ladies, thus opening another avenue of possible revenge on the part of an unknown killer or killers.

Brenhouse's body was found Thursday in the den of his Westchester County home here. He had been shot Wednesday night by someone who held a gun only a short distance from his temple.

Brenhouse, with a variety of business interests that included mortgage foreclosures, was quick to go into court. He had been involved in dozens of court actions growing out of his financial operations.

"It definitely is murder," said Westchester Dist. Att. Leonard Rubenfeld. "There could be many motives. He was involved in lots of litigation and may have hurt some people."

However, Brenhouse's lawyer, William Greer, saw it differently. He declared: "He was more than a millionaire and was engaged in litigations, but nothing that would lead to murder."

Business associates were questioned by investigators as was Brenhouse's estranged wife, Nora, 50, who lived next door to him with their four children.

In a separation suit in 1951, Mrs. Brenhouse complained that her husband was friendly with four other women, whom she identified only by initials.

This separation suit was followed by a reconciliation, but in 1954 Mrs. Brenhouse won another separation. However, she lived in a split-level home Brenhouse built for her next to his own house and he frequently dined there with her and the children.

Brenhouse last was seen Wednesday evening when he dined with his daughters, Valerie, 20, and Diane, 9, at his wife's home. Mrs. Brenhouse was absent at the time.

When Brenhouse's secretary, Mary Wehrman, wa s unable to reach him by telephone Thursday, she enlisted Mrs. Brenhouse's aid and the two women entered his home where they found his body.

Brenhouse was slumped in a leather easy chair in the second-floor den of his white stucco home. He had been shot as he watched television. He was dressed in sweater, slacks and tennis shoes.

The victim was described as a nondrinker who gambled only in a business sense.

A former college economics professor, Brenhouse turned his talents to the business investment field to amass a fortune. He loaned money, administered real estate, conducted a construction business, owned a bowling alley alley and a cabinet factory and served as a director of more than a dozen corporations.

Priest Talks Father From Tower Jump

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — For 40 minutes Friday a screaming father perched near the top of a 150-foot tower with a baby boy in his arms and threatened to jump.

As police and firemen stood by, a Roman Catholic priest finally induced the man to hand over the infant and descend in a maintenance elevator.

Officers identiifed the man as Joe Avila Garcia, 36, of Austin and said he had been drinking. They held him without immediate charge.

While she was en route to a hospital for treatment of head injuries, he climbed the tower, topped by a cluster of bright lights to illuminate a broad downtown area.

Screaming in Spanish, Garcia kept complaining his wife was never home. He threatened to leap if anyone followed him.

"It's my baby—nobody's going to take it away from me," he shouted.

At length Garcia allowed Father Antonio Gonzales to ascend in the elevator. Garcia surrendered the baby and was given a crucifix. After a moment he agreed to go down also.

Mrs. Garcia's eyes were blacked but her injuries were not serious.

Clarke Warns Reds Not Giving Up In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — U.S. Army European commander Gen. Bruce C. Clarke Friday cautioned against the belief that the Russians have adopted a new soft line on Berlin.

Clarke told a news conference that he has drawn no conclusions from the lull in Soviet air harassments or the Russian agreement to resume operation of Soviet and U.S. military missions.

"Any conclusions you draw today may be wrong tomorrow," he said.

Earlier, Clarke said in a speech that the Army he commands is the most powerful peacetime field force in American history and is prepared to defend Western Europe from the "massive" Communist threat.

Glenn Gives Opinions On Orbit Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. said Friday his three-orbit flight around the earth demonstrated that:

Man can control spacecraft during orbit.

Man adapts rapidly to the environment of space, and

A human crew is vital to future space missions for intelligent observation—and action whenever the spacecraft encounters something unexpected.

Glenn and key officials in Project Mercury presented papers on his Feb. 20 space flight at a day-long symposium. Among the 1,400 scientists, medical officers and government officials invited were the scientific attaches of 18 foreign countries, including the Soviet Union and several other Communist nations.

In his first hint of any fault-finding, Glenn said that many things would be done differently if this flight could be flown over again, but we learn from our mistakes.

Glenn added, however, that he never flew a test flight on an airplane that he didn't return wishing he had done some things differently.

One of the things that should be done differently in space flights, he said, is to keep the astronaut advised of any important worrisome developments on the ground.

The signals, of which Glenn was not immediately informed, later proved to be false.

STEPHEN CRANES

Family In News On Several Fronts

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Stephen Crane family made news on several fronts Friday.

Restaurateur Crane's fourth wife — his second was actress Lana Turned—announced Thursday night she'll divorce him.

Furthermore, said the former Helen DeMaree, 26, she'll marry Ronnie Burns, also 26, actor son of comedians George Burns and Gracie Allen.

They've even set the date—next Ju., 9, in Miami, Fla.

Then, within an hour of this earful to a reporter, Crane's and Lana's daughter Cheryl, 18, returned from psychiatric treatment at the Institute of Living, Hartford, Conn.

Miss Turner, who accompanied her home aboard a plane, said: "Everything is wonderful and I am so happy. It's just good to have her home."

The tall teen-ager, accompanied by her mother, went to the institute voluntarily last June 27.

At 14, Cheryl fatally stabbed her mother's boy friend, Johnny Stompanato, on April 4, 1958. Cheryl said Stompanato was threatening Miss Turner, and a coroner's jury called it justifiable homicide.

She was made a ward of the court but last week was released from that supervision.

"All I want to do now is just to relax for a while," she told a newsman Thursday night.

Mrs. Crane No. 4 said, meanwhile, she would leave Friday night for Georgia and Alabama to seek a quick divorce.

Crane, 45, said: "I have had to travel a lot to the various restaurants with which I am connected. Helen and I have been too much apart. She simply has not been happy."

The Cranes married April 28, 1961. The two announced a separation some time ago, then reconciled.
